To force Park's return

Solon plans to cut aid to South Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New York congressman says he may try again in his effort to cut U.S. aid to South Korea to force Seoul into returning indicted rice dealer Tongsun Park to the United States.

Rep. Bruce Caputo, R-N.Y., whose amendment to reduce food aid to Seoul was defeated 205-181 Thursday, said he may reintroduce it if Park is not returned to face charges and questioning by congressional investigators.

The House vote came several hours

after a top South Korean official said his government could not force Park to return to the United States to face bribery charges arising from an alleged scheme to buy influence in Congress.

Caputo's amendment would have cut American food aid overseas by $108 million, stipulating that Congress wanted the deletion to be made in the aid earmarked for Seoul. South Korea receives about that amount in commodity assistance from the United States.

He argued for the cut in Food for Peace aid because "through this program Tongsun Park perpetrated his frauds against this Congress."

Park is accused in the 36-count indictment handed down last week with using commissions from sales of Korean rice in attempts to buy influence for the Korean government with several congressmen.

The House also defeated a second amendment that would have halted all American assistance, including military aid, to South Korea.

The vote on that amendment, by Rep. Andrew Jacobs, D-Ind., was 268-120.

In Seoul on Thursday, Foreign Minister Park Tong-jin said his government cannot legally force Park to return to the United States.

He said South Korea had asked Park, at the request of the United States, to return, and maintained that his government is cooperating with the United States.

Earlier, the South Korean news agency quoted the foreign minister as saying Seoul "finds no ... reason to turn over its national merely on the ground that he is suspected of having violated foreign law."

Caputo said the foreign minister's statements leave the United States "with few cards left to play."

Caputo told reporters he was surprised at the support his amendment received, although it did not pass.

"I feel the vote definitely was a signal to the South Korean government," he said, adding that his amendment was an attempt to induce "reasonable cooperation" from Seoul.

South Korea and the United States do not have an extradition treaty. Park had been living in London, but returned to Seoul last month after reports that Washington might try to have Great Britain return him.

Earlier, President Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, said Carter had written South Korean President Park Chunghee, "in attempts to secure testimony" from the rice dealer.

Meanwhile, in South Korea, Tongsun Park was called in for his second interrogation session with the Seoul Prosecution Office since he returned Aug. 18.

Three-pronged drive set

Conservatives open fight against pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Conservative foes of the new Panama Canal treaty are beginning their campaign to crystallize public opinion against Senate ratification of the pact.

Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., the new spokesman for Senate treaty opponents, planned to outline for reporters today the strategy a coalition of conservative groups will use with lawmakers and the public.

Sources said the drive will be three-pronged, emphasizing the human rights record of Panama's strongman, Brig. Gen. Omar Torrijos; the security of the canal and the financial arrangements between the United States and Panama.

Conservative spokesmen have cited a finding by Freedom House, a New York-based organization, that Panama ranks at the bottom among Latin American countries in its observance of human rights and civil liberties.

They said this human rights question is one on which President Carter may be especially vulnerable, having made that issue a cornerstone of his foreign policy.

On the canal's security, one of the coalition's prime spokesmen, former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, said Thursday that, if the United States were at war, her enemies would have equal access to the canal.

The sources said the conservative push to prevent Senate ratification next year will concentrate on Republicans and some southern Democrats who either favor the treaty or haven't made up their minds.

They said Laxalt, who headed Reagan's presidential primary campaign last year, was selected to lead this drive because he is felt to have more clout than Sens. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and Jesse Helms, R-N.C., who until now have been the leading Senate spokesmen for treaty opponents.

While Laxalt tries to marshal Senate opposition, the conservative coalition is putting together a public appeal involving a direct mail blitz and radio, television and newspaper advertising.

Plans call for three million to five million pieces of mail to go out over the next two months, with the first 800,000 next week.

Among the groups are the American Conservative Union, the Young Republicans, Young Americans for Freedom, the Conservative Caucus and the Committee for the Survival of a Free Congress.

In addition, the coalition intends to use prominent lawmakers and other public figures in a series of personal appearances.

Reagan told a National Press Club audience Thursday that he intends to do everything he can to help the anti-

Zero Mostel dead at 62

NEW YORK (AP) — Zero Mostel once observed:

"The theater is like a cathedral — I mean a shul (synagogue). At the end of it, there's a cup of tea."

Solemnity and mirth were never far apart for Mostel, who died of heart failure Thursday in Philadelphia at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital. He was 62. The mammoth actor always seemed to be exploiting his talent as if running a rummage sale at Tiffany's.

"I don't give a damn about images," he replied when asked how a man of formidable stage feats who also was a painter who could get $11,000 for a picture, could take time out to pose nude in a bathtub with an unclad nymph for Playboy magazine. "How can you be an artist if you worry about images?"

Mostel was more than a natural crowd-pleaser and jovial merry-maker. Behind the facade was a sentimental, deeply dedicated and canny savorer of life.

"I feel very sad about the whole thing because I was a very good friend. He was one of the big talents, he could make you laugh, he could make you cry," said comic Milton Berle who was reached in Los Angeles.

Mostel will be remembered for a galaxy of performances that transcended one critic's judgment that his art was "the poetry of coarseness."

Another said he was "a pantomime genius who can say more with a cocked eyebrow than many actors with four pages of script."

His gamut extended from James Joyce's Leopold Bloom in "Ulysses in Nighttown" to Pseudolus, the Roman zany of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," from the avant-garde of Ionesco's "Rhinoceros" to the sentimental tribulations of "Fiddler on the Roof."

The latter two portrayals won him Broadway Tony awards.

In what was to be his final triumph, Mostel returned in June 1976 in a production of "Fiddler" that grossed $5.2 million on a 10-city tour and wound up last May with 167 performances on Broadway.

When stricken, Mostel was about to start the tryout in Philadelphia of "The Merchant," a new play by Britisher Arnold Wesker based approximately on the subject matter of Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice." It was scheduled to arrive on Broadway on Nov. 15.

about Watergate and has said less about it than anyone else, so the questions came:

Q. Can you tell us why you went into the Watergate?

A. I can, but I won't.

Q. Can you tell us what you were looking for?

A. I could, but I will not.

Q. Why won't you?

A. I choose not to.

For choosing not to, Liddy got the stiffest prison sentence of any Watergate figure, 6-20 years, plus an extra 18 months for refusing to testify before a grand jury. Only President Carter's intervention and the parole board's approval got him out of prison now.

"I don't want to appear to be quixotic in these refusals to discuss Watergate

Coffee Break . . .

THE CHILDREN'S department of the Carnegie Public Library is planning a full schedule of story-hour programs aimed at four and five years olds.

According to Mrs. Kathleen Halverson, children's librarian, the storyhours are being offered as an important pre-school experience for young people. The weekly storyhours introduce children to the experience of being away from their parents; a step towards independence. Children are helped to develop the ability to become a part of a group. They learn to share the attention of an adult with other children. Storyhour is also an opportunity for the preschooler to be with children his or her own age.

According to Mrs. Halverson, the storyhour experience introduces the children to outstanding books as well as enabling them to become familiar with the records, cassettes, filmstrips and other materials offered by the library for home enjoyment.

Dates for registration will be announced in the near future. . .

and so I will say this," he said, almost apologetically. "There were a substantial number of different reasons why five years ago I opted for silence. One of them is that if I don't want you to know something, I simply will not speak about it to you. If I say something to you, I will tell you the truth."

Liddy's plan had been to speak to a few invited reporters. Instead, the rented hotel suite was jammed with reporters, cameras and microphones. One network, ABC, had him to itself first.

Liddy told ABC's Barbara Walters that he took the blame for Watergate by design because "I was the captain of the aircraft carrier when it stuck the reef."

But Liddy said he didn't take the blame in vain. "No, I think I delayed things substantially," he said.

Ducey to receive honorary college degree

Sharing tax expertise pays off for Washington C. H. resident

By MIKE FLYNN
Record-Herald Editor

When you have expertise in a certain field, it pays to share.

At least that's what Edwin Ducey of Washington C.H. recently learned.

Ducey, 1717 Green Valley Road, a local tax consultant, will receive an honorary doctorate of law degree from the Cincinnati Technical College at the college's commencement exercises at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 18 on the campus at 3520 Central Parkway.

"We wish to thank you for sharing with us your taxation law expertise in several Cincinnati Technical College seminars," said Frederick B. Schlamm, college president in a letter to Ducey.

"In addition, your taxation books are used in our business courses. You, Mr. Ducey, have contributed greatly to the educational development of our students," the letter said.

The Cincinnati college is not alone in receiving assistance from Ducey.

He has authored numerous fiscal surveys covering counties, townships, schools and municipal corporations, as well as handbooks and guides for county auditors and treasurers. He presently serves as the legislative agent for the Ohio Association of County Treasurers and has been a frequent witness before committees of the Ohio House of Representatives and Ohio Senate on tax matters.

Among the awards and citations received by Ducey over the years are the distinguished service award of the American Society for Public Administration, the society's outstanding public employee in 1969-1970, an outstanding service award from the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals, an award of merit from the Ohio Legal Center Institute, an award for outstanding and dedicated service from the Ohio Association of County Treasurers and awards from the Ohio County Auditors Association in 1967 and 1972.

Additionally, he has received commendations from the Ohio House of Representatives during the 109th and 110th sessions of the Ohio General Assembly, a proclamation from former Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan in 1972, and a resolution from the Ohio Senate during the 110th Ohio General Assembly session.

EDWIN DUCEY

Ducey began work in the local government field Feb. 15, 1935 as a Fayette County deputy auditor. Following service as Washington C.H.'s city manager and a budget analyst and tax research specialist for the Ohio Public Expenditures Council, he joined the Ohio Department of Taxation in May 1949 as a field examiner.

In early 1950 he was named assistant chief of the division of county affairs for the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals and was named chief of the division in 1961. He served in the capacity until his retirement Dec. 31, 1972.

In New York mayoralty primary

Voters defeat Beame, Abzug

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Abraham D. Beame and former Rep. Bella S. Abzug were sent to stinging defeats in a mayoralty primary of dark horses that ended in a near dead heat today.

It was the biggest voter turnout in New York City primary history.

The victors in the most crowded Democratic field in memory are two moderate-liberal politicians who were not given much chance a few months ago and who will face each other in a runoff primary Sept. 19.

They are Rep. Edward I. Koch, 52, from the Silk Stocking district of Manhattan's East Side, and Secretary of State Mario Cuomo, 45, who ran at the urging and with the active support of Democratic Gov. Hugh L. Carey.

Beame, who came in third, is the first mayor turned out of office since Vincent Impellitteri lost to Robert Wagner a quarter of a century ago.

Beame's term in City Hall was marked by New York's gravest financial crisis since the Depression. A Securities and Exchange Commission report released 10 days ago said he had concealed the city's financial shape while promoting sale of its bonds.

Koch and Cuomo emerged from a field of seven candidates to face each other in the runoff primary because no candidate received 40 per cent of the vote. In fact, no one received more than 20 per cent.

With all but 29 of 4,763 precincts counted, Koch was one percentage point ahead of Cuomo.

On Nov. 1, the winner will face liberal state Sen. Roy M. Goodman, who defeated radio talk-show host Barry Farber in the Republican primary. Farber continues as the Conservative party nominee, while Cuomo is on the November ballot as the Liberal party's candidate.

The 71-year-old Beame, who began his public career in 1946 and became the city's 104th mayor, tearfully pledged his support to the future mayor, "whomever that person may be."

"I gave this city every ounce of my strength and my fullest devotion during its most trying years of crisis," New York's first Jewish mayor declared. "I have not let this city down."

Defeated last year in a race for the U.S. Senate seat now occupied by Daniel Patrick Moynihan, Mrs. Abzug, 57, said in her concession speech, "We're not stopping here."

New Yorkers went to the polls on a day of hazy sunshine, breaking the record for a turnout in a Democratic mayoral primary of 783,133, set in 1973.

The Democratic turnout vote was 47 per cent of 1,922,551 eligible voters, compared with 32.2 per cent of 2,431,700 in 1973. These were the tallies:

Koch, 179,340, 20 per cent; Cuomo, 169,932, 19 per cent; Beame, 162,647, 18 per cent; Abzug, 150,439, 17 per cent; Manhattan Borough President Percy Sutton, 130,583, 14 per cent; Rep. Herman Badillo, a Puerto Rican, 99,744, 11 per cent; businessman Joel Harnett, 14,100, 1 per cent.

On the Republican side, Goodman got 44,559 votes, or 56 per cent, and Farber, 34,704, or 44 per cent.

Feeling pays off as man wins $1,000 a week prize

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gerald Reed says he doesn't normally win things but he had a positive feeling about winning Thursday.

That feeling paid off when the 32-year-old Chesterland man won $1,000 a week for life in the Ohio Lottery Grand Prize drawing.

Reed, an elevator installer, said he felt "elated, to say the least."

Reed says he will use the money to pay for the education of his children later on, and provide security for his family. He said he would like to keep on working.

He and his 29-year-old wife, the former Linda Tretera of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, are still getting up in the middle of the night with their second son, 6-week-old Eric. Their older son, Gregory, is 4.

Reed said he knows the big win will change his family's life but he hopes the change will be only for the better. "It could put a strain on my family, but I'm going to take caution against that," he said.

Talking with reporters after winning, Reed said he hadn't had a chance to speak with his wife yet "but I think she's still crying."

Mrs. Ronald B. Miracle Jr. was also crying Thursday night. Her 20-year-old husband won $85,000 in the Pot O' Gold drawing. The Zanesville couple have one son.

Miracle is a carpenter and said he plans to use the money to build a new house and buy "some transportation."

Other winners in the grand prize drawing were: Bob Colvin, Fremont, $50,000; and Charles Pritchard, Plymouth, $25,000. Seven persons won $2,500 each. They were: Willie Gotel, Cleveland; Charles Winkler, Massillon; Paul Black, Oakwood Village; Jean Thomas, Fairfield; Jim Kimura, Burkey; Richard Scott, Struthers; and Gary Page, Akron.

Other winners in the Pot O' Gold drawing were: Barbara C. Coning, Eaton, $7,900; Cheryl Purtee, Degraff, $10,500; Helen E. Matis, Parma Heights, $8,600; Dorothy Langley, Warren, $6,800; and Ronald A. Veirs who added $6,500 to his last week's winnings of $55,000.

Numbers drawn Thursday in the Weekly 50-cent game were: 713, 75, 1, and 141662. Numbers drawn in the Lucky Buck II game were: 468 and 247255.

Watergate silence broken

'I'd do it again,' Liddy says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The years in prison softened Gordon Liddy's voice, shrunk his physique, made him less cocky and overbearing. But they didn't change his view of Watergate: if his president asked, he'd do it again.

"When the prince approaches his lieutenant, the proper response of the lieutenant to the prince is 'fiat voluntas tua,'" Liddy said Thursday. The Latin phrase means: "Thy will be done."

Liddy, the Watergate planner, a lieutenant?

"Yes, I would not rank myself as a captain."

It was Liddy's first day home and he devoted hours to interviews. He wanted to talk about the two federal institutions where he spent most of his 52 months imprisonment, not Watergate.

But G. Gordon Liddy knows more

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Mary E. Quigley

SABINA — Mrs. Mary E. Quigley, 88, of Dayton, died at 5:45 a.m. Friday in her residence.

Born in Clinton County, Mrs. Quigley had spent most of her life in Martinsville. She was a member of the Third Street Baptist Church in Dayton. Her husband, Thomas, and a son, Leonard, preceded her in death.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Anna Louise Wagner, of Dayton, and Mrs. Wilamena Fawcett, of Sabina; five grandchildren including Thomas Quigley, of Washington C.H.; and 13 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, with burial in Cowan Creek Baptist Cemetery near Martinsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 3 to 5 and 7 until 9 p.m. Sunday.

SABINA — Edgar W. Marsh, 77, of 210 S. Howard St., Sabina, died at 8 a.m. Friday in Fayette County Memorial Hospital, Washington C.H., following a short illness.

Mr. Marsh was a member of the Sabina United Methodist Church. His wife, the former Irene Morrow, died in 1973.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Herman (Wanda) McMillan, of Reesville, Mrs. Harold (Norma) Soale, of Sabina, and Mrs. Paul (Jo Ann) Evans, of Wilmington; two sons, John W. Marsh, of Tuscon, Ariz., and Eldon Marsh, of Universal City, Tex.; a brother, William Marsh, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and a sister, Mrs. Luna Massar, of Warren.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina. Burial arrangements have not been completed.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 3 to 5 and 7 until 9 p.m. Saturday.

PAUL S. HIRT — Services for Paul S. Hirt, 74, of 2975 Prairie Road, were held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home with Pastor Harold Shank, of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, officiating. Mr. Hirt, a retired employee of the U.S. Shoe Corporation, Greenfield, died Monday.

Pallbearers for burial in Washington Cemetery were Gary Campbell, Dave Hurley, Mike Cruca, Ralph and Daryl Dailey and David Pavay.

MRS. EFFIE McCURDY — Services for Mrs. Effie McCurdy, 89, of 2968 Yeoman Road, were held at 10:30 a.m. Thursday in the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home with Elder Devard Edwards officiating. Mrs. McCurdy, widow of Howard McCurdy, died Sunday.

Pallbearers for burial in the Sugar Creek Baptist Cemetery were Eugene Johnson, Clyde Farmer, John, Dailey and Forest Hite and Don Pack.

Newspaper sales agreements set

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Multimedia Inc. announced today it has reached an agreement with the Ohio Valley Publishing Co. for the purchase of three daily newspapers in Ohio and West Virginia.

Wilson C. Wearn, president of Multimedia, said the agreement provides for the cash purchase of all the stock of the Gallipolis, Ohio, firm and its wholly owned subsidiary, the Point Pleasant Register Co. of Point Pleasant, W.Va.

No sale price was disclosed. The agreement is subject to the approval of the board of directors of Multimedia and the transaction is expected to be completed by Oct. 1, Multimedia said in a statement.

Layoffs to grow with import steel

DETROIT (AP) — Plant closings and layoffs will grow into an economic disaster for Ohio if steel imports aren't curbed, Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes said.

Arriving here Thursday for a National Governors Conference meeting, Rhodes said the imports jeopardize the jobs of the 170,000 steelworkers employed in Ohio and those of another 80,000 workers whose jobs depend on Ohio's steel industry.

Rhodes referred to the 130 layoffs scheduled this week at Union Carbide Corp.'s Marietta, Ohio plant.

A survey shows that layoffs and plant shutdowns will be widespread within six months unless there is federal action to limit the imports which now make up 18 to 21 per cent of the market, Rhodes said.

"If we import at a saturation point, between 25 per cent and 30 per cent, many of the steel mills in Ohio will have to close," he said. "We're that close to economic disaster."

Soil, water district holds annual meeting

The Fayette County Soil and Water Conservation District held its annual meeting last night in the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds. Approximately 150 persons were in attendance for the smorgasbord dinner and program.

Following the dinner and invocation, Edgar Agle, chairman of the district board of supervisors, welcomed the audience and thanked each of the contributors to the local district. He then introduced the singing trio of John Schlichter, Cindi Grover and Doug Joseph. They sang five contemporary songs. The trio was accompanied by Brenda Garringer on the piano.

After the entertainment, Gene Derickson, assistant chief of the Ohio Division of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, presented three men with awards for outstanding service to the district. James Waddle, Richard Carson and James Dunn were awarded plaques for devoted service as district advisors.

Bernard Czartoski of the Soil Conservation Service gave a brief report on the Rattlesnake Creek Watershed project progress. Czartoski said that the project is slated for completion in late 1978. "It is a very involved project," he told the audience, "but we already have a lot completed. The necessary studies, the field investigations and all of the surveying has been completed."

He stated that a review with the sponsors of the project will be held Sept. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Mahan Building. The public will be invited.

The guest speaker for the program was Charles H. Boyles, farm manager of the Eastern Ohio Resource Development Center at Caldwell, Ohio. Boyles was appointed to the position on Jan. 1, 1965 on the 2300 acre center that researches the growth of cattle, sheep, swine, grapes and apples.

Boyles said the greatest achievement on the grounds was the watering process. When the center was started, no water was available to the area, either above ground or underground. Boyles gave credit to Larry Essman who designed 15 ponds for the center which now benefit the entire 2,300 acre farm, the largest of which stretches over four acres and holds over 13 billion gallons of water.

Boyles related that the "city" have to have a better understanding of the farm and conservation for both to continue. He said that Congress does not have a good understanding of what needs to be done on a farm because most of them are from the city and do not know what it takes to produce the livestock and crops from a farm. New York representative Shirley Chisholm and the late Jerry Litton from Missouri were the farmer's best friends in the government, according to Boyles.

In 1950, Boyles was named manager of the Lundale Farms for the Amherst Coal Co. In 1954, he returned to West Virginia University, where he graduated with a bachelor and master's degree in animal science, and become farm manager for the university dairy, livestock and poultry farms until he moved to Ohio to manage the research center.

The center is a division of the Ohio State University.

Grand theft case checked

In an incident described as grand theft, Washington C.H. police officers reported a 23-channel citizens band radio and a radar scanner were stolen from a vehicle parked along Damon Drive late Wednesday night.

William E. Copas, 46, of 636 Damon

Drive, reportedly told police officers Thursday morning he had parked his car in the driveway around 7 Wednesday night and when he left for work Thursday morning he discovered the radio and "fuzz buster" were missing.

The value of the equipment was not reported.

Howard R. Core, 13, of 309 N. Fayette St., reported to local police officers someone stole his 10-speed bicycle Thursday night. The $50 Huffly Independence bicycle was taken from in front of his home sometime between 8:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., according to the police department report.

Police officers reported the recovery of a girl's 16-inch bicycle Thursday morning. Rolande Sterling, 414 E. Temple St., notified the officers the bicycle had been in an alley behind her home for the past two days. Police are holding the Western Flyer bike at the station pending identification of the proper owner.

Opinion And Comment

Storm-related crashes

Most air travelers would prefer to reach their destination late rather than risk not making it. This is relevant to the National Transportation Safety Board's concern about the rising number of storm-related crashes.

In a letter to airline presidents the NTSB has warned that pressure to stay on schedule may prod "the overzealous pilot" into flying through marginal weather which should have been avoided for safety's sake. Evidently there has been some pressure of this kind, as the agency implies in urging carrier management "to exercise care in presenting its policies or procedures to avoid influencing the pilot's judgment in this regard".

A study of crashes caused by storms, says the Safety Board, shows that the number of pilots who "fly into thunderstorms because of competitiveness, overconfidence, underestimation of the situation and a desire to get home" is comparatively small. But a few so inclined is a few too many.

We are told that both the worst single plane crash in U.S. history and the worst this year occurred during thunderstorms. Moreover, the number of thunderstorm crashes has increased markedly in recent years. Thus the agency's concern is clearly well founded.

That concern extends not only to gung-ho pilots, but to the airlines themselves. They are urged to take positive actions, telling pilots to go around storms rather than dodge through them, abort landings if an approach is marred by bad weather, delay takeoffs and landings during thunderstorms. Also, the Board said, better ways of supplying timely weather data are needed so pilots won't have to rely so much on their own radar.

These preventive and cautionary measures will not guarantee against future storm-related crashes. But if the airlines conscientiously heed them the risk of such accidents will be reduced.

The Letelier murder case

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The man behind the murder of Chilean exile leader Orlando Letelier, as federal investigators have pieced together the mystery, is probably Chile's Manuel Contreras Sepulveda.

In one of the most complicated investigations since Watergate, FBI sleuths have traced the man who ordered the killing to Contreras' office in Santiago, Chile. They are not yet certain, however, whether Contreras himself gave the order or whether it came from a top aide.

Most federal sources believe the murder could not have been carried out without Contreras' direct approval. In fact, some Justice Dept. sources speculate that Chilean President Augusto Pinochet himself personally suggested the assassination.

No one working on the case will comment directly. But we have learned that the FBI has stepped up its activity among terrorists in Miami and hopes to resolve the case in the near future, complete with the names of the actual assassins.

Letelier was killed by a bomb, which was attached beneath his Chevrolet. The bomb exploded last September 21 as he was driving down Washington's tranquil Embassy Row with two American colleagues, Mike and Ronnie Moffitt.

The blast killed Letelier and Mrs. Moffitt but miraculously spared her husband. Afterward, an anguished Mike Moffitt begged us to investigate the bombing. We have kept in close touch, therefore, with the federal investigation.

Within a few weeks, we were able to identify Chile's notorious secret police, known by the dread initials DINA, as the probable culprits. Now we can describe the murder plot.

We are told that Pinochet expressed his displeasure with Letelier to the DINA chief. We have reason to believe that Contreras, in response to the Chilean president's wishes, dispatched a DINA officer to the United States to meet with two leaders of Brigade 2506, an organization of Bay of Pigs veterans.

Some members of the brigade, trained in violence by the CIA, allegedly have become right-wing terrorists. The DINA agent was put in touch with them, according to our sources, by a Chilean diplomat in the United States, who secretly works for DINA.

We reached the diplomat who reportedly has been interrogated by U.S. authorities. At first, he told us through an interpreter that the affair was his "private problem." Then he refused to comment; then his aide told us the charge was "ridiculous."

Investigators tell us, however, the two brigade leaders contacted among others a Cuban demolitions expert, Guillermo Novo, in New Jersey. At the time, he was on probation after conviction for illegal use of explosives. He violated his probation and is now a fugitive.

The assassination plot was worked out, our sources say, at a secret rendezvous near Bonao in the Dominican Republic. It was decided that a special shaped plastic charge was needed for the bombing.

The explosive was available on the streets of Miami, and the bomb materials were bought and fashioned in the United States, most sources believe.

However, one source told us the bomb was actually constructed in Chile.

It was later delivered to the Miami area by a Chilean military official carrying a diplomatic passport and flying in a military airplane, the source said. The device was transmitted to a member of Brigade 2506, we are told. He then carried it to New Jersey where the assassination team was waiting for it. They used the bomb, according to our sources, to kill Letelier.

The Justice Dept. had no formal comment on the case. We have learned that prosecutors, however, are trying to figure how to get testimony from Chileans with diplomatic immunity and how to extradite potential defendants from Chile.

Footnote: The Chilean government has repeatedly denied any involvement with the assassination. Spokesmen for Brigade 2506 also have sworn that their members had nothing to do with murdering Letelier. Incidentally, Chile has announced the dissolution of DINA. But our sources say its duties simply have been taken over by other organizations.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: Graciela Olivarez is raising hackles inside the Community Services Administration. This is the agency that has taken over the work of the Poverty Corps. Not long after she took command of the new agency, she called the staff together not to outline programs to help the poor but to complain about coffee stains on the floor and waste paper in the ladies' room.

— President Carter has earmarked $4 billion to create 600,000 temporary jobs. Yet a tiny office inside the Commerce Dept. has helped create more than one million permanent jobs in the United States on a meager $100,000 budget. This two-man office runs the Invest in USA program, which has persuaded several foreign manufacturers to set up plants in this country.

—Rep. Parren Mitchell, D-Md., leader of the congressional black caucus, called on President Carter last week to complain about high unemployment among blacks. Inside the oval office, Mitchell told the president to his face: "Mr. President, when you're right, I'll praise you and stand by you. But when you're wrong, I'll fight you all the way." The president flashed his famous smile.

"Congressman," he said, "you've been doing that already."

—President Carter's embattled budget director, Bert Lance, has been so busy defending himself that he seldom shows up any more at the senior staff meetings. At press time, he hadn't put in an appearance at a staff meeting in more than two weeks. He has been represented instead by his deputy director, 36-year-old James McIntyre, who also has strong Georgia credentials. He's a native of Vidalia, Ga., and a 1963 graduate of the University of Georgia law school.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10

ARIES
(March 21 to April 20)
Mixed influences. You may be faced with some annoyances but, on the other hand, with many pleasant offerings. Imagination and originality stimulated.

TAURUS
(April 21 to May 21)
Dominating influences are happily on the friendly, social side, but a serious note here and there indicates a need for studying situations, people, backgrounds.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Certain details may require more attention before you can relax. Handle promptly! Eliminate nonessentials from your program and all should go well.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
You can expect a pleasant day, with associates full of good will and congeniality. Day especially favorable for travel and meeting people of interest.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Mild stellar influences. Day will be largely what you make of it. Stress your sense of values and aim only for the worthwhile. Social activities and outdoor interests especially favored.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Consolidate gains made over the past week. Implement good ideas and embody them into next week's schedule.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
If you've been interested in a new project, but have postponed taking action on it, NOW is the time! But be sure you have the know-how and enough data to go on.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Do not be upset by criticism. If constructive, it could actually show you new ways to capitalize on your inventiveness and skills.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
You, like Scorpio, can profit by both opposition and obstacles. Some new ideas could brighten your day, a new method perk up tedious but essential routine.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
A good outlook! Saturn encourages your talents, cleverness at discerning leads and new methods of value, smart action generally.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Even if time is short and there is much to be accomplished, give yourself enough time for efficient planning. A good day for revitalizing all interests.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to March 20)
Advance a new idea, enlist the help of others to put it across. Under prevailing influences, you should win new benefits, advance your status.

YOU BORN TODAY are one of the most talented of all Virgoans and, properly educated, of course, have a wide variety of careers from which to choose. You would succeed in the theater as actor, director or producer; in the literary world as novelist, journalist or critic; in the professions, as scientist, teacher or lawyer; in business, as banker, manufacturer or promotional expert. You probably could not make a livelihood from the arts, but could attain a certain degree of excellence in many, and may take up one or the other as a hobby. Traits to curb: moodiness, a tendency to be overly critical of others.

Energy system uses garbage

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — An innovative energy recovery system that uses trash — paper, lunch debris and even corn stalks — to yield summer cooling and winter heating was displayed Wednesday by Rockwell International Corp.

A Rockwell spokesman said the company's Truck Axle Division assembly plant here saves about $125,000 a year in gas and electricity bills by using the trash burner.

"It saves enough natural gas every year to fuel 104 homes; enough electricity to provide the needs of 445 homes," William A. Smith, superintendent of facilities at the plant, said. Smith designed the trash burner.

The system produces virtually no pollutants, Smith said. It discharges carbon dioxide and water vapor and is smokeless and odorless. Its fine ash residue is used to fertilize a 50-acre cornfield which produces stalks that help fuel the incinerator.

The burner is a pyrolytic incinerator which converts combustible trash into recoverable heat in two steps.

In the first step, the trash is burned and the heat gasifies its carbon content. In the second step, the burnable gases are ignited in an afterburner or thermo reactor. The resulting intense heat is used to heat water.

Uncle Sam trying to collect money from bad student loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you borrowed money from Uncle Sam to get through college and neglected to pay him back, there may soon be a bill collector looking for you.

The government, getting tough with some 390,000 recipients of federally insured student loans who never paid them off, is turning over about $430 million in bad debts to private collection agencies.

So, if you're among the one in six federal loan recipients who defaulted since the program began nine years ago, there's the prospect that your credit rating may be jeopardized unless you pay up.

The Office of Education, part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has been trying to collect on the loans, but hasn't been successful, so it's calling in the pros.

If you're one of those in default, though, you'll be given one last chance to repay before your file is turned over to a collector, says a federal official.

"We want to give them a chance to pay because, if their files go to collectors, we want them to know what they are getting into," says Leo Kornfeld, deputy HEW commissioner for student finance assistance.

"They could be jeopardizing their future credit ratings and could have trouble later getting mortgages, credit cards or car loans."

Kornfeld said the decision to use private collection agencies is "rooted in our firm conviction that those who are able but unwilling to pay their debts do a grave injustice to the American public who provided them with an opportunity for education.

"Unfortunately, there is an attitude on many campuses that this is government money, it's a soft touch and you can get out of paying it back," Kornfeld said in an interview.

"This will almost be an educational lesson in a way," he said. "A part of growing up is learning that you have to pay off your debts."

Kornfeld said the response to his department's invitation to private organizations to bid for the first collection contract has been "overwhelming."

The winning bidder will be required to locate the negligent borrowers and set up a schedule for them to repay the government.

If unsuccessful, the collector will recommend to the government other measures it can take, including legal action.

Kornfeld said the first contract will be awarded and files sent to the collection agency by December. The contracts will prohibit unethical harassment tactics, he added.

Kornfeld said the collection agencies will work for a percentage of payments collected. No additional federal money will be used to finance the program, he said.

The collection contract will apply only to the Federal Insured Student Loan Program, under which the federal government has directly insured about half of all loans in the Guaranteed Student Loan Program.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Bride's parents refuse to meet with Groom's

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my son's future in-laws. He has been going with this girl for four years, they've been engaged for a year and a half, and all this time, my husband and I have not met her parents.

We have often asked the girl and my son if we could meet her folks, but we never got a straight answer.

Finally, with the wedding coming up in a few months, I decided to call the girl's parents and invited them over so we could get acquainted. The mother said she would call me back to let me know when they could make it. That was eight weeks ago. No call yet. I am at a loss as to what to do.

Everyone will think it's odd if they find out at the wedding that we have never met the bride's parents. They live less than a mile from us.

Should I drop the matter? Or should I pursue it?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If you haven't met the girl's parent's by now, collar your son and find out why. Explain to him that as parents of the groom, you do have a role in the wedding plans. (The rehearsal dinner.) Don't call the girl's parents again.

It will be awkward indeed if you don't meet them before the wedding, but if that's the way they want it, for whatever reason, so be it.

DEAR ABBY: Am I wrong for refusing to sleep with the man I love because he wants his dog to sleep on the floor of our bedroom?

When I walked out, he said the dog always slept on the floor in the same bedroom with him and his first wife, who is now deceased.

Abby, I have never had dogs and I am not used to them. I told him he could put the dog in the other bedroom, but he said he wouldn't do it that next to his deceased wife, the dog came first. So where do I stand?

NO DOG LOVER

DEAR NO: Right behind his dog.

DEAR ABBY: My older sister irritates me no end. She never takes my word for anything. She always has to check it out. If I were in the habit of lying, I could understand it, but I'm not. I always try to stick to the truth.

Another thing about her that bugs me is that if I happen to be out when she phones, me, when she finally reaches me she always asks where I've been. Abby, I just hate having to account for my whereabouts. She doesn't have to know every move I make!

I'm not a child. Far from it. I'm a married woman in my 40s.

Any suggestions?

YOUNGER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Yes, grow up. You're still intimidated by your older sister. Don't blame her if you lack the courage to tell her that: (a) you resent her checking out everything you say because you're generally truthful; and (b) if you want her to know where you've been, you'll volunteer the information.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, September 9th, the 252nd day of 1977. There are 113 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1776, the term "United States" became official in a ruling of the Second Continental Congress.

On this date:

In 1830, Charles Durant made early aviation history by flying in a balloon from New York City across the Hudson River to Perth Amboy, N.J.

In 1850, California was admitted to the Union as the 31st state.

In 1893, the First Lady, Mrs. Grover Cleveland, became the mother of a baby girl. It was the first time that a child had been born to a first lady in the White House.

In 1919, Boston police went on strike. Massachusetts Governor Calvin Coolidge ruled that they would not be permitted to return to their jobs on grounds they had no right to strike and endanger public safety.

In 1926, the National Broadcasting Company was formed as a service of the Radio Corporation of America.

In 1946, the formal surrender of about 1 million Japanese soldiers took place in China, at Nanking.

Ten years ago: A 20-year-old Kansas woman, Debra Dene Barnes, was crowned the new "Miss America" in Atlantic City.

Five years ago: Secretary of State Henry Kissinger headed for Moscow for talks with Soviet leaders on European security.

One year ago: Mao Tse-Tung, 82-year-old leader of the Chinese Communist revolution, died in Peking.

Today's birthday: Former Republican Presidential candidate Alfred Landon is 90 years old.

Thought for today: The American, by nature, is optimistic. He is experimental, an inventor and a builder who builds best when called upon to build greatly — President John F. Kennedy.

SOUTHLAND GOSPEL COURIERS — The Couriers (pictured here) of Lexington, Ky., will be featured in an evening concert at 7 on Wednesday, Sept. 14, in the First Christian Church, 232 N. North St. They have recorded six albums and have performed in person with such notables as Tom Netherton, Dale Evans and former Miss America Vonda VanDyke.

Couriers coming to church

The First Christian Church, North and Temple streets, is presenting the Southland Gospel Couriers in a concert Wednesday, Sept. 14, at 7 p.m.

The Lexington, Ky., quartet has been seen regularly on the nationally televised program Revival Fires and has produced six albums. They have toured extensively throughout the continental U.S. as well as India, Rhodesia, Israel and Mediterranean Europe.

The group has performed in nearly 500 churches across the country and appeared before conventions and clinics with attendance reaching 20,000. The four graduate music majors have also lead the singing, taught, preached, counseled and witnessed in revival meetings around the country.

One of the most outstanding musical features of the Couriers, according to the First Christian Church's Minister Ray Russell, is their creative arrangements. Russell said they use both old and new gospel songs during their programs and have excited audiences with their unique style and powerful spiritual witness.

The minister is handling the group's local engagements and has extended an invitation to all area residents to attend the evening concert. Admission is free, however, a free will offering will be accepted.

Special events

BLOOMINGBURG
A weekend revival, beginning Sept. 7-11 will be held at the White Oak Community Bible Church with meetings nightly at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Howard Rollins is the evangelist. Singers will include both local and out-of-town groups. The church's pastor, Rev. Harold Redding, encourages all area residents to attend.

BOOKWALTER
A zone rally featuring the Gospel Rainbows will be presented by the Bookwalter Church of Christ in Christian Union on Tuesday, Sept. 13, in Sedalia.

The church is also hosting a week-long revival meeting Sept. 19-25. David Van Hoose will be the presiding evangelist.

CHILLICOTHE
Youth Outreach, an interdenominational organization, will begin its monthly fall program with a concert by the Goad Family at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 10, at the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Chillicothe.

Youth Outreach is an organization of four Ross County families concerned with presenting Christ to young people.

Plans changed
In last Friday's edition of the Record-Herald, Dale Orihood was listed as the minister for the First Church of the Nazarene, Ohio 41-S. He is not. The church currently has no minister.

Orihood was originally to be acquainted with the congregation on Aug. 29, but plans for his ministry were changed by church members.

SAMANTHA
A song fest, featured the beginning of each month by the Samantha Free Will Baptist Church at the junction of U.S. 62 and Ohio 72, will be held in the church at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 10.

Special singers will include Vernon Bowling and Joe Isaac's Sacred Bluegrass Singers from Morrow and the Williams Sisters of Dayton.

Waverly, in Pike County, was named from Sir Walter Scott's Waverly novels, and grew so rapidly after the Ohio-Erie Canal went to Waverly instead of the county seat, Piketon, it replaced Piketon as the county seat. — AP

Washington C.H. (O.) Record-Herald - Page 6

Navajo weavings at Fayette Gallery

Featured this month at the Fayette County Bank, Fayette Center Gallery is a part of the private collection of Navajo weavings of Miss Susie Brubaker, of Washington C.H.

Weavings of the Navajos are today enjoying a new appreciation. Collectors throughout the country are bringing the credibility of these blankets and rugs as an art form of the American Indian into the eyes of the public.

The weaving of textiles by the Navajos, a tribe of American Indians located in the southwest, was "borrowed" from their neighbors, the Pueblos. The Pueblos had been farmers for many centuries and were making textiles from the cotton they grew as the Conquistadores arrived, introducing sheep (wool) to the region.

The Pueblos were a peaceful people, and the Navajos were raiders and hunters. During this time they often made raids on the Pueblo villages, taking both sheep and horses which had been brought by the Spanish. These animals allowed the Navajos to become wandering herdsmen.

When the Navajos were captured, they, too, were put to work as weavers for their Spanish masters. This, along with intermarriage between the Pueblos and Navajos, brought the skill of weaving to the Navajos. They used their weaving skills for commercial purposes. There is evidence of the Navajos' textile trade as early as the 1790's. The early trade was with other Indian tribes.

Exceptional weaving became the trademark of the Navajo "chief's blankets" which were produced not for chiefs of the Navajos, but to be sold or traded to chiefs of other tribes.

Until about 1890, when colorful wool became available to the Navajos, the colors were "earth tones" and the designs were simple. After this time the Navajos went into the phase known as "eye dazzler," during which time the Indians threw subtle colors and design to the wind and made use of this new wealth of colors in every combination imaginable.

The demand for Navajo textiles which had been limited to blankets and clothing, began to drop at the end of the 19th Century. About this time, it became a trend to throw Navajo blankets on the floor as rugs. It did not take the traders long to get the idea, and persuade the weavers to make their products more suitable for use on the floor--the Navajo rug was born.

The Navajos very rarely used a pattern, other than a mental image in making their rugs. This, perhaps more than anything else is the reason for the individuality of each Navajo rug.

The early 1900's was the period of the "pound rug," during which time the weavers were paid for their product by the weight of the rug, regardless of the workmanship. This practice led to sloppy weaving and a general decline in the quality of the rug.

After this practice died out, the Navajos returned to a higher quality of weaving and the use of vegetable dyes, although the red aniline remained a favorite of the Indians.

Couple plans June wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie D. Cowman of 4868 Ohio 41-NW wish to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jackie Lee, to Kenneth E. Hellenthal, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hellenthal, 690 Staunton-Jasper Road-SW.

Miss Cowman, a 1977 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is presently employed at Polk Real Estate.

Her fiancé, a 1975 MTHS graduate, is employed at Calmar.

A June wedding is being planned by the couple.

Former CF Girl Dinah Shore tells of 'New Day Program'

KANSAS CITY, MO.--Dinah Shore speaks out for Camp Fire this fall as the national youth organization tells the nation about New Day.

A former Camp Fire Girl, Dinah Shore talks to youth and adults about Camp Fire's new approach to meeting the needs of youth today. In radio and television messages, the renowned entertainer, who exemplifies today's successful, talented woman, urges youth-girls and boys--to be part of Camp Fire "the nation's most exciting youth organization," says Ms. Shore. "I was a member of Camp Fire and I know what a difference it can make in your life."

Several years ago, Camp Fire began an evaluation process to decide whether it should still be in business. The answer, according to Dr. Hester Turner, National Executive Director, was a resounding yes, but with modifications.

"The old program was fine and idealistic," she said, "but it did not fit children from different settings with different problems." The New Day program helps deal with the different settings and problems by allowing local councils to design activities that meet individual needs.

In addition to coed groups, Camp Fire councils may sponsor day care programs, drop-in-centers, in fact, anything they feel will reach a larger and more diversified youth membership, said Mr. Turner.

"Camp Fire is delighted," Dr. Turner announced, "that Dinah Shore will be a national spokesperson for us this year."

Says Ms. Shore, "Camp Fire is shaping tomorrow by helping youth today. Camp Fire knows how to move with the times, reaching out with programs tailored for individual needs. Programs which help put the world in perspective for young people--girls and boys, whether they live in the city or the country--all across the nation."

Mary Guild

Mrs. Milbourne Flee was hostess when the Mary Guild of First Christian Church met in her home. Mrs. Daisy Gossard, Guild leader, opened the meeting and Mrs. Glen Jette's devotions were entitled "Live, Don't Race." She also read Scripture from Psalms 119 and Hebrews 12.

Mrs. Flee led the Bible Study of Paul's Missionary Journey.

There were 19 who responded to roll call, and reports were made by Mrs. Orpha Willis, Mrs. Zoe Follis, and Mrs.

Walter Elliott who stated that 21 cards had been sent to the ill. Correspondence from Quiet Acres Nursing Home announced laprobes were needed, and Guild members had made bibs for patients.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 10. The Area Women's Fellowship will be at the Sabina Church Sept. 22.

Mrs. Alfred Weatherly conducted a contest and winners were Misses Edith Ferguson and Delorus Cadwallader.

Hostesses were Mrs. Laura Chaney and Mrs. Norma Flee.

Beta Omega

meets with Mrs. Whiteside

Beta Omega Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met in the home of Mrs. Wanda Whiteside for the first meeting of the year. President Mrs. Wayne Clark opened the business meeting in ritualistic form.

The First Pearl Certificate was presented to Mrs. Ted Craig for her exceptional participation in chapter activities as a first-year member.

Personalized program booklets designed by the Educational Director, Mrs. James McCracken, were distributed. Programs for the year were previewed.

Philanthropic projects under the direction of Mrs. Craig were discussed. Food baskets and toys will be donated at Christmas, as well as food baskets at Easter. The annual Spring Dance was scheduled jointly with the Alpha Theta Chapter.

Mrs. Dennis Holloway, Ways and Means chairman, reported on the success of the food stand during Old Fashioned Bargain Days. Plans were discussed for the skating party for Sept. 28 at Roller Haven, and committees were announced.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Whiteside served refreshments to Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Ralph Leeds, Mrs. Lester Bower, Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. Craig and Mrs. McCracken.

The next meeting was scheduled for Sept. 19, in the home of Mrs. Clark when Mrs. McCracken will teach the art of making needlepoint ornaments.

Jaycees plan Paper drive

The Washington C.H. Jaycees will be holding their bi-monthly paper drive this Saturday, Sept. 10, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Seaway parking lot on Clinton Ave.

Anyone having newspapers, catalogues and magazines are urged to bring them to the collectionsite where the Jaycees will be on hand to unload the cars. Persons unable to deliver papers to the parking lot may call Leroy Farris (335-7591) or Dennis Cotner (335-2105).

Begin with cold water in making coffee. Warm water produces flat tasting coffee.

Bride-elect complimented

A bridal shower was held at the home of Susan Spahr in Jeffersonville honoring Miss Pam Straley, bride-elect of Tim Renick. Hostesses for the occasion were Ruth Straley, Emma Lou, Susan and Ann Spahr.

Others present were Susan Bush, Martha Reedy, Reba Straley, Pauline Bush, Penny, Shirley and Brenda Straley, Jean Coe, and Mrs. Joan Straley and Mrs. Dorothy Renick, mothers of the couple.

Also sending gifts were Sandi Clawson, Nancy Baber, Jeanette Burnett, Nellie Coe, Helen Simerl, and Annette Straley.

A dessert course was served by the hostesses, and a visiting time was enjoyed by all.

A bridal shower honoring Miss Pam Straley, bride-elect of Tim Renick, was held recently in the home of Jean Roush in Jeffersonville.

Games were conducted by Belinda Bonner and Reggie Smith, hostesses, with prizes going to Penny Straley and Ethel Cox.

Others attending were Mrs. Dorothy Renick and Mrs. Joan Straley, mothers of the couple, Phyllis Bonner, Patsy Steiner, Annette Straley, Betsy Hartman, Tami Renick, Sharon Smith and Julie Garringar.

Those sending gifts but unable to attend the shower were Elise Hill, Gail Butler, Sally Leeth, Toni Ging and Carol Rex.

A dessert course of cake, nuts and mints were served by the hostesses.

Methodist women hold meeting

Thirteen members of the Bloomingburg United Methodist Women and one guest met in the home of Mrs. Robert Huff, who also conducted the business meeting. She read the poem "Only a Word."

After reports and communications, cards were signed for the ill members, and a discussion of meetings and sale dinners took place.

Mrs. Harold Messmer led a very interesting discussion regarding accepting and supporting women as clergy.

During the social hour, refreshments were served to Rev. and Mrs. Messmer, Mrs. Irene Gibeau, Mrs. Laura Wilson, Mrs. Laura Hughes, Mrs. Nora Oswald, Mrs. Eli Craig, Mrs. Zoe Garringar, Mrs. Viola Thornton, Mrs. Dorothy Delph, Mrs. Dorothy Slager and Mrs. Gladys Bloomer by hostesses Mrs. Huff and Mrs. Clarence Runnels.

Associate chapter Phi Beta Psi enjoys bridge

Phi Beta Psi Associate Chapter 1 members met at the Terrace Lounge on Wednesday for a luncheon-meeting. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Ira Barchet, Mrs. A. B. MacDonald, Mrs. Budd Brownell, Mrs. L. F. Everhart and Mrs. Harford Hankins.

Following the brief business meeting, bridge was enjoyed. Winners were Mrs. Frances Core, Mrs. Earl Gidding and Mrs. Helen McKee.

Miss Landrum completes wedding plans

Final arrangements have been made for the marriage of Miss Pamela J. Landrum and Robert Herron. The marriage will take place in the Grace United Methodist Church at 6:30 p. m. Sept. 10.

Miss Landrum has asked Miss Theresa Johnson to serve as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Lynn Foy, sister of the groom, Patti Souther and Mary Eckle, cousins of the bride-elect, and Becky Oyer, a friend.

Performing the duties as best man will be Davis Willis. The groomsmen will be Bucky Burbage, Steve Ross, Bill Junk and Jeff Wells, all friends of the prospective groom.

Miss Cathy Newbrey will be the vocalist, and Elaine Stookey the organist.

COOKING IS FUN

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

CHORIZO CANAPES

1/2 pound chorizo
6-ounce can tomato paste
4 scallions, finely chopped
2 tablespoons seeded and finely chopped canned jalapeno pepper
1/2 teaspoon oregano
French rolls, grated
Parmesan and sliced Jack or Swiss cheese
Remove casing from chorizo. In a hot 10-inch skillet over moderate heat fry the chorizo, crumbling with a fork, until thoroughly cooked. Stir in tomato paste, scallion, jalapeno and oregano; cook gently until very hot. Makes about 1 1/2 cups. Slice the rolls crosswise and toast lightly; spread with the hot chorizo mixture; sprinkle with Parmesan; top with sliced cheese. Bake or broil briefly until cheese melts. Serve hot.

VANILLA-COFFEE LIQUEUR
1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup granulated sugar
2 cups water
1/2 cup instant coffee powder
3 cups vodka
2 tablespoons pure vanilla extract
Combine sugars with water. Bring to boil and boil for 5 minutes. Slowly stir in coffee powder. Cool. Pour into jug or jar. Add vodka and vanilla. Mix thoroughly. Cover and let stand at least 2 weeks. Serve over ice cream or pudding or as flavoring for milk drinks. Yields about 5 cups.

Respiratory therapy course to be offered on Sept. 15

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio -- The Central Ohio Lung Association and the Ross County Medical Center Hospital will co-sponsor a course for nurses on respiratory therapy methods beginning at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 15 at the Holiday Inn in Chillicothe.

The registration fee for the course is $10 per person and includes the cost of a manual. The deadline for registration is Sept. 10, according to Mrs. Robert Goodson, of Washington C.H., a program consultant of the Central Ohio Lung Association.

Checks for the registration fee should be made payable to the Central Ohio Lung Association and sent to the South Central office at 121 W. Main St.,

Chillicothe, 45601. More information can be obtained by calling 614-772-1044.

Material to be covered will include common clinical problems in respiratory care, methods of aerosol and humidity therapy, home care, respiratory pharmacology, and oxygen therapy.

The instructors will be Tim J. Good, director of respiratory therapy at the Ross County Medical Center; Edward Mose, a respiratory therapy program instructor for the adult education division of the Columbus Public Schools, and Scott Caldwell, a staff respiratory therapy technician at the Ross County Medical Center.

Julie Nixon Eisenhower wrote "Special People" from the privileged position of a President's daughter. In this book of essays, she reminisces about several famous acquaintances, from Mao Tse-Tung to Ruth Bell Graham, wife of Evangelist Billy Graham. Mrs. Eisenhower is uniformly sympathetic to her subjects. Although on occasion she provides striking detail and intelligent insight, on the whole her treatment lacks spice: "Special People" is far more readable a chapter at a time, rather than all at one sitting!

Julie Nixon Eisenhower is at her best when describing those she knows well. She is naive and gushing in her interviews with Golda Meir and Mao; her portrait of Mamie Eisenhower, her grandmother-in-law, is by far the best in the book. From an insider's point of view, the young Mrs. Eisenhower relates anecdotes of Ike and Mamie's marriage, their disagreements, their children, Dwight Eisenhower's death and Mamie's life since.

There is a section of fine photographs of Golda Meir, Mao, Ruth and Billy Graham, Ike and Mamie, the Nixon family, Prince Charles and Princess Anne of Great Britain, and Anne Morrow Lindbergh, author and wife of Charles Lindbergh.

"Special People" available at the Carnegie Public Library, will be of interest to many because of its famous author and the people who are its subjects. Sentimental and somewhat humorless in style, it nevertheless fascinates.

Also new at the Carnegie Library are:

"The Lonely Ships: The Life and Death of the U.S. Asiatic Fleet" by Edwin P. Hoyt; "Lewis and Clark's America: A Contemporary Photo Essay" - Seattle Art Museum; "Psychic Voyages" by Stuart Holroyd; "Winning is Everything (And Other American Myths)" by Thomas Tutko and William Bruns; "Hitler's War" by David Irving; and "What Every Woman Should Know About Her Car" by Dorothy Jackson.

Fish stocking in private agreement ponds scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio - Private pond owners in Ohio who have entered into an agreement with the Division of Wildlife of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources to permit limited public fishing on their property will receive over 76,000 fish for stocking this week as part of the "FishOhio" program.

Dale Haney, chief of the wildlife division, said 85 pond owners will receive 13,080 largemouth bass, 13,055 channel catfish and 60,760 bluegills.

"Providing free fish to qualified pond owners offers more recreational opportunity for Ohioans and is becoming an increasingly popular program throughout the state," Haney said, noting there are 47,000 farm ponds in Ohio.

"The winter fish kill in many shallow ponds was heavy this year because of the severe weather," Haney said.

"This program will help rehabilitate those ponds."

Pond owners interested in the program should contact the Wildlife District office nearest their residence to obtain an application form. If they qualify, fish will be provided for stocking next fall.

Wildlife district offices are located at 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus; 952 Lima Ave., Findlay; 912 Portage Lakes Drive, Akron; 360 East State St., Athens; and 1076 Old Springfield Pike, Box 576, Xenia.

Rubber cars in future?

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Chemical researchers here predict that by the mid-'80s about 85 per cent of your family auto will be made of rubber or plastic stuck together the way kids build plastic models.

Researchers at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. adhesives plant say cars coming out of Detroit in the next decade will have hoods, fenders, grills and even some load-carrying structural parts stuck on with adhesives.

Structural adhesives were used in the early 1960s for plastics on sports cars, Goodyear says, but the material "couldn't meet the challenge of the assembly line because the plastic parts had to be prepared for bonding by shot blasting — a costly, dirty, time-consuming process."

The company claims that a urethane-based adhesive system developed in recent years has provided a breakthrough, making big-car assembly with fiberglass parts as easy as putting plastic models together.

The breakthrough is speeding Detroit's switch to plastic, giving engineers "the benefit of plastic's lightness and noncorrosion, as they retain the strength and assembly line advantages of steel," Goodyear says.

The rubber and chemical firm says its system called Pliogrip, which emerged from research in synthetic rubber, air cures with a watertight seal and, in some cases, gives plastic parts greater strength than the steel they replace.

The adhesive is being used in many 1978 models to fabricate tailgates, car tops, sun roofs, hoods and interior trim, Goodyear reports.

For alleged 'back-door dealings'

Former OCSEA director rapped

"The real reason that Karl Stewart is no longer executive director of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association (OCSEA) is that the membership got fed-up with his incompetent leadership and his back-door dealings with the state administration and forced him to resign under threat of being fired," said Patrick Sorohan, OCSEA's acting executive director, in response to Stewart's recent statement that he quit OCSEA because of "internal conflict."

"Unfortunately many of the unkind things the Communications Workers of America (Stewart's new employer) have said about Stewart's activities in the last three years are true," said

Sorohan. "Now he is their problem, and they'll have to explain his anti-labor actions to their membership."

At a news conference at the offices of the 29,000-member organization, Sorohan admitted that OCSEA had experienced a 3,000 drop in state employee membership over the past four years, but pointed out that OCSEA's competitors had suffered as much as a 50 per cent decrease in the same period of time.

"Much of the blame for the declining membership of public employee labor unions in Ohio can be attributed to the anti-labor philosophy of the Rhodes administration," said Sorohan. "The atmosphere of state government at this time is simply not conducive to the growth of unionism. This is why OCSEA is pushing for a public employee collective bargaining bill."

Sorohan also stated that while it is true that OCSEA did have some financial difficulties, the corner has been turned and the association has begun recalling laid-off employees and also has money in the bank.

"Some of our financial difficulties were caused by the mismanagement of the previous executive director and also by the extraordinarily high legal costs incurred in protecting the job rights of our members," said Sorohan. "I think it is a measure of OCSEA's commitment to its membership that we supplied legal assistance to almost 4,000 members during the past year in an effort to protect their job rights. This is something we are proud of and that no other union can say," said Sorohan.

Sorohan said the departure of Stewart will usher in a new era of aggressiveness on the part of OCSEA. "It is my philosophy that if a rival union, or management, or a politician pushes us, we push back harder," said Sorohan.

"Ohio's public employees have been pushed around by the politician long enough," said Sorohan. "I want to assure all public employees that as acting executive director of the state's largest public employee labor organization I intend to be an activist in protecting and advancing their interests. During the coming weeks, OCSEA will take more aggressive actions on such major issues as collective bargaining, the contracting-out-public employee jobs and a pay raise for all state, county welfare and state university employees," said Sorohan.

"OCSEA is the state's number 1 public employee labor organization in the terms of membership, size of staff, and record of accomplishment," said Sorohan, "and we intend to stay number 1."

A fast moving cold front is heading east out of the Plains states and is expected to bring showers and thundershowers to Ohio by tonight.

A good bit of sunshine is expected today with temperatures climbing into the low to mid 80s. Some showers and thundershowers may reach the western part of the state by late afternoon. The lows tonight will be in the 60s.

Lottery revenue received by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state's general revenue fund received $283,439.55 from the Ohio Lottery Rotary Fund Thursday, the state auditor's office said.

Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson said the funds transfer represents 30 per cent, or the minimum dollar amount mandated by Ohio law, of the gross revenues received for the Aug. 18 lottery drawing date.

IF YOU KNEW WHAT I KNOW ABOUT CYSTIC FIBROSIS, YOU'D DO ANYTHING TO HELP

Of all the lung-damaging diseases, this one is the worst. Cystic fibrosis causes mucus that clogs kids' lungs and airways. Naturally, normal breathing can become a big problem for children like my friend Robbyn. The mucus can also interfere with normal digestion. Then there are lung infections. Often, one after another. We don't have a cure yet for this cruel, inherited disease — and that's where you come in. Please volunteer for your local Cystic Fibrosis Chapter.

Contribution 50 pints short of quota

Bloodmobile collects 120 pints in visit here

A total of 120 pints of blood were received Thursday at the Red Cross bloodmobile visit at the Grace United Methodist Church.

The 120-pint total was 50 pints below the Fayette County Chapter of the American Red Cross quota of 170 pints.

The bloodmobile visit was sponsored by the Washington C.H. Lions Club.

Red Cross officials said 126 prospective donors reported to the church and six were rejected. Some 117 of the 126 prospective donors had arranged appointments before donating.

Twenty persons contributed replacement blood for patients in hospitals. There were seven first-time donors.

Physicians on duty were Dr. K.W. Chan, Dr. Marvin Roszmann, Dr. Lalitchandra Rampura, Dr. Byers W. Shaw, Dr. K.K. Wong, Dr. Robert

Woodmansee and Dr. Robert Anderson.

Registered nurses were Gayle Roszmann, Gretchen Witherspoon, Corrine Sperry, Marilee Peterson, Julia Schwartz and Margaret Johnson. Nurses aides were Barbara Foy and Vivian Underwood.

Red Cross staff aides on duty were Helen Slavens, Nancy Elliott, Rita Lanman, LaVerne Bray, Eleanor Rapp, Helene Sanderson, Mary Emma Johnson, Betty Binzel, Nadine Rost, Chris Roszmann and Mary Dray.

Drivers from the Business and Professional Women's Club were Norma Dodd and Marie Mace.

Contributing to the canteen were the Women of the Fayette Bible Church, the Midland Grocery Co., Pennington Bakery, and Helfrich's Market.

Canteen workers were Libby Brown, Rosemary Persinger, Mary Jane Calentine, Cathy Meredith, Mary Brocke, Virginia Loudner, Agnes Riley, Dorothy Mahoney and Ruth Parrett.

Welcome Wagon Club members staffing the nursery were Kaye Huber, Penny Rine, Cheryl Geyer, Debbie Wollam, Dawn Caughron, Carolyn Yates and Pat Berryhill.

City employees set up equipment brought by the mobile unit and Washington Senior High School NJROTC members reloaded it for the return trip.

Harvest conditions 'good'

By The Associated Press

Here is the agriculture weather advisory for Ohio provided by the National Weather Service:

A band of showers stretching from central Wisconsin to the Oklahoma panhandle will spread across Ohio tonight. The frontal system generating the showers will provide cooler air Saturday. A pleasant weekend is expected followed by another frontal system Monday that may produce more scattered shower activity.

FIELD OPERATIONS — Harvesting conditions will be good today. Wetting due to showers may interrupt field work in the east Saturday, but other sections of the state should be clearing by noon and drying in the afternoon will be at a moderate pace. Daily evaporation rates will continue to range from 0.15 to 0.18 inch per day. Good field working conditions will fill the weekend, then showers are likely to cause delays on Monday and Tuesday.

SOIL MOISTURE — Both topsoil and overall soil moisture are nearly normal across much of Ohio. The west central and some central sections are still too dry. Showers tonight and a chance for showers early next week will provide a good opportunity to germinate and begin to establish late summer seedlings of grasses.

LIVESTOCK — Cooler temperatures are ahead Saturday. This will provide a period of comfortable weather for the transport and handling of livestock. Pasture conditions should continue to advance well except in the west central where the soil moisture is still below normal levels.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES — Ripening and harvesting conditions will continue to be favorable. Foliage will be wetted in some areas by rainfall late today and tonight. Some isolated areas may experience wet surface conditions on Saturday morning, but drying during the day should permit a return to the field before the weekend is over.

Singer says he never loved Cher

NEW YORK (AP) — Rock star Gregg Allman says he never loved Cher and knew as soon as he married her "I was sorry that I had done it."

In an interview in the October issue of Viva magazine, Allman said: "We came home from the wedding, got off the jet and I was gone for two days. I just couldn't handle what I had done."

"I ain't putting her down or anything like that," he added. "She was just as sorry that we'd done it."

Noting that they were together only four months before their marriage, Allman said: "One Sunday morning I woke up and she said, 'I got this Lear jet and Nevada ain't too far away. Why don't we get married?' she asked me. And I said, 'I don't know if I'm ready to get into this, but okay, let's do it.'"

Students escape injury as auto hits school bus

Six children and a driver escaped uninjured Friday morning when an automobile collided with a school bus on Ohio 734 near milepost 12, according to Fayette County sheriff's deputies. The bus was backing into a farm drive about 6:45 Friday morning when a car, driven by 18-year-old Thomas J. Hurley, Bloomington, skidded over 150 feet in the center of the road and slammed into the bus broadside. According to investigating sheriff's deputies, the impact sent Hurley's car another 18 feet into a ditch off the left roadside before it stopped. The bus driver, Frank M. Coe, 58, of 1026 S. Fayette St., and his six passengers were uninjured. Both vehicles sustained moderate damage.

Sheriff's deputies cited Hurley for excessive speed under the conditions. The Bloomington youth had claimed injury, but sheriff's deputies said he was not treated at the time of the accident. A minor accident Thursday night was reported by Washington C.H. police officers on Washington Avenue near Worley Street. Investigating officers cited Debra J. Hughes, 23, of 312 Bereman St., for starting without safety after she attempted to pull away from the curb and struck the rear of a parked pick-up truck. The truck belonged to William E. Lyons of 917 Washington Ave. Damage to both vehicles was reportedly minor.

Traffic Court

Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge John P. Case sentenced a Jeffersonville man to six days in the Fayette County jail Thursday after finding him guilty of driving while intoxicated. The sentenced was issued against Harold E. Osborne, 42, of Jeffersonville. He was fined $200 and costs for the offense and ordered to attend the Laurel Oaks Treatment Center near Wilmington. Washington C.H. police officers had cited Osborne early Thursday morning. They had originally stopped him for a speeding violation and discovered he was driving while under suspension. Judge Case fined him $100 and costs for driving without a license and another $50, plus costs for the speeding violation. In the same incident, police officers had cited Osborne's wife, Crystal, 34, for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle. The Municipal Court judge found Mrs. Osborne not guilty during her hearing Thursday. The Municipal Court received a number of signed waivers for speeding violations Wednesday and Thursday. POLICE Floyd D. Runyon, 18, East Street, $30. PATROL David R. Miss Ohio wins pageant contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss Ohio, Susan Yvonne Perkins, says she tries to cry when she sings the blues so she can "feel the emotion" of her music. It worked for her Thursday when she won the second preliminary talent contest and a $2,000 scholarship with a moving rendition of the Billie Holiday song, "Good Morning, Heartache," at the Miss America Pageant here. "The tears came, but I had to try real hard," said the 23-year-old graduate of Miami (Ohio) University. "I just thought of a very special friend I don't see anymore." Dressed in a purple sequin gown with a fox collar, Miss Perkins of Columbus, drew an ovation from the 8,000 persons at Convention Hall. She was joined in the winners' circle by Miss Arkansas, Bunnie Caroline Holbert, who won the swimsuit competition and a $1,500 scholarship with a formula that could prove to be a nightmare to figure-conscious females. "I eat and drink whatever I want and I never put on any weight," said the bubbly 20-year-old sophomore at Texas Christian University.

4-H Roundup

By JEANNIE ANDERSON
4-H Program Assistant
Touched by some of the series on television about past-family history, many of us are beginning to delve for facts about our own family history. "Why didn't we ask Aunt Sally about that gold-headed cane?" "What was our community like when grandpa lived here?" "Who was the first 4-H volunteer leader in town?" One way you can investigate the recent past is to design an oral history 4-H project to collect on tape reminiscences from the older residents of your town. An oral history project can teach youngsters about local history, introduce them to senior citizens, and involve them in community service. The simplest achievement of the group would be the donation of taped oral history interviews to your library. For a more elaborate project you could publish a magazine, exhibit photographs and quotations for the public; and prepare a slide show recollecting the past, using edited tapes from your narrators.

An oral history 4-H project could involve several 4-H youth with a leader. The project could take 6 to 10 weeks which would include planning the project and conducting interviews. More involved projects such as booklets, exhibitions, and slide-tape shows could be done with this project. With interviews and older citizens, you can preserve the first-hand story of your community for future generations. If you are interested in starting a 4-H project of this type, please contact the Fayette County Extension Service Office at 335-1150 for more information.

Jennifer Thompson

Reference service director named at Carnegie Library

Do you have trouble finding the right reference material for term papers or business presentations? Do you have trouble locating a particular book?

If so, your troubles are over. As of Tuesday, you'll no longer have to wander aimlessly through the Carnegie Public Library searching for that one important document that will perfect your paper or presentation or for the newest novel by your favorite author. The smiling face that will solve your library troubles and end your search belongs to the newest librarian Jennifer Thompson, director of reference services.

Through Miss Thompson's expertise the library is establishing a reference and information service designed to meet everyone's needs from children to businessmen and public officials.

"People need to be aware that the service exists and that the library is upgrading its program," Miss Thompson said. "If we can't handle a problem here, we also have an inter-library loan service with the Ohio State library and Cincinnati Public."

As a graduate of Indiana University's library school, the 23-year-old director is equipped to handle the search for legal, scientific, environmental and economic answers as well as the everyday problems of effectively using the library's services. She is also in charge of overseeing the circulation services.

An additional feature of the new reference service, a first for the Carnegie Library, is telephone references. Any questions about the library's book collection or on specific topics that may be asked on a trip to the library can now also be handled over the phone.

Miss Thompson had little trouble convincing Eric Halverson, library director, to hire her. She first worked for the library as a page in 1968, while a student at Miami Trace High School and continued working there until she left for college. She said Halverson had more or less promised her a job when she graduated.

Her graduation and consequent expertise fit right into the library's board of trustees plans to expand and upgrade the library's services.

Former Kennedy aide succumbs

BOSTON (AP) — Kenneth P. O'Donnell, one of the most trusted and influential members of the Irish corps of political confidants of President John F. Kennedy, died today of an undisclosed ailment. He was 53.

He had been hospitalized since Aug. 11 at Beth Israel Hospital.

Federal agency says cost of solar heat can be cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Electricity generated from sunlight can be made cheap enough for widespread use within five years if the government begins buying solar plants in large numbers, says a federal agency.

The Federal Energy Administration says the cost of solar power for many everyday uses could be brought down if the United States converts conventional power plants to solar units at many federal installations.

Such a move would mean mass production of solar power cells in place of today's handwork industry, a consulting firm says in a report to the FEA.

A preliminary version of the report went largely unnoticed when it was released July 20.

An FEA expert who declined to be identified said Thursday the agency will issue its final report within several weeks. He said the draft version is being reviewed and its basic conclusions are expected to stand.

The report, by a suburban Washington company, is raising the hopes of solar enthusiasts, such as ecologist Barry Commoner, that the world may be on the verge of a clean, safe and virtually everlasting new source of energy.

The report estimates that government spending of $440 million on solar plants over five years could cut the cost of the power cells from the present $15.50 per watt of peak generating capacity to 75 cents or less.

The solar cells could even begin to meet some household electricity needs, the report predicts, besides becoming a major energy source in developing countries where conventional power is very expensive.

Brown urges vote law help

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's secretary of state has urged local board of elections to designate additional county offices to assist in registration procedures in line with the new voter sign-up law.

"To the end of fuller citizen participation in elections and in government, we urged the full cooperation of election officials with other county offices in the effort to register voters," Brown said in a letter.

The election day registration law permits private citizens to pick up registration forms at county offices and sign up voters in door-to-door canvassing or at stationary locations.

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr.,

D-89 New Boston, has asked other county offices to assist election boards in distributing voter registration forms.

"Naturally," Riffe said Thursday, "I am happy that my letters generated a positive response from the secretary of state."

In a letter to county election boards, Brown encouraged the naming of additional "county officials to distribute registration forms to the public."

"The law does not require a designated county official to assist in the completion of a registration form, nor does it require him to be responsible for the return of the form."

Municipal Court

An Octa man, charged with assault, was found guilty of the charge in Washington C.H. Municipal Court Wednesday.

After finding him guilty, Municipal Court Judge John P. Case sentenced Jerry Neal Davis, 30, of Octa, to 10 days in the Fayette County jail and fined him $100 and costs. Fayette County sheriff's deputies had served Davis on Aug. 30 with a warrant to appear in court. The warrant stemmed from an Aug. 28 incident.

Davis' involvement in that incident and consequent conviction violated a previous suspended sentence, which Judge Case had ordered last June 21. The Municipal Court judge ordered Wednesday that previous 10-day sentence he reimposed. He committed Davis to the county jail for a total of 20 days. Davis will also serve out his fine in jail.

The case against a local man charged with aggravated menacing was discontinued Thursday in Municipal Court.

Judge Case ordered the prosecution of Jack L. Anders, 25, of 632 E. Paint St., discontinued after the motion was requested by the state's attorney Michael J. Lander.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies had arrested Anders on the menacing charge on July 30 following a disturbance at the Fayette County fair.

Welcome mat out for '77 season

Crystal ball sees Lions, MT as winners

By MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Welcome to the 1977 high school football season. Miami Trace, whose trophy case is already overflowing with gold footballs, looks for its fourth consecutive South Central Ohio League championship. It would tie them with Greenfield McClain for the most consecutive titles.

Washington C.H. will try to rebound from a mediocre 5-5 season. Second year coach Paul Ondrus has a year behind him and some good returnees and talented underclassmen should help the Lions' chances.

Greenfield McClain, although they lost their entire backfield, should be vastly improved this season and Wilmington, with the services of Gary Williams, should be in the midst of the title fight. They tied for second place in the league last season.

Circleville is faced with a so-called rebuilding year and Teays Valley, a newcomer to the league, lost several starters from last year's 3-7 squad. Hillsboro and Madison Plains have new coaches and hopes for turn-arounds from recent years.

Last year's predictions ended at 39 for 59, a poor 66 per cent average from the sports department. This year we will try to improve especially after being 1 for 7 on last year's opening night.

DELAWARE HAYES AT MIAMI TRACE

The Big Black Offensive Machine, dormant for the past 42 weeks, cranks up its engine for another 10 week stint. After last year's much chronicled season when the Panthers ripped everyone apart at the seams, fans don't quite know what to expect. They can't improve much over last year.

Delaware Hayes replaces Springfield Northeastern as the Panthers' opening opponents. To say the least, the Pacers will be much more formidable opposition for Trace than was Springfield.

Hayes has a big line and some pretty good offensive players. But, Art Schlichter will be doing his thing on the other side of the line. And by the time Schlichter's aerial bombs hit their mark, Trace will have one down and nine to go. . . Miami Trace 42, Delaware Hayes 6.

WELLSTON AT WASHINGTON C.H.

Wellston, who lost to Washington last year by a 33-15 score, is in worse shape than they were last year. All seven linemen graduated from last year's squad and their entire backfield is filled with sophomores and juniors.

But, Washington is also in worse shape than they were last year. Jeff Elliott, the player who scored four touchdowns versus the Rockets last year, is sidelined with a shoulder separation.

This will be the first real test for the Lion offense, starting over from last year. The names Heiny, Elliott and Mercer will be replaced with the names of Todd Terrell, John Heinz and Larry Brickles. They're unproven, but they're eager and talented. . . Washington C.H. 20, Wellston 8.

TEAYS VALLEY AT MCCLAIN

Greenfield McClain unleashes one of the most awesome defenses around as the Vikings open their league season. McClain is paced by all-state lineman Brett Robinson, one of the biggest and best around.

Teays Valley has a brand new coach after going 3-7 in each of the last two years. McClain with Fred Brisker back at the helm will be trying to improve on last season's tie for second place in the SCOL.

Greenfield is almost unstoppable at home and even with a suspect offense, they shouldn't make Teays Valley feel very welcome in their new league. . . McClain 24, Teays Valley 0.

CIRCLEVILLE AT CHILLICOTHE

Circleville begins a season that they are not accustomed to. The Tigers, powerhouses throughout the 1970's, are faced with a rare rebuilding year. After sharing the SCOL crown with Miami Trace in 1974, the Tigers have dropped to second and fourth the last two years. This year, their fate shouldn't be much better.

Chillicothe is rich in football tradition, like Circleville, but they have a problem of losing key players at the skill positions, also. Fleet-footed Mike Fairrow has graduated and he ran the 100 in 9.8 seconds.

The Cavaliers had a small taste of SCOL action last year they nipped Washington C.H., 12-6. This game should be about as close. . . Chillicothe 15, Circleville 12.

XENIA AT WILMINGTON

Wilmington is slated to be in a fight for the SCOL title. They hold the distinction of being the last team not to lose to Miami Trace. They tied the Panthers, 6-6, back in 1975.

Gary Williams won't have the quarterbacking duties to worry about this year as he moves back to his more familiar (and dangerous) tailback spot. Williams can now concentrate on running with the football and that is bad news for teams around Clinton County.

Xenia knocked off the Hurricane in last year's opener on the Buccaneer field, 19-14. Turn about is fair play. . . Wilmington 16, Xenia 10.

HILLSBORO AT NEW RICHMOND

Hillsboro got one of their two wins last year on opening night, knocking off New Richmond, 13-12. With a new coach in Jerry Peters, the Indians are trying to instill a little pride back in the Hillsboro football program.

The job is easier said than done. Starting quarterback and cornerback Tyler Woods has graduated as have Steve Kelch and Tom Addington, leaving three big holes to fill. But, Peters have several lineman hold-overs and they are being counted on to turn the Indians around.

Hillsboro looks to be a bit improved over last year, and New Richmond looks to have stayed about the same. . . Hillsboro 14, New Richmond 12.

MADISON PLAINS AT WESTFALL

The Golden Eagles pulled the shocker of last year, defeating Westfall in the opener, 13-12. Then, they proceeded to lose their next nine in a row, plummeting into the SCOL basement.

The Mustangs did not care for being the only victims of a 1-9 team and will probably be out for revenge. And with the game being played in the Mustang corral, Plains should have their losing streak extended to 10. . . Westfall 20, Madison Plains 0.

Reds ready for 'the last hope'

CINCINNATI (AP) — "You can call it 'The Last Hope' series."

Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench was accepting a hard, cold fact. The days appear to be numbered for the once-proud Reds.

"To be realistic, we don't have much of a chance," said Bench as the Reds prepared to open a three-game home stand tonight against arch-rival Los Angeles. The Dodgers hold a commanding 12½-game lead over the defending world champions in the National League Western Division.

Fred Norman, 14-10 and winner of five straight, faces Tommy John, 17-5, in the series opener.

The Dodgers lowered the magic number for eliminating the Reds to 10 with a 5-4 victory over Atlanta Thursday night while Cincinnati snapped a three-game losing streak.

And the Reds overcame two Willie McCovey homers to stop San Francisco 6-5 on George Foster's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

"We're due for a comeback, but it's probably too late," said Bench.

The Reds, with 21 games remaining, trail the Dodgers by 13 games in the loss column.

Foster called the sacrifice fly "more satisfying" than his 46th homer the night before because it kept Cincinnati's fading hopes alive.

Facing Giants' reliever Randy Moffitt, a victim of a Foster grand slam a couple years ago, the major leagues' home run and RBI leader ended the game by driving in his 130th run of the season.

"He gave me a pitch I could handle," said Foster, who is threatening the all-time club record of 148 RBI set in 1970 by Bench.

Pete Rose scored the winning run after reaching first on an error by McCovey. He then stole second, and went to third on Ken Griffey's infield hit. Moffitt, now 3-8, intentionally walked Joe Morgan.

The Giants had battered rookie Paul Moskauer for three in the first, but the Reds countered with four in the same inning off Charlie Williams.

Pedro Borbon, 8-4, picked up the victory with three innings of five hit relief. He allowed a run in the ninth that permitted the Giants to tie it.

McCovey's 25th and 26th homers of the season gave him 491 for his career, one shy of 12th place on the all-time list, which is held by Lou Gehrig.

Pittsburgh winning, waiting

Trainer's joke helps Pirates win

By The Associated Press

All the Pittsburgh Pirates can do now is win and wait. But trailing six games behind Philadelphia in the National League East with 22 games left in their season, the Pirates have not lost their sense of humor.

Before Thursday night's game against the St. Louis Cardinals, Pirates trainer Tony Bartirome announced in the locker room that the New York Mets had beaten Philadelphia, 3-1.

"The guy said, 'All right, we gotta go,'" said Pirates outfielder Dave Parker. The Pirates went, all right, beating St. Louis 9-5 with the help of Parker's two-run homer in the seventh.

But, as it turned out, Bartirome was just having a little joke. Philadelphia actually beat the Mets, 8-2.

"The guys all laughed at Tony's joke, and I think that's good because we can't crawl into a hole just because the Phillies win," said Parker. "You've got some competitors here, and if the Phillies beat us, they'll know they've earned it."

"But I'm still thinking positive. They could go into a slump."

Pittsburgh has won four of its last five games, including two over Philadelphia in a three-game set last Monday and Tuesday. But in that time, the Pirates have managed to shave only a single game off the Phils' lead.

"If we win eight straight games," said Pirates Manager Chuck Tanner, "something is going to happen. I can feel it."

In the rest of the NL Thursday night, Chicago edged Montreal 3-2 in 10 innings, Los Angeles nipped Atlanta 5-4 in 11 innings, Cincinnati beat San Francisco 6-5 and Houston downed San Diego 7-1.

Parker's homer was his 19th of the season and put the Pirates in front of St. Louis to stay. With one out in the seventh, Miguel Dilone walked and stole second. He scored one out later when Phil Garner doubled off St. Louis reliever Rawley Eastwick. Al Hrabosky relieved Eastwick, and Parker smacked his two-run homer.

Phils 8, Mets 2

Philadelphia let New York get a 2-0 lead, then shelled Mets reliever Bob Apodaca for three homers in the seventh. Bake McBride led off the seventh with his 15th homer of the season. Mike Schmidt smacked his 34th, and Jay Johnstone hit his 13th.

Cubs 3, Expos 2

Dave Buckner's sacrifice fly in the 10th to give the Cubs their victory. Cubs reliever Bruce Sutter, 6-1, struck out the first six batters he faced to tie an NL record for consecutive strikeouts.

Dodgers 5, Braves 4

Dusty Baker homered and scored the winning run in the 11th on Dave Lopes' sacrifice fly to give Los Angeles its victory over the Braves. Ron Cey also homered for the Dodgers in the second inning, his 28th of the season, and scored on a passed ball in the eighth when Los Angeles took a 4-3 lead.

Reds 6, Giants 5

George Foster's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the ninth inning drove in the winning run and allowed Cincinnati to snap a three-game losing streak.

Astros 7, Padres 1

Roger Metzger tripled with the bases loaded in Houston's five-run sixth inning, and Floyd Bannister, 6-8, scattered seven hits as the Astros handed San Diego only its third loss in the last 10.

Connors routs Orantes at Open

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Back problems and past accomplishments notwithstanding, Jimmy Connors may be a greater contender now than ever.

"It may be the best I ever saw him play, on clay especially," said Spain's Manuel Orantes, who lost to Connors Thursday night, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, in the most hotly-contested match yet in the nine days of the U.S. Open tennis championships.

Connors enters the semifinals against Corrado Barazzutti, the little-known Italian who thrashed the tournament's third-seed Brian Gottfried of Lauderhill, Fla., 6-2, 6-1, 6-2 Thursday.

Orantes had been considered one of the men who could take Connors down a peg in this Open. He did it in 1975 after Jimmy's brilliant 1974 season, and took him in straight sets this summer in the finals of the U.S. Clay Court Championship at Indianapolis.

The sell-out crowd of 12,497 watched as Connors hit deep, sledge-hammer shots frequently right on the line or in the corners. Orantes' ground stroke seemed aimless, particularly off his backhand.

"I've played a few good matches on clay," said Connors, the 25-year-old from Belleville, Ill., who is the defending champion here but second-seeded behind Sweden's Bjorn Borg, who defaulted earlier this week.

Bengals aim for fifth straight win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Aiming for a fifth straight victory, the Cincinnati Bengals can wrap up their second-best preseason in the club's 10-year history Saturday night by getting past the Chicago Bears.

Quarterback Ken Anderson, normally the catalyst of Cincinnati's high scoring attack, tries to rebound from one of his worst pro outings.

The Bengals are the highest scoring team of the preseason, despite a lackluster offensive showing in last week's 26-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings. Cincinnati's defense turned the tide, powered by interception returns of 96 and 57 yards by defensive backs Jerry Anderson and Marvin

Cobb.

The only loss was a 23-20 setback to the Green Bay Packers when Ken Anderson and a halfdozen veterans were held out of action.

In 1971, Cincinnati had a 5-0-1 preseason record, but fell victim to a siege of injuries, losing seven of its first eight games on the way to a 4-10 season.

The Bears, who opened with three straight victories, including a 20-13 triumph over Super Bowl champion Oakland, have since suffered defeats to Cleveland, 14-7, and St. Louis, 23-14.

Walter Payton, a 1,000-yard rusher last year, heads up an improved offense which features a duel at quarterback between veteran Mike Phipps and Bob Avellini.

The Bengals managed only 21 passing yards in their victory over Minnesota as Anderson suffered three first-half interceptions while completing only five of 13 passes for 19 yards.

The preseason finale could give the Bengals' highly-regarded defense its best test. Cincinnati has outscored its last four opponents 121-29, and has not yielded a point in the third quarter in the five games.

Richmond stays alive versus Sox

By The Associated Press

An unearned run in the eighth inning kept Richmond alive in its International League semifinal playoff series with Pawtucket Thursday night.

The run gave the Braves a 2-1 victory and another chance to catch up to Pawtucket, now holding a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five-games series going into game No. 4 tonight.

The Braves got the tie-breaking run when Billy Hunter dropped a throw at second base on an attempted forceout following singles by Pete Varney and Chico Ruiz.

A triple by Hunter behind a single by Ted Cox had given the Pawsox a tie in the top of the eighth after the Braves scored the game's first run in the seventh on a triple by Jimmie Collins and a fielders' choice by Murphy.

Ricky Mahler went the first eight innings for the Braves, scattering eight hits.

WCH golf team evens mark

The Washington C.H. golf team evened its record at 2-2 for the season, defeating East Clinton last night by a score of 174-213. John Moore was medalist with a 40 followed by Jerry Mount with a 43, Willie Hatfield with a 45 and Jeff Scott and Gary Fisher each with a 46.

The Lion reserves also won their match with East Clinton, 204-239. Scott Douglass was medalist with a 43.

The record is even now after Wednesday night's double loss to Circleville and Bexley. It was previously reported that Court House lost their initial match versus Unioto. In reality, they won by a 165-181.

Here is a complete schedule for the remaining matches for the Blue Lions: Sept. 12 -- Greenfield come-from-behind victory.

Crash, driven by Hall of Famer Billy Haughton, led the entire mile until he yielded to Super Clint in the final yards. Crash went the first quarter in :28, the half-mile in :57 4-5 and three quarters in 1:26 3-5.

Crash, who had never lost to Super Clint, settled for second. The other half of the Jack Kopas Stable entry, Nat Lobell, took third place and Thorpe Messenger was fourth in the eight-horse field.

Super Clint's unexpected victory, only his third in 22 starts this season, created a happy numbers game for Kopas in the Little Brown Jug.

Michigan-Ohio State show again

By JOE MOOSHIL
AP Sports Writer

Iowa Coach Bob Commings said, "I've got a feeling it's going to be a wacky Big Ten football season."

If Commings is right, it could be an interesting season for a change. If not, it figures to be the same old story—Michigan and Ohio State.

Michigan's Wolverines, ranked No. 2 nationally, are the favorites although the title probably will not be decided until they face the fifth-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes Nov. 19 at Ann Arbor.

This is virtually the same Michigan team which defeated Ohio State 22-0 at Columbus last season to gain a share of the championship.

Tailback Rob Lytle and wingback Jim Smith are gone but everyone else is back with Harlan Huckelby and Russell Davis ready to replace the departed stars.

Junior quarterback Rick Leach is the hub of an offense which could go to the forward pass more this time than in previous seasons. The offensive line is back intact and as Coach Bo Schembechler bluntly put it, "Michigan always has a defense."

The Wolverines open their drive for a Big Ten and national title Saturday at Illinois. Wisconsin is at Indiana, Northwestern at Iowa and Purdue at Michigan State. Ohio State takes on Miami of Florida and Minnesota faces Western Michigan in nonconference games.

Ohio State and Minnesota catch up with conference play the following week at Columbus in what might be a pretty good test for the Buckeyes.

"Ohio State will have a good football team," said Coach Woody Hayes, whose Buckeyes are ranked fifth. Eight starters are back on defense and the offense figures to be more versatile and speedier than last season.

Rod Gerald has recovered from injuries and will be at quarterback with Jeff Logan and Ron Springs shifting between tailback and fullback. Ohio State will not have the traditional power fullback and the Buckeyes will go for the big play.

With the possible exception of Northwestern, any one of the other seven teams has a chance to finish third. Last year four teams tied for third with 4-4 records and the other three were 3-5 while Northwestern occupied the cellar at 1-7.

Iowa and Minnesota will have formidable defenses and both Commings and Cal Stoll eagerly are awaiting the start of the season.

"This is the best team I've had since I've been here," said Stoll. "We've got a pretty good defense and that's where it all starts."

Iowa was third in defense last season but "We led the Big Ten in turnovers and penalties," said Commings. "We're going to be pretty good if we stay intact."

John Jardine at Wisconsin promises his defenses will "intimidate people." The Badgers have had little trouble moving the ball in the past and usually have productive and entertaining offenses.

Defense also has been a problem at Michigan State and if Coach Darryl Rogers develops one, watch out.

Quarterback Eddie Smith, who threw for 1,749 yards and 13 touchdowns, is back again with his No. 1 target, Kirk Gibson.

Lee Corso is still up high because of Indiana's victory over Purdue and said, "We have everyone back on offense who started in the Purdue game." That includes Mike Harkrader, the first Big Ten freshman to gain 1,000 yards.

Gary Moeller at Illinois and Jim Young at Purdue are the new coaches in the Big Ten. Both are former Schembechler aides. Young had four seasons at Arizona where he played some open football and promises to develop a passing attack at Purdue.

Moeller insists Illinois will not be rebuilding and feels he has some talent at the skilled positions including quarterback Kurt Steger, running back James Coleman and split end Eric Rouse. The schedule could be Moeller's biggest headache. Missouri follows Michigan and the Illini then go to Stanford.

Northwestern managed but one victory last season and will be without quarterback Randy Dean, tailback Greg Boykin and wide receiver Scott Yelvington. Still, Coach John Pont insists he'll have a better team.

"We'll be better if we win two games but I expect more than that," said Pont.

Fisk blast two more HR's

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Don Zimmer is giving his Boston Red Sox the green light on 3-0 pitches this year. And they're all having a blast.

Carlton Fisk is among the latest to enjoy the free-swinging luxury.

"Zimmer has given us pretty free rein with the 3-0 pitch this year," said Fisk after driving in five runs with two homers Thursday night to lead the Red Sox to a 7-2 rout of the Toronto Blue Jays.

One of Carlton's home runs, a three-run shot in the second inning, came on a three-ball, no-strike pitch from Toronto's Jesse Jefferson.

"About 97 per cent of the time, a 3-0 pitch is going to be down the middle," said Zimmer, expounding on his theory. "And from 78 to 80 per cent of the time, the 3-1 pitch is going to be a slider. So why not give the batter a better pitch to hit?"

Of course, Zimmer's revolutionary idea is in direct opposition to the general baseball strategy to take the 3-0 pitch on the theory that it might result in a walk.

But the Red Sox manager would prefer to see the long ball from his slugging team.

"I don't think there's one player on this team that hasn't hit a 3-0 pitch this year," he notes. "It has won at least one other ballgame for us; when our shortstop (Rick Burleson) hit a game-winning double earlier this season."

"Of course, I've also been criticized when the player swinging away hits into a double play or something."

In other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles blanked the Detroit Tigers 4-0; the New York Yankees clipped the Cleveland Indians 4-3; the California Angels beat the Chicago White Sox twice, 2-0 and 3-2, and the Kansas City Royals stopped the Seattle Mariners 7-2.

Orioles 4, Tigers 0
Jim Palmer fired a four-hitter to lead

Baltimore over Detroit. Palmer, 15-11, struck out three and walked one as he notched his third shutout of the season and 45th of his career.

The Orioles broke a scoreless tie in the seventh off Bob Sykes, 4-5, when DeCinces walked with two out, stole second and scored on Mark Belanger's single.

Yankees 4, Indians 3
A sacrifice fly by Chris Chambliss capped a three-run fifth inning that carried New York over Cleveland. Ed Figueroa, 14-9, went all the way for the 11th time this season, limiting the Indians to eight hits as the Yankees gained their third straight victory and 10th in the last 12 starts.

Angels 2-3, White Sox 0-2
Nolan Ryan notched his 19th victory with relief help from Dave LaRoche and Don Baylor rapped his 21st homer to boost California over Chicago in the first game of their twilight doubleheader.

The Angels won the second game with a three-run rally in the ninth inning capped by Lerrin LaGrow's run-producing wild pitch with the bases loaded.

Royals 7, Mariners 2
Darrell Porter socked two home runs and John Mayberry, Frank White and Hal McRae each blasted one as Kansas whipped Seattle. Dennis Leonard, 16-11, notched his 16th complete game of the season with a six-hitter.

Miami has no chance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lou Saban has been coaching football 25 years and always feels his team can win its opener. An exception may be 1977.

"I've never gone into an opening game in my life," said the University of Miami (Fla.) coach, "thinking I had no chance to win."

Then Saban looked at fifth-ranked Ohio State, his Saturday opponent, and said, "It would take a miracle. And there aren't many miracle men left."

The host Buckeyes, playing before their 51st Ohio Stadium sellout of almost 87,000, are 21-point favorites in their first meeting ever with the Hurricanes.

Still, Saban sees a ray of hope, saying, "Our players are optimistic. As long as you're optimistic, you've got a chance."

Miami has a veteran team of 13 regulars from the squad that waded into an awesome schedule under Carl Selmer last year.

At county fairgrounds

Night Owls schedule jamboree Sept. 18, 19

Unless you think only citizens band radio buffs can enjoy King's Island, country music and square dancing, the Fayette County Night Owls Citizens Band Radio Club Jamboree is for you.

Slated Sept. 17 and 18 at the Fayette County Fairgrounds, the jamboree offers something for everyone, even if they don't know the difference between a "breaker" and a "ten-four."

The Night Owls will give away more than $1,200 in door prizes during the two-day fund-raising event, and none of the door prizes have anything to do with CB radios.

The top prize will be an all-expense-paid trip to King's Island. The club will provide a pass for four persons and $50 expense money for either Oct. 8 or 9.

Everyone attending the jamboree will automatically become eligible for the more than 75 door prizes. Several drawings will be held each hour. Door prize winners must be present to win. Each person attending will receive one free door prize ticket. Additional tickets may be purchased.

No one need fear standing around waiting for the drawings to be held. Saturday, Sept. 17, Carl Wilt and the Country Boys will provide dance music. In addition, there will be a square dance demonstration followed by square dancing for everyone.

Sunday, two different bands will entertain. Country Roads of London, and The Saharas of Greenfield will play throughout the day. Plenty of home-cooked food and soft drinks will be available both days.

MORE THAN just a CB club, the Night Owls have become a very active community service organization. The proceeds from the jamboree are used to assist the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce, the Fayette County Children's Home, provide scholarships for students from Washington Senior and Miami Trace high schools, and several other projects. The club has worked with the local law-enforcement agencies in establishing the CB Crime Busters program and has assisted many families hit by personal hardships.

The club sells tickets for a grand prize drawing geared to CB'ers. The grand prize is a $600 Yaesu base CB unit. Second prize is a car CB outfit. However, the other grand prizes include a portable television and $300 in cash.

These prizes are in addition to the door prizes, and the winners need not be present.

The door prizes have been donated by area businesses and include a wide variety of goods and services. Among them are gift certificates, luggage, home appliances, meals at area restaurants, savings bonds, and many more too numerous to mention. More than $900 in merchandise has been donated. The club will also give away $50 cash each hour Sunday. Door prize ticket-holders will be eligible for the hourly cash prizes.

Why not mark your calendar for some fine entertainment and outstanding prizes Sept. 17 and 18?

There will be special games, prizes, and entertainment for children so that the whole family can attend. The jamboree will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday and at 10 a.m. Sunday. The first drawing will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday and at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Publisher dares county attorney

ATLANTA (AP) — Publisher Larry Flynt is out to get arrested for selling his "soft core pornography" magazines, Hustler and Chic.

On Thursday, Flynt dared Fulton County Solicitor General Hinson McAuliffe, who has recently arrested several magazine sellers on obscenity charges, to arrest him for selling the magazines in a downtown bookstore.

But McAuliffe, who refused to comment on the matter, did not appear by about 1 p.m., and Flynt left the store, vowing to continue selling the magazines until he is arrested and can take the case to court.

After Flynt left, the copies of Hustler were removed by the store's owner, who leased the shop to Flynt for the day.

Flynt, who is free on bond pending appeal of an obscenity conviction in Ohio, said he was "in the pornography business, not the obscenity business."

Getty's estate being settled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first phase of settling the $700 million estate of J. Paul Getty has ended with debts being cleared up and taxes paid, administrators say.

"Mr. Getty had no debts to speak of and taxes were relatively modest because he left the bulk of his estate to charity," said Edward Landry, attorney for Title Insurance, an executor of the estate along with Getty's sons.

New optometry office

Optometrist opens office after ex-partner retires

Long-time Washington C.H. optometrist Dr. William Limes, 606 Highland Ave., has retired from private practice after nearly 40 years of serving the community.

Limes, 71, first opened practice in Washington C.H. in 1938. In 1971, he took on Dr. Michael J. Riggilo as a partner in his 121 W. Market St. offices. Prior to establishing a local practice, Limes served Columbus clients for five years.

Born in Fayette County near New Martinsburg, he attended Greenfield's McClain High School. Limes then attended Ohio State University receiving his degree in optometry in 1933. He was a member of the Epsilon Psi Optometric fraternity while a student at OSU.

In 1940, Limes joined the Washington C.H. Rotary Club and was chairman of the board of trustees for the Grace United Methodist Church when the new church was constructed. He was also a member of the Ohio State American Optometric Association.

During his 39 odd years of local practice, Limes attended two international optometric conferences, one in Ireland in 1965, and the other in Paris in 1972.

In his retirement Limes and his wife, Rose, will take life easy overseeing production on their farm in Clinton County. The Limes have two daughters, Mrs. Mary Jane Ousley of West Carrollton and Mrs. Carolyn Niemiller of Bedford, Ind.

In the wake of Limes' retirement, former partner Dr. Michael J. Riggilo set up his services in a recently constructed commercial building at 1201 E. Temple St. Riggilo, who practiced optometry with Limes for five years, opened the brand new offices for business on Thursday.

Although, he is still unpacking from the recent move, Riggilo said he hopes to return to fully treating his clients by Saturday or Monday. His receptionist is in the process of notifying patients of the move through Riggilo's recall system, in which patients are reminded of upcoming examinations.

Originally from Columbus, Riggilo joined Limes' practice in 1971, after a two-year stint in a U.S. Army eye clinic. He entered the service upon graduating with his doctor's degree in optometry from Ohio State University.

With the architectural services of Gale Helms and Associates of Washington C.H., Riggilo said he tried to design the new offices so they would fit into the city's environment and on the inside allow people to feel comfortable.

He said the move was made because the old location did not provide adequate parking and hopefully the new office will help him better serve area residents.

For his regular patients, Riggilo's office hours and telephone numbers will remain the same.

The young optometrist and his wife, Betty, have a 2-year-old daughter, Brandy, and are expecting a second child in October.

Jaycee chapter raises $400 in Labor Day roadblock

The Washington C.H. Jaycee chapter has donated $403.42 to the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The money was raised at a roadblock established by the Jaycees on E. Market Street on Labor Day. Bob Bishop was the committee chairman. This is the first full year the U.S. Jaycees have been associated with the telethon and the third consecutive year the local chapter has manned a roadblock.

Due the recent resignation of chapter president Clem Edwards, a special presidential election has been held. Edwards has accepted a position with Redman Industries, Inc., Topeka, Ind.

Vernon Stanforth, administrator of the Comprehensive Employment

Training Act (CETA) program in Washington C.H., has been elected as the chapter president.

Named to serve as advisors in the Junior Achievement program were Tony Pack, Stanforth, Mark Hartman, Randy Roush and Bishop. This marks the eighth consecutive year the local chapter has provided advisors.

Pack, the Community Education program director, was inducted as a new member by Sonny Knapp, of Sabina, a district director. Pack was the fifth new member of the local chapter since the beginning of the fiscal year. He was sponsored by Stanforth.

Reports were presented by chairmen of several Jaycee programs and projects.

Business news

Realty firm here recognized

Century 21, a national association of over 4,000 independently owned and operated real estate offices, has accorded special recognition to Realtors Bob and Steve Lewis who represent the association locally.

The Lewis' and their business associates are holding open houses at five different locations in Washington C.H. from 2 until 5 p.m. Sunday.

The Lewis agency, affiliated with Century 21 since April, is now represented by seven full-time real estate associates.

The achievement of five open houses simultaneously is a major one for a city the size of Washington C.H., according to Century 21 officials.

NEW BEAUTY SALON

Mrs. Shirley (Oates) Thompson, a local hairdresser, will open the Backyard Boutique beauty salon behind her home at 514 E. Market St. on Sept. 13.

Mrs. Thompson, a former employee of Connie's Coiffures, will own and operate the new salon.

To force Park's return

Solon plans to cut aid to South Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New York congressman says he may try again in his effort to cut U.S. aid to South Korea to force Seoul into returning indicted rice dealer Tongsun Park to the United States.

Rep. Bruce Caputo, R-N.Y., whose amendment to reduce food aid to Seoul was defeated 205-181 Thursday, said he may reintroduce it if Park is not returned to face charges and questioning by congressional investigators.

The House vote came several hours

after a top South Korean official said his government could not force Park to return to the United States to face bribery charges arising from an alleged scheme to buy influence in Congress.

Caputo's amendment would have cut American food aid overseas by $108 million, stipulating that Congress wanted the deletion to be made in the aid earmarked for Seoul. South Korea receives about that amount in commodity assistance from the United States.

He argued for the cut in Food for Peace aid because "through this program Tongsun Park perpetrated his frauds against this Congress."

Park is accused in the 36-count indictment handed down last week with using commissions from sales of Korean rice in attempts to buy influence for the Korean government with several congressmen.

The House also defeated a second amendment that would have halted all American assistance, including military aid, to South Korea.

The vote on that amendment, by Rep. Andrew Jacobs, D-Ind., was 268-120.

In Seoul on Thursday, Foreign Minister Park Tong-jin said his government cannot legally force Park to return to the United States.

He said South Korea had asked Park, at the request of the United States, to return, and maintained that his government is cooperating with the United States.

Earlier, the South Korean news agency quoted the foreign minister as saying Seoul "finds no reason to turn over its national merely on the ground that he is suspected of having violated foreign law."

Caputo said the foreign minister's statements leave the United States "with few cards left to play."

Caputo told reporters he was surprised at the support his amendment received, although it did not pass.

"I feel the vote definitely was a signal to the South Korean government," he said, adding that his amendment was an attempt to induce "reasonable cooperation" from Seoul.

South Korea and the United States do not have an extradition treaty. Park had been living in London, but returned to Seoul last month after reports that Washington might try to have Great Britain return him.

Earlier, President Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, said Carter had written South Korean President Park Chunghee, "in attempts to secure testimony" from the rice dealer.

Meanwhile, in South Korea, Tongsun Park was called in for his second interrogation session with the Seoul Prosecution Office since he returned Aug. 18.

Coffee Break . . .

THE CHILDREN'S department of the Carnegie Public Library is planning a full schedule of story-hour programs aimed at four and five years olds.

According to Mrs. Kathleen Halverson, children's librarian, the storyhours are being offered as an important pre-school experience for young people. The weekly storyhours introduce children to the experience of being away from their parents; a step towards independence. Children are helped to develop the ability to become a part of a group. They learn to share the attention of an adult with other children. Storyhour is also an opportunity for the preschooler to be with children his or her own age.

According to Mrs. Halverson, the storyhour experience introduces the children to outstanding books as well as enabling them to become familiar with the records, cassettes, filmstrips and other materials offered by the library for home enjoyment.

Dates for registration will be announced in the near future.

and so I will say this," he said, almost apologetically. "There were a substantial number of different reasons why five years ago I opted for silence. One of them is that if I don't want you to know something, I simply will not speak about it to you. If I say something to you, I will tell you the truth."

Liddy's plan had been to speak to a few invited reporters. Instead, the rented hotel suite was jammed with reporters, cameras and microphones. One network, ABC, had him to itself first.

Liddy told ABC's Barbara Walters that he took the blame for Watergate by design because "I was the captain of the aircraft carrier when it stuck the reef."

But Liddy said he didn't take the blame in vain. "No, I think I delayed things substantially," he said.

Ducey to receive honorary college degree

Record-Herald Editor

When you have expertise in a certain field, it pays to share.

At least that's what Edwin Ducey of Washington C.H. recently learned.

Ducey, 1717 Green Valley Road, a local tax consultant, will receive an honorary doctorate of law degree from the Cincinnati Technical College at the college's commencement exercises at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 18 on the campus at 3520 Central Parkway.

"We wish to thank you for sharing with us your taxation law expertise in several Cincinnati Technical College seminars," said Frederick B. Schlimm, college president in a letter to Ducey.

"In addition, your taxation books are used in our business courses. You, Mr. Ducey, have contributed greatly to the educational development of our students," the letter said.

The Cincinnati college is not alone in receiving assistance from Ducey.

He has authored numerous fiscal surveys covering counties, townships, schools and municipal corporations, as well as handbooks and guides for county auditors and treasurers. He presently serves as the legislative agent for the Ohio Association of County Treasurers and has been a frequent witness before committees of the Ohio House of Representatives and Ohio Senate on tax matters.

Among the awards and citations received by Ducey over the years are the distinguished service award of the American Society for Public Administration, the society's outstanding public employee in 1969-1970, an outstanding service award from the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals, an award of merit from the Ohio Legal Center Institute, an award for outstanding and dedicated service from the Ohio Association of County Treasurers and awards from the Ohio County Auditors Association in 1967 and 1972.

Additionally, he has received commendations from the Ohio House of Representatives during the 109th and 110th sessions of the Ohio General Assembly, a proclamation from former Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan in 1972, and a resolution from the Ohio Senate during the 110th Ohio General Assembly session.

EDWIN DUCEY

Ducey began work in the local government field Feb. 15, 1935 as a Fayette County deputy auditor. Following service as Washington C.H.'s city manager and a budget analyst and tax research specialist for the Ohio Public Expenditures Council, he joined the Ohio Department of Taxation in May 1949 as a field examiner.

In early 1950 he was named assistant chief of the division of county affairs for the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals and was named chief of the division in 1961. He served in the capacity until his retirement Dec. 31, 1972.

In New York mayoralty primary

Voters defeat Beame, Abzug

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Abraham D. Beame and former Rep. Bella S. Abzug were sent to stinging defeats in a mayoralty primary of dark horses that ended in a near dead heat today.

It was the biggest voter turnout in New York City primary history.

The victors in the most crowded Democratic field in memory are two moderate-liberal politicians who were not given much chance a few months ago and who will face each other in a runoff primary Sept. 19.

They are Rep. Edward I. Koch, 52, from the Silk Stocking district of Manhattan's East Side, and Secretary of State Mario Cuomo, 45, who ran at the urging and with the active support of Democratic Gov. Hugh L. Carey.

Beame, who came in third, is the first mayor turned out of office since Vincent Impellitteri lost to Robert Wagner

a quarter of a century ago.

Beame's term in City Hall was marked by New York's gravest financial crisis since the Depression. A Securities and Exchange Commission report released 10 days ago said he had concealed the city's financial shape while promoting sale of its bonds.

Koch and Cuomo emerged from a field of seven candidates to face each other in the runoff primary because no candidate received 40 per cent of the vote. In fact, no one received more than 20 per cent.

With all but 29 of 4,763 precincts counted, Koch was one percentage point ahead of Cuomo.

On Nov. 1, the winner will face liberal state Sen. Roy M. Goodman, who defeated radio talk-show host Barry Farber in the Republican primary. Farber continues as the Conservative party nominee, while Cuomo is on the November ballot as the Liberal party's candidate.

The 71-year-old Beame, who began his public career in 1946 and became the city's 104th mayor, tearfully pledged his support to the future mayor, "whomever that person may be."

"I gave this city every ounce of my strength and my fullest devotion during its most trying years of crisis," New York's first Jewish mayor declared. "I have not let this city down."

Defeated last year in a race for the U.S. Senate seat now occupied by Daniel Patrick Moynihan, Mrs. Abzug, 57, said in her concession speech, "We're not stopping here."

New Yorkers went to the polls on a day of hazy sunshine, breaking the record for a turnout in a Democratic mayoral primary of 783,133, set in 1973.

The Democratic turnout vote was 47 per cent of 1,922,551 eligible voters, compared with 32.2 per cent of 2,431,700 in 1973. These were the tallies:

Koch, 179,340, 20 per cent; Cuomo, 169,932, 19 per cent; Beame, 162,647, 18 per cent; Abzug, 150,439, 17 per cent; Manhattan Borough President Percy Sutton, 130,583, 14 per cent; Rep. Herman Badillo, a Puerto Rican, 99,744, 11 per cent; businessman Joel Harnett, 14,100, 1 per cent.

On the Republican side, Goodman got 44,559 votes, or 56 per cent, and Farber, 34,704, or 44 per cent.

Feeling pays off as man wins $1,000 a week prize

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gerald Reed says he doesn't normally win things but he had a positive feeling about winning Thursday.

That feeling paid off when the 32-year-old Chesterland man won $1,000 a week for life in the Ohio Lottery Grand Prize drawing.

Reed, an elevator installer, said he felt "elated, to say the least."

Reed says he will use the money to pay for the education of his children later on, and provide security for his family. He said he would like to keep on working.

He and his 29-year-old wife, the former Linda Tretera of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, are still getting up in the middle of the night with their second son, 6-week-old Eric. Their older son, Gregory, is 4.

Reed said he knows the big win will change his family's life but he hopes the change will be only for the better. "It could put a strain on my family, but I'm going to take caution against that," he said.

Talking with reporters after winning, Reed said he hadn't had a chance to speak with his wife yet "but I think she's still crying."

Zero Motel dead at 62

NEW YORK (AP) — Zero Motel once observed:

"The theater is like a cathedral — I mean a shul (synagogue). At the end of it, there's a cup of tea."

Solemnity and mirth were never far apart for Motel, who died of heart failure Thursday in Philadelphia at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital. He was 62. The mammoth actor always seemed to be exploiting his talent as if running a rummage sale at Tiffany's.

"I don't give a damn about images," he replied when asked how a man of formidable stage feats who also was a painter who could get $11,000 for a picture, could take time out to pose nude in a bathtub with an unclad nymph for Playboy magazine. "How can you be an artist if you worry about images?"

Motel was more than a natural crowd-pleaser and jovial merry-maker. Behind the facade was a sentimental, deeply dedicated and canny savorer of life.

"I feel very sad about the whole thing because I was a very good friend. He was one of the big talents, he could make you laugh, he could make you cry," said comic Milton Berle who was reached in Los Angeles.

Watergate silence broken

'I'd do it again,' Liddy says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The years in prison softened Gordon Liddy's voice, shrunk his physique, made him less cocky and overbearing. But they didn't change his view of Watergate: if his president asked, he'd do it again.

"When the prince approaches his lieutenant, the proper response of the lieutenant to the prince is 'fiat voluntas tua,'" Liddy said Thursday. The Latin phrase means: "Thy will be done."

Liddy, the Watergate planner, a lieutenant?

"Yes. I would not rank myself as a captain."

It was Liddy's first day home and he devoted hours to interviews. He wanted to talk about the two federal institutions where he spent most of his 52 months imprisonment, not Watergate.

But G. Gordon Liddy knows more about Watergate and has said less about it than anyone else, so the questions came:

Q. Can you tell us why you went into the Watergate?

A. I can, but I won't.

Q. Can you tell us what you were looking for?

A. I could, but I will not.

Q. Why won't you?

A. I choose not to.

For choosing not to, Liddy got the stiffest prison sentence of any Watergate figure, 6-20 years, plus an extra 18 months for refusing to testify before a grand jury. Only President Carter's intervention and the parole board's action got him out of prison now.

"I don't want to appear to be quixotic in these refusals to discuss Watergate

Pallbearers for burial in the Sugar Creek Baptist Cemetery were Eugene Johnson, Clyde Farmer, John, Dailey and Forest Hite and Don Pack.

Newspaper sales agreements set

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Multimedia Inc. announced today it has reached an agreement with the Ohio Valley Publishing Co. for the purchase of three daily newspapers in Ohio and West Virginia.

Wilson C. Wearn, president of Multimedia, said the agreement provides for the cash purchase of all the stock of the Gallipolis, Ohio, firm and its wholly owned subsidiary, the Point Pleasant Register Co. of Point Pleasant, W.Va.

No sale price was disclosed. The agreement is subject to the approval of the board of directors of Multimedia and the transaction is expected to be completed by Oct. 1, Multimedia said in a statement.

Layoffs to grow with import steel

DETROIT (AP) — Plant closings and layoffs will grow into an economic disaster for Ohio if steel imports aren't curbed, Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes said.

Arriving here Thursday for a National Governors Conference meeting, Rhodes said the imports jeopardize the jobs of the 170,000 steelworkers employed in Ohio and those of another 80,000 workers whose jobs depend on Ohio's steel industry.

Rhodes referred to the 130 layoffs scheduled this week at Union Carbide Corp.'s Marietta, Ohio plant.

A survey shows that layoffs and plant shutdowns will be widespread within six months unless there is federal action to limit the imports which now make up 18 to 21 per cent of the market, Rhodes said.

"If we import at a saturation point, between 25 per cent and 30 per cent, many of the steel mills in Ohio will have to close," he said. "We're that close to economic disaster."

Fifth 'Legion' case confirmed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's fifth case of Legionnaires disease at Riverside Methodist Hospital was confirmed Thursday, and health officials said another patient in a different hospital also may have been exposed to the illness.

The latest victim confirmed is a 79-year-old woman treated at Riverside for pneumonia-like symptoms more than a month ago, said Jon Christensen, spokesman for the state Health Department. She was released and is recovering at home.

Confirmation of that victim came as health officials waited to see if the mysterious disease caused the death Wednesday of Lucille Craig, 65, of Cumberland, Ohio.

One Ohio death has already been blamed on the disease, and three other women are known to be suffering from the illness.

At Ohio State University Hospital, results of tests on 13 patients checked for the disease "tentatively indicates" one patient was "previously exposed to Legionnaires disease," a spokesman said.

OSU officials would only say that the patient had been treated for pneumonia and is in satisfactory condition under isolated conditions at the hospital.

The spokesman said there is no confirmation the patient now has Legionnaires disease instead of pneumonia, just that exposure is possible. Additional blood samples were being evaluated.

Christensen said the latest confirmed victim, whom officials would not identify, is a resident of Columbus. She was admitted to Riverside Aug. 5 and released 13 days later.

"She came in and her illness was diagnosed as pneumonia," said Jennifer Guy, a Riverside spokeswoman. "She was treated for pneumonia, released and is recovering after the dismissal."

Because she was treated for pneumonia, her blood sample was sent to the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta for testing, along with about 200 other similar patients, hospital employees and other workers.

Legionnaires disease was first confirmed in Riverside patients Sept. 2, and CDC investigators are checking blood samples on about 50 patients treated for pneumonia during July and August, said Ms. Guy, as she prefers to be called.

Moslems threatened by Israelis villages in the shadow of Mt. Hermon report that Israeli officials across the border have issued several warnings recently.

They charge that the Israelis also directed their Lebanese Christian allies to increase their artillery bombardment even though the Palestinian guerrillas have left the area.

Residents of this market town five miles from Israel said eight persons were killed and 17 wounded by Christian shelling during the past week. Thirty per cent of Hasbaya's 20,000 people are Christians, and the town has stayed out of the Christian-Palestinian battles that have continued since the cease-fire in the Lebanese civil war last November.

"There aren't any Palestinians here, so why are they shelling?" a gendarme asked. He said the town gets about three hits a day from 120mm mortars.

Police said leaders of Hasbaya and three neighboring villages were called over to Israel last week and told they would be shelled unless they supplied water to Marjayoun, a Christian enclave eight miles away.

Munief Khatib, a former member of parliament from Sheba, said leaders of his village recently were taken across the border less than a mile away. He said Israeli officials offered to build them a road and a hospital and supply them with food and ammunition.

"They refused," said Khatib. Now Sheba's 2,000 villagers are apprehensive about the effect of the refusal, but so far they have not been shelled.

A policeman from Kfar Chouba said the leaders of his village were forced to sign an agreement with the Israelis accepting similar assistance.

One prominent Moslem politician in Beirut charged that Israel "is trying to force protection onto these border towns" as a means of forging a buffer zone along its northern frontier.

The Lebanese residents of this rugged region, known as the Arkoub, have been squeezed for the past 10 years between the Palestinian guerrillas and Israel. Until the Lebanese civil war broke out, the guerrillas used the area as a launching pad for raids into Israel, and the Israeli army regularly raided towns and villages it claimed were harboring the guerrillas.

Nairobi that he didn't "exactly know" what was wrong with the 51-year-old military strongman.

"But he's in a coma," Astles continued. "We believe he'll pull out of it. I'm going over to the hospital right now to see what's happening."

A later call was answered by an aide who said Astles was "at President Amin's bedside. The president is in sort of a coma. It looks serious."

Astles "is still at President Amin's bedside," a secretary said today. "He hasn't returned all night."

Observers in Nairobi speculated that Astles' story was an attempt to draw attention away from the public execution today.

Recent visitors to Uganda who met Amin said the 240-pound, 6-foot-4 former heavyweight boxer and rugby star appeared in robust health. However, two of his former doctors who fled abroad claimed he suffered from gout and may have had syphilis.

High court lifts ban on Kent gym project

KENT, Ohio (AP) — The May 4th Coalition still held a slim hope today of getting court backing in its battle against construction of a gym annex at Blanket Hill on the Kent State campus — despite a setback in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Supreme Court Justice William Brennan, who revived coalition hopes by ordering a continued delay in the construction project Tuesday, vacated that order on Thursday.

However, another delaying order from the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati remained in effect.

A spokesman for that court said no action had been taken on the coalition's request for a hearing on the gym matter, and the order of Tuesday staying construction remained in effect. He said there was no word on when the appellate judges might rule.

Coalition lawyers argue that gym construction should be delayed while the U.S. Interior Department decides whether to name the site a national historical landmark.

Stock market drops broadly

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market declined broadly today amid renewed concern over the interest rate outlook.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell more than 4 points in the early going.

Losers took a 3-1 lead over gainers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

At Thursday's close the Federal Reserve reported a $3 billion jump in the basic measure of the money supply.

The news gave rise to fears that the Fed might soon feel compelled to do some further tightening of credit.

Today's early prices included Weyerhaeuser, down 3/4 at 31; U.S. Steel, off 5/4 at 32 3/4, and Exxon, down 3/4 at 48 3/4.

On Thursday the Dow Jones industrial average fell 8.23 to 888.16, erasing nearly half of its 17.50 advance over the five previous trading days.

Losers outnumbered gainers by an 8-5 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume came to 18.29 million shares, against 18.07 million on Wednesday.

The NYSE's composite index lost .37 to 53.22.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index dropped 16 to 118.91.

Settlement set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of an Episcopal church where their bishop was barred from officiating are expected to terminate their priest's contract Monday.

Settlement Thursday of a suit by The Rev. G. Wayne Craig to bar Bishop John M. Krumm from the church included agreement that the bishop will conduct a communion Sunday between two morning services by the Rev. Mr. Craig. Parishioners barred Bishop Krumm from services last Sunday.

The settlement was supervised out of court by Judge Tommy L. Thompson of Franklin County Common Pleas Court. Principals in the suit would not comment beyond a statement read by Samuel M. Allen, a Cincinnati attorney and chancellor of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio.

The minister's departure, probably by Oct. 12, reportedly was part of the agreement. The Rev. Mr. Craig was expected to agree to not seek to return to the church for at least two years after that date.

Soil, water district holds annual meeting

The Fayette County Soil and Water Conservation District held its annual meeting last night in the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds. Approximately 150 persons were in attendance for the smorgasbord dinner and program.

Following the dinner and invocation, Edgar Agle, chairman of the district board of supervisors, welcomed the audience and thanked each of the contributors to the local district. He then introduced the singing trio of John Schlichter, Cindi Grover and Doug Joseph. They sang five contemporary songs. The trio was accompanied by Brenda Garringer on the piano.

After the entertainment, Gene Derickson, assistant chief of the Ohio Division of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, presented three men with awards for outstanding service to the district. James Waddle, Richard Carson and James Dunn were awarded plaques for devoted service as district advisors.

Bernard Czartoski of the Soil Conservation Service gave a brief report on the Rattlesnake Creek Watershed project progress. Czartoski said that the project is slated for completion in late 1978. "It is a very involved project," he told the audience, "but we already have a lot completed. The necessary studies, the field investigations and all of the surveying has been completed."

He stated that a review with the sponsors of the project will be held Sept. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Mahan Building. The public will be invited.

The guest speaker for the program was Charles H. Boyles, farm manager of the Eastern Ohio Resource Development Center at Caldwell, Ohio. Boyles was appointed to the position on Jan. 1, 1965 on the 2300 acre center that researches the growth of cattle, sheep, swine, grapes and apples.

Boyles said the greatest achievement on the grounds was the watering process. When the center was started, no water was available to the area, either above ground or underground. Boyles gave credit to Larry Essman who designed 15 ponds for the center which now benefit the entire 2,300 acre farm, the largest of which stretches over four acres and holds over 13 billion gallons of water.

Boyles related that the "city" have to have a better understanding of the farm and conservation for both to continue. He said that Congress does not have a good understanding of what needs to be done on a farm because most of them are from the city and do not know what it takes to produce the livestock and crops from a farm. New York representative Shirley Chisholm and the late Jerry Litton from Missouri were the farmer's best friends in the government, according to Boyles.

In 1950, Boyles was named manager of the Lundale Farms for the Amherst Coal Co. In 1954, he returned to West Virginia University, where he graduated with a bachelor and master's degree in animal science, and become farm manager for the university dairy, livestock and poultry farms until he moved to Ohio to manage the research center. The center is a division of the Ohio State University.

Grand theft case checked

In an incident described as grand theft, Washington C.H. police officers reported a 23-channel citizens band radio and a radar scanner were stolen from a vehicle parked along Damon Drive late Wednesday night.

William E. Copas, 46, of 636 Damon

Drive, reportedly told police officers Thursday morning he had parked his car in the driveway around 7 Wednesday night and when he left for work Thursday morning he discovered the radio and "fuzz buster" were missing. The value of the equipment was not reported.

Howard R. Core, 13, of 309 N. Fayette St., reported to local police officers someone stole his 10-speed bicycle Thursday night. The $50 Huff Independence bicycle was taken from in front of his home sometime between 8:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., according to the police department report.

Police officers reported the recovery of a girl's 16-inch bicycle Thursday morning. Rolande Sterling, 414 E. Temple St., notified the officers the bicycle had been in an alley behind her home for the past two days. Police are holding the Western Flyer bike at the station pending identification of the proper owner.

Opinion And Comment

Storm-related crashes

Most air travelers would prefer to reach their destination late rather than risk not making it. This is relevant to the National Transportation Safety Board's concern about the rising number of storm-related crashes.

In a letter to airline presidents the NTSB has warned that pressure to stay on schedule may prod "the overzealous pilot" into flying through marginal weather which should have been avoided for safety's sake. Evidently there has been some pressure of this kind, as the agency implies in urging carrier management "to exercise care in presenting its policies or procedures to avoid influencing the pilot's

A study of crashes caused by storms, says the Safety Board, shows that the number of pilots who "fly into thunderstorms because of competitiveness, overconfidence, underestimation of the situation and a desire to get home" is comparatively small. But a few so inclined is a few too many.

We are told that both the worst single plane crash in U.S. history and the worst this year occurred during thunderstorms. Moreover, the number of thunderstorm crashes has increased markedly in recent years. Thus the agency's concern is clearly well founded.

That concern extends not only to

gung-ho pilots, but to the airlines themselves. They are urged to take positive actions, telling pilots to go around storms rather than dodge through them, abort landings if an approach is marred by bad weather, delay takeoffs and landings during thunderstorms. Also, the Board said, better ways of supplying timely weather data are needed so pilots won't have to rely so much on their own radar.

These preventive and cautionary measures will not guarantee against future storm-related crashes. But if the airlines conscientiously heed them the risk of such accidents will be reduced.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The man behind the murder of Chilean exile leader Orlando Letelier, as federal investigators have pieced together the mystery, is probably Chile's Manuel Contreras Sepulveda.

In one of the most complicated investigations since Watergate, FBI sleuths have traced the man who ordered the killing to Contreras' office in Santiago, Chile. They are not yet certain, however, whether Contreras himself gave the order or whether it came from a top aide.

Most federal sources believe the murder could not have been carried out without Contreras' direct approval. In fact, some Justice Dept. sources speculate that Chilean President Augusto Pinochet himself personally suggested the assassination.

No one working on the case will

Letelier was killed by a bomb, which was attached beneath his Chevrolet. The bomb exploded last September 21 as he was driving down Washington's tranquil Embassy Row with two American colleagues, Mike and Ronnie Moffitt.

The blast killed Letelier and Mrs. Moffitt but miraculously spared her husband. Afterward, an anguished Mike Moffitt begged us to investigate the bombing. We have kept in close touch, therefore, with the federal investigation.

Within a few weeks, we were able to identify Chile's notorious secret police, known by the dread initials DINA, as the probable culprits. Now we can describe the murder plot.

We are told that Pinochet expressed his displeasure with Letelier to the DINA chief. We have reason to believe that Contreras, in response to the Chilean president's wishes, dispatched a DINA officer to the United States to meet with two leaders of Brigade 2506, an organization of Bay of Pigs veterans.

Some members of the brigade, trained in violence by the CIA, allegedly have become right-wing terrorists. The DINA agent was put in touch with them, according to our sources, by a Chilean diplomat in the United States, who secretly works for DINA.

We reached the diplomat who reportedly has been interrogated by U.S. authorities. At first, he told us through an interpreter that the affair was his "private problem." Then he refused to comment; then his aide told us the charge was "ridiculous."

Investigators tell us, however, the two brigade leaders contacted among others a Cuban demolitions expert, Guillermo Novo, in New Jersey. At the time, he was on probation after conviction for illegal use of explosives. He violated his probation and is now a fugitive.

The assassination plot was worked out, our sources say, at a secret rendezvous near Bonao in the Dominican Republic. It was decided that a special shaped plastic charge was needed for the bombing.

The explosive was available on the streets of Miami, and the bomb materials were bought and fashioned in the United States, most sources believe.

However, one source told us the bomb was actually constructed in Chile.

It was later delivered to the Miami area by a Chilean military official carrying a diplomatic passport and flying in a military airplane, the source said. The device was transmitted to a member of Brigade 2506, we are told. He then carried it to New Jersey where the assassination team was waiting for it. They used the bomb, according to our sources, to kill Letelier.

The Justice Dept. had no formal comment on the case. We have learned that prosecutors, however, are trying to figure how to get testimony from Chileans with diplomatic immunity and how to extradite potential defendants from Chile.

Footnote: The Chilean government has repeatedly denied any involvement with the assassination. Spokesmen for Brigade 2506 also have sworn that their members had nothing to do with murdering Letelier. Incidentally, Chile has announced the dissolution of DINA. But our sources say its duties simply have been taken over by other organizations.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: Graciela Olivarez is raising hackles inside the Community Services Administration. This is the agency that has taken over the work of the Poverty Corps. Not long after she took command of the new agency, she called the staff together not to outline programs to help the poor but to complain about coffee stains on the floor and waste paper in the ladies' room.

— President Carter has earmarked $4 billion to create 600,000 temporary jobs. Yet a tiny office inside the Commerce Dept. has helped create more than one million permanent jobs in the United States on a meager $100,000 budget. This two-man office runs the Invest in USA program, which has persuaded several foreign manufacturers to set up plants in this country.

—Rep. Parren Mitchell, D-Md., leader of the congressional black caucus, called on President Carter last week to complain about high unemployment among blacks. Inside the oval office, Mitchell told the president to his face: "Mr. President, when you're right, I'll praise you and stand by you. But when you're wrong, I'll fight you all the way." The president flashed his famous smile. "Congressman," he said, "you've been doing that already."

—President Carter's embattled budget director, Bert Lance, has been so busy defending himself that he seldom shows up any more at the senior staff meetings. At press time, he hadn't put in an appearance at a staff meeting in more than two weeks. He has been represented instead by his deputy director, 36-year-old James McIntyre, who also has strong Georgia credentials. He's a native of Vidalia, Ga., and a 1963 graduate of the University of Georgia law school.

Uncle Sam trying to collect money from bad student loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you borrowed money from Uncle Sam to get through college and neglected to pay him back, there may soon be a bill collector looking for you.

The government, getting tough with some 390,000 recipients of federally insured student loans who never paid them off, is turning over about $430 million in bad debts to private collection agencies.

So, if you're among the one in six federal loan recipients who defaulted since the program began nine years ago, there's the prospect that your credit rating may be jeopardized unless you pay up.

The Office of Education, part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, has been trying to collect on the loans, but hasn't been successful, so it's calling in the pros.

If you're one of those in default, though, you'll be given one last chance to repay before your file is turned over to a collector, says a federal official.

"We want to give them a chance to pay because, if their files go to collectors, we want them to know what they are getting into," says Leo Kornfeld, deputy HEW commissioner for student finance assistance.

"They could be jeopardizing their future credit ratings and could have trouble later getting mortgages, credit cards or car loans."

Kornfeld said the decision to use private collection agencies is "rooted in our firm conviction that those who are able but unwilling to pay their debts do a grave injustice to the American public who provided them with an opportunity for education.

"Unfortunately, there is an attitude on many campuses that this is government money, it's a soft touch and you can get out of paying it back," Kornfeld said in an interview.

"This will almost be an educational lesson in a way," he said. "A part of growing up is learning that you have to pay off your debts."

Kornfeld said the response to his department's invitation to private organizations to bid for the first collection contract has been "overwhelming."

The winning bidder will be required to locate the negligent borrowers and set up a schedule for them to repay the government.

If unsuccessful, the collector will recommend to the government other measures it can take, including legal action.

Kornfeld said the first contract will be awarded and files sent to the collection agency by December. The contracts will prohibit unethical harassment tactics, he added.

Kornfeld said the collection agencies will work for a percentage of payments collected. No additional federal money will be used to finance the program, he said.

The collection contract will apply only to the Federal Insured Student Loan Program, under which the federal government has directly insured about half of all loans in the Guaranteed Student Loan Program.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Bride's parents refuse to meet with Groom's

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my son's future-in-laws. He has been going with this girl for four years, they've been engaged for a year and a half, and all this time, my husband and I have not met her parents.

We have often asked the girl and my son if we could meet her folks, but we never got a straight answer.

Finally, with the wedding coming up in a few months, I decided to call the girl's parents and invited them over so we could get acquainted. The mother said she would call me back to let me know when they could make it. That was eight weeks ago. No call yet. I am at a loss as to what to do.

Everyone will think it's odd if they find out at the wedding that we have never met the bride's parents. They live less than a mile from us.

Should I drop the matter? Or should I pursue it?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If you haven't met the girl's parents by now, collar your son and find out why. Explain to him that as parents of the groom, you do have a role in the wedding plans. (The rehearsal dinner.) Don't call the girl's parents again.

It will be awkward indeed if you don't meet them before the wedding, but if that's the way they want it, for whatever reason, so be it.

DEAR ABBY: Am I wrong for refusing to sleep with the man I love because he wants his dog to sleep on the floor of our bedroom?

When I walked out, he said the dog always slept on the floor in the same bedroom with him and his first wife, who is now deceased.

Abby, I have never had dogs and I am not used to them. I told him he could put the dog in the other bedroom, but he said he wouldn't do it that next to his deceased wife, the dog came first. So where do I stand?

NO DOG LOVER

DEAR NO: Right behind his dog.

DEAR ABBY: My older sister irritates me no end. She never takes my word for anything. She always has to check it out. If I were in the habit of lying, I could understand it, but I'm not. I always try to stick to the truth.

Another thing about her that bugs me is that if I happen to be out when she phones me, when she finally reaches me she always asks where I've been. Abby, I just hate having to account for my whereabouts. She doesn't have to know every move I make!

I'm not a child. Far from it. I'm a married woman in my 40s.

Any suggestions?

YOUNGER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: Yes, grow up. You're still intimidated by your older sister. Don't blame her if you lack the courage to tell her that: (a) you resent her checking out everything you say because you're generally truthful; and (b) if you want her to know where you've been, you'll volunteer the information.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, September 9th, the 252nd day of 1977. There are 113 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1776, the term "United States" became official in a ruling of the Second Continental Congress.

On this date:
In 1830, Charles Durant made early aviation history by flying in a balloon from New York City across the Hudson River to Perth Amboy, N.J.

In 1850, California was admitted to the Union as the 31st state.

In 1893, the First Lady, Mrs. Grover Cleveland, became the mother of a baby girl. It was the first time that a child had been born to a first lady in the White House.

In 1919, Boston police went on strike. Massachusetts Governor Calvin Coolidge ruled that they would not be permitted to return to their jobs on grounds they had no right to strike and endanger public safety.

In 1926, the National Broadcasting Company was formed as a service of the Radio Corporation of America.

In 1946, the formal surrender of about 1 million Japanese soldiers took place in China, at Nanking.

Ten years ago: A 20-year-old Kansas woman, Debra Dene Barnes, was crowned the new "Miss America" in Atlantic City.

Five years ago: Secretary of State Henry Kissinger headed for Moscow for talks with Soviet leaders on European security.

One year ago: Mao Tse-Tung, 82-year-old leader of the Chinese Communist revolution, died in Peking.

Today's birthday: Former Republican Presidential candidate Alfred Landon is 90 years old.

Thought for today: The American, by nature, is optimistic. He is experimental, an inventor and a builder who builds best when called upon to build greatly — President John F. Kennedy.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 10

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Mixed influences. You may be faced with some annoyances but, on the other hand, with many pleasant offerings. Imagination and originality stimulated.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Dominating influences are happy on the friendly, social side, but a serious note here and there indicates a need for studying situations, people, backgrounds.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Certain details may require more attention before you can relax. Handle promptly! Eliminate nonessentials from your program and all should go well.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

You can expect a pleasant day, with associates full of good will and congeniality. Day especially favorable for travel and meeting people of interest.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Mild stellar influences. Day will be largely what you make of it. Stress your sense of values and aim only for the worthwhile. Social activities and outdoor interests especially favored.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Consolidate gains made over the past week. Implement good ideas and embody them into next week's schedule.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

If you've been interested in a new project, but have postponed taking action on it, NOW is the time! But be sure you have the know-how and enough data to go on.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Do not be upset by criticism. If constructive, it could actually show you new ways to capitalize on your inventiveness and skills.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You, like Scorpio, can profit by both opposition and obstacles. Some new ideas could brighten your day, a new method perk up tedious but essential routine.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

A good outlook! Saturn encourages your talents, cleverness at discerning leads and new methods of value, smart action generally.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Even if time is short and there is much to be accomplished, give yourself enough time for efficient planning. A good day for revitalizing all interests.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Advance a new idea, enlist the help of others to put it across. Under prevailing influences, you should win new benefits, advance your status.

YOU BORN TODAY are one of the most talented of all Virgoans and, properly educated, of course, have a wide variety of careers from which to choose. You would succeed in the theater as actor, director or producer; in the literary world as novelist, journalist or critic; in the professions, as scientist, teacher or lawyer; in business, as banker, manufacturer or promotional expert. You probably could not make a livelihood from the arts, but could attain a certain degree of excellence in many, and may take up one or the other as a hobby. Traits to curb: moodiness, a tendency to be overly critical of others.

Energy system uses garbage

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — An innovative energy recovery system that uses trash — paper, lunch debris and even corn stalks — to yield summer cooling and winter heating was displayed Wednesday by Rockwell International Corp.

A Rockwell spokesman said the company's Truck Axle Division assembly plant here saves about $125,000 a year in gas and electricity bills by using the trash burner.

"It saves enough natural gas every year to fuel 104 homes; enough electricity to provide the needs of 445 homes," William A. Smith, superintendent of facilities at the plant, said. Smith designed the trash burner.

The system produces virtually no pollutants, Smith said. It discharges carbon dioxide and water vapor and is smokeless and odorless. Its fine ash residue is used to fertilize a 50-acre cornfield which produces stalks that help fuel the incinerator.

The burner is a pyrolytic incinerator which converts combustible trash into recoverable heat in two steps.

In the first step, the trash is burned and the heat gasifies its carbon content.

In the second step, the burnable gases are ignited in an afterburner or thermo reactor. The resulting intense heat is used to heat water.

SOUTHLAND GOSPEL COURIERS — The Couriers (pictured here) of Lexington, Ky., will be featured in an evening concert at 7 on Wednesday, Sept. 14, in the First Christian Church, 232 N. North St. They have recorded six albums and have performed in person with such notables as Tom Netherton, Dale Evans and former Miss America Vonda VanDyke.

Couriers coming to church

The First Christian Church, North and Temple streets, is presenting the Southland Gospel Couriers in a concert Wednesday, Sept. 14, at 7 p.m.

The Lexington, Ky., quartet has been seen regularly on the nationally televised program Revival Fires and has produced six albums. They have toured extensively throughout the continental U.S. as well as India, Rhodesia, Israel and Mediterranean Europe.

The group has performed in nearly 500 churches across the country and appeared before conventions and clinics with attendance reaching 20,000. The four graduate music majors have also lead the singing, taught, preached, counseled and witnessed in revival meetings around the country.

One of the most outstanding musical features of the Couriers, according to the First Christian Church's Minister Ray Russell, is their creative arrangements. Russell said they use both old and new gospel songs during their programs and have excited audiences with their unique style and powerful spiritual witness.

The minister is handling the group's local engagements and has extended an invitation to all area residents to attend the evening concert. Admission is free, however, a free will offering will be accepted.

Special events

BLOOMINGBURG
A weekend revival, beginning Sept. 7-11 will be held at the White Oak Community Bible Church with meetings nightly at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Howard Rollins is the evangelist. Singers will include both local and out-of-town groups. The church's pastor, Rev. Harold Redding, encourages all area residents to attend.

BOOKWALTER
A zone rally featuring the Gospel Rainbows will be presented by the Bookwalter Church of Christ in Christian Union on Tuesday, Sept. 13, in Sedalia.

The church is also hosting a week-long revival meeting Sept. 19-25. David Van Hoose will be the presiding evangelist.

CHILLICOTHE
Youth Outreach, an interdenominational organization, will begin its monthly fall program with a concert by the Goad Family at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 10, at the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Chillicothe.

Youth Outreach is an organization of four Ross County families concerned with presenting Christ to young people.

Plans changed

In last Friday's edition of the Record-Herald, Dale Orihood was listed as the minister for the First Church of the Nazarene, Ohio 41-S. He is not. The church currently has no minister.

Orihood was originally to be acquainted with the congregation on Aug. 29, but plans for his ministry were changed by church members.

Navajo weavings at Fayette Gallery

Featured this month at the Fayette County Bank, Fayette Center Gallery is a part of the private collection of Navajo weavings of Miss Susie Brubaker, of Washington C.H.

Weavings of the Navajos are today enjoying a new appreciation. Collectors throughout the country are bringing the credibility of these blankets and rugs as an art form of the American Indian into the eyes of the public.

The weaving of textiles by the Navajos, a tribe of American Indians located in the southwest, was "borrowed" from their neighbors, the Pueblos. The Pueblos had been farmers for many centuries and were making textiles from the cotton they grew as the Conquistadores arrived, introducing sheep (wool) to the region.

The Pueblos were a peaceful people, and the Navajos were raiders and hunters. During this time they often made raids on the Pueblo villages, taking both sheep and horses which had been brought by the Spanish. These animals allowed the Navajos to become wandering herdsmen.

When the Navajos were captured, they, too, were put to work as weavers for their Spanish masters. This, along with intermarriage between the Pueblos and Navajos, brought the skill of weaving to the Navajos. They used their weaving skills for commercial purposes. There is evidence of the Navajos' textile trade as early as the 1790's. The early trade was with other Indian tribes.

Exceptional weaving became the trademark of the Navajo "chief's

blankets" which were produced not for chiefs of the Navajos, but to be sold or traded to chiefs of other tribes.

Until about 1890, when colorful wool became available to the Navajos, the colors were "earth tones" and the designs were simple. After this time the Navajos went into the phase known as "eye dazzler," during which time the Indians threw subtle colors and design to the wind and made use of this new wealth of colors in every combination imaginable.

The demand for Navajo textiles which had been limited to blankets and clothing, began to drop at the end of the end of the 19th Century. About this time, it became a trend to throw Navajo blankets on the floor as rugs. It did not take the traders long to get the idea, and persuade the weavers to make their products more suitable for use on the floor—the Navajo rug was born.

The Navajos very rarely used a pattern, other than a mental image in making their rugs. This, perhaps more than anything else is the reason for the individuality of each Navajo rug.

The early 1900's was the period of the "pound rug," during which time the weavers were paid for their product by the weight of the rug, regardless of the workmanship. This practice led to sloppy weaving and a general decline in the quality of the rug.

After this practice died out, the Navajos returned to a higher quality of weaving and the use of vegetable dyes, although the red aniline remained a favorite of the Indians.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie D. Cowman of 4868 Ohio 41-NW wish to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jackie Lee, to Kenneth E. Hellenthal, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hellenthal, 690 Staunton-Jasper Road-SW.

Miss Cowman, a 1977 graduate of Miami Trace High School, is presently employed at Polk Real Estate.

Her fiancé, a 1975 MTHS graduate, is employed at Calmar.

A June wedding is being planned by the couple.

Former CF Girl Dinah Shore tells of 'New Day Program'

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Dinah Shore speaks out for Camp Fire this fall as the national youth organization tells the nation about New Day.

A former Camp Fire Girl, Dinah Shore talks to youth and adults about Camp Fire's new approach to meeting the needs of youth today. In radio and television messages, the renowned entertainer, who exemplifies today's successful, talented woman, urges youth—girls and boys—to be part of Camp Fire "the nation's most exciting youth organization," says Ms. Shore. "I was a member of Camp Fire and I know what a difference it can make in your life."

Several years ago, Camp Fire began an evaluation process to decide whether it should still be in business. The answer, according to Dr. Hester Turner, National Executive Director, was a resounding yes, but with modifications.

"The old program was fine and idealistic," she said, "but it did not fit children from different settings with different problems." The New Day program helps deal with the different settings and problems by allowing local councils to design activities that meet individual needs.

In addition to coed groups, Camp Fire councils may sponsor day care programs, drop-in-centers, in fact, anything they feel will reach a larger and more diversified youth membership, said Mr. Turner.

"Camp Fire is delighted," Dr. Turner announced, "that Dinah Shore will be a national spokesperson for us this year."

Says Ms. Shore, "Camp Fire is shaping tomorrow by helping youth today. Camp Fire knows how to move with the times, reaching out with programs tailored for individual needs. Programs which help put the world in perspective for young people—girls and boys, whether they live in the city or the country—all across the nation."

Mary Guild

Mrs. Milbourne Flee was hostess when the Mary Guild of First Christian Church met in her home. Mrs. Daisy Gossard, Guild leader, opened the meeting and Mrs. Glen Jette's devotions were entitled "Live, Don't Race." She also read Scripture from Psalms 119 and Hebrews 12.

Mrs. Flee led the Bible Study of Paul's Missionary Journey.

There were 19 who responded to roll call, and reports were made by Mrs. Orpha Willis, Mrs. Zoe Follis, and Mrs.

Walter Elliott who stated that 21 cards had been sent to the ill. Correspondence from Quiet Acres Nursing Home announced laprobes were needed, and Guild members had made bibs for patients.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 10. The Area Women's Fellowship will be at the Sabina Church Sept. 22.

Mrs. Alfred Weatherly conducted a contest and winners were Misses Edith Ferguson and Delorus Cadwallader. Hostesses were Mrs. Laura Chaney and Mrs. Norma Flee.

Beta Omega meets with Mrs. Whiteside

Beta Omega Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha met in the home of Mrs. Wanda Whiteside for the first meeting of the year. President Mrs. Wayne Clark opened the business meeting in ritualistic form.

The First Pearl Certificate was presented to Mrs. Ted Craig for her exceptional participation in chapter activities as a first-year member.

Personalized program booklets designed by the Educational Director, Mrs. James McCracken, were distributed. Programs for the year were previewed.

Philanthropic projects under the direction of Mrs. Craig were discussed. Food baskets and toys will be donated at Christmas, as well as food baskets at Easter. The annual Spring Dance was scheduled jointly with the Alpha Theta Chapter.

Mrs. Dennis Holloway, Ways and Means chairman, reported on the success of the food stand during Old Fashioned Bargain Days. Plans were

COOKING IS FUN

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

CHORIZO CANAPES

1/2 pound chorizo
6-ounce can tomato paste
4 scallions, finely chopped
2 tablespoons seeded and finely chopped canned jalapeno pepper
1/2 teaspoon oregano
French rolls, grated
Parmesan and sliced Jack or Swiss cheese

Remove casing from chorizo. In a hot 10-inch skillet over moderate heat fry the chorizo, crumbling with a fork, until thoroughly cooked. Stir in tomato paste, scallion, jalapeno and oregano; cook gently until very hot. Makes about 1 1/2 cups. Slice the rolls crosswise and toast lightly; spread with the hot chorizo mixture; sprinkle with Parmesan; top with sliced cheese. Bake or broil briefly until cheese melts. Serve hot.

VANILLA-COFFEE LIQUEUR
1 1/2 cups brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup granulated sugar
2 cups water
1/2 cup instant coffee powder
3 cups vodka
2 tablespoons pure vanilla extract
Combine sugars with water. Bring to boil and boil for 5 minutes. Slowly stir in coffee powder. Cool. Pour into jug or jar. Add vodka and vanilla. Mix thoroughly. Cover and let stand at least 2 weeks. Serve over ice cream or pudding or as flavoring for milk drinks. Yields about 5 cups.

Jaycees plan Paper drive

The Washington C.H. Jaycees will be holding their bi-monthly paper drive this Saturday, Sept. 10, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Seaway parking lot on Clinton Ave.

Anyone having newspapers, catalogues and magazines are urged to bring them to the collectionsite where the Jaycees will be on hand to unload the cars. Persons unable to deliver papers to the parking lot may call Leroy Farris (335-7591) or Dennis Cotner (335-2105).

Begin with cold water in making coffee. Warm water produces flat tasting coffee.

Bride-elect complimented

A bridal shower was held at the home of Susan Spahr in Jeffersonville honoring Miss Pam Straley, bride-elect of Tim Renick. Hostesses for the occasion were Ruth Straley, Emma Lou, Susan and Ann Spahr.

Others present were Susan Bush, Martha Reedy, Reba Straley, Pauline Bush, Penny, Shirley and Brenda Straley, Jean Coe, and Mrs. Joan Straley and Mrs. Dorothy Renick, mothers of the couple.

Also sending gifts were Sandi Clawson, Sancy Baber, Jeanette Burnett, Nellie Coe, Helen Simerl, and Annette Straley.

A dessert course was served by the hostesses, and a visiting time was enjoyed by all.

A bridal shower honoring Miss Pam Straley, bride-elect of Tim Renick, was held recently in the home of Jean Roush in Jeffersonville.

Games were conducted by Belinda Bonner and Reggie Smith, hostesses, with prizes going to Penny Straley and Ethel Cox.

Others attending were Mrs. Dorothy Renick and Mrs. Joan Straley, mothers of the couple, Phyllis Bonner, Patsy Steiner, Annette Straley, Betsy Hartman, Tami Renick, Sharon Smith and Julie Garringer.

Those sending gifts but unable to attend the shower were Elise Hill, Gail Butler, Sally Leeth, Toni Ging and Carol Rex.

A dessert course of cake, nuts and mints were served by the hostesses.

Methodist women hold meeting

Thirteen members of the Bloomingburg United Methodist Women and one guest met in the home of Mrs. Robert Huff, who also conducted the business meeting. She read the poem "Only a Word."

After reports and communications, cards were signed for the ill members, and a discussion of meetings and sale dinners took place.

Mrs. Harold Messmer led a very interesting discussion regarding accepting and supporting women as clergy.

During the social hour, refreshments were served to Rev. and Mrs. Messmer, Mrs. Irene Gibeaut, Mrs. Laura Wilson, Mrs. Laura Hughes, Mrs. Nora Oswald, Mrs. Eli Craig, Mrs. Zoe Garringer, Mrs. Viola Thornton, Mrs. Dorothy Delph, Mrs. Dorothy Slager and Mrs. Gladys Bloomer by hostesses Mrs. Huff and Mrs. Clarence Runnels.

Respiratory therapy course to be offered on Sept. 15

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio -- The Central Ohio Lung Association and the Ross County Medical Center Hospital will co-sponsor a course for nurses on respiratory therapy methods beginning at 8:30 a.m. Sept. 15 at the Holiday Inn in Chillicothe.

The registration fee for the course is $10 per person and includes the cost of a manual. The deadline for registration is Sept. 10, according to Mrs. Robert Goodson, of Washington C.H., a program consultant of the Central Ohio Lung Association.

Checks for the registration fee should be made payable to the Central Ohio Lung Association and sent to the South Central office at 121 W. Main St.,

Chillicothe, 45601. More information can be obtained by calling 614-772-1044.

Material to be covered will include common clinical problems in respiratory care, methods of aerosol and humidity therapy, home care, respiratory pharmacology, and oxygen therapy.

The instructors will be Tim J. Good, director of respiratory therapy at the Ross County Medical Center; Edward Mose, a respiratory therapy program instructor for the adult education division of the Columbus Public Schools, and Scott Caldwell, a staff respiratory therapy technician at the Ross County Medical Center.

Julie Nixon Eisenhower wrote "Special People" from the privileged position of a President's daughter. In this book of essays, she reminisces about several famous acquaintances, from Mao Tse-Tung to Ruth Bell Graham, wife of Evangelist Billy Graham. Mrs. Eisenhower is uniformly sympathetic to her subjects. Although on occasion she provides striking detail and intelligent insight, on the whole her treatment lacks spice: "Special People" is far more readable a chapter at a time, rather than all at one sitting!

Julie Nixon Eisenhower is at her best when describing those she knows well. She is naive and gushing in her interviews with Golda Meir and Mao; her portrait of Mamie Eisenhower, her grandmother-in-law, is by far the best in the book. From an insider's point of view, the young Mrs. Eisenhower relates anecdotes of Ike and Mamie's marriage, their disagreements, their children, Dwight Eisenhower's death and Mamie's life since.

There is a section of fine photographs of Golda Meir, Mao, Ruth and Billy Graham, Ike and Mamie, the Nixon family, Prince Charles and Princess Anne of Great Britain, and Anne Morrow Lindbergh, author and wife of Charles Lindbergh.

"Special People" available at the Carnegie Public Library, will be of interest to many because of its famous author and the people who are its subjects. Sentimental and somewhat humorless in style, it nevertheless fascinates.

Also new at the Carnegie Library are:

"The Lonely Ships: The Life and Death of the U.S. Asiatic Fleet" by Edwin P. Hoyt; "Lewis and Clark's America: A Contemporary Photo Essay" - Seattle Art Museum; "Psychic Voyages" by Stuart Holroyd; "Winning is Everything (And Other American Myths)" by Thomas Tutko and William Bruns; "Hitler's War" by David Irving; and "What Every Woman Should Know About Her Car" by Dorothy Jackson.

Fish stocking in private agreement ponds scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio - Private pond owners in Ohio who have entered into an agreement with the Division of Wildlife of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources to permit limited public fishing on their property will receive over 76,000 fish for stocking this week as part of the "FishOhio" program.

Dale Haney, chief of the wildlife division, said 85 pond owners will receive 13,080 largemouth bass, 13,055 channel catfish and 60,760 bluegills.

"Providing free fish to qualified pond owners offers more recreational opportunity for Ohioans and is becoming an increasingly popular program throughout the state," Haney said, noting there are 47,000 farm ponds in Ohio.

"The winter fish kill in many shallow ponds was heavy this year because of the severe weather," Haney said.

"This program will help rehabilitate those ponds."

Pond owners interested in the program should contact the Wildlife District office nearest their residence to obtain an application form. If they qualify, fish will be provided for stocking next fall.

Wildlife district offices are located at 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus; 952 Lima Ave., Findlay; 912 Portage Lakes Drive, Akron; 360 East State St., Athens; and 1076 Old Springfield Pike, Box 576, Xenia.

Pizza firm accused in grid scheme

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A travel agency has accused operators of Shakey's Pizza Parlors in a $5.1 million lawsuit of renegeing on an agreement to underwrite the University of Oklahoma band's trip to the Oklahoma-Ohio State football game in Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 24.

Horizons Travels, Inc. filed the suit in district court against SDSC, Inc., and Albert M. Smith Jr., doing business as Shakey's Pizza Parlors.

The petition claimed that last March the defendants approached the travel agency about providing charter travel for 280 members of the Sooner band to attend the game.

The defendants, the suit contends, made an oral commitment to pick up the cost of expenses for the trip.

The total cost of the trip was to be $50,000 and Horizons said it committed $1,000 to confirm flight reservations.

According to the petition, representatives of SDSC, Inc., the national franchise of the pizza parlors, disclosed Wednesday that they would not defray the cost of the trip.

The suit claimed that Horizons has lost $1,000 and will be unable to earn its commission of $2,500 on the trip and that the travel agency's contractual relations with the university and its boosters has been damaged.

Rubber cars in future?

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP) — Chemical researchers here predict that by the mid-'80s about 85 per cent of your family auto will be made of rubber or plastic stuck together the way kids build plastic models.

Researchers at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. adhesives plant say cars coming out of Detroit in the next decade will have hoods, fenders, grills and even some load-carrying structural parts stuck on with adhesives.

Structural adhesives were used in the early 1960s for plastics on sports cars, Goodyear says, but the material "couldn't meet the challenge of the assembly line because the plastic parts had to be prepared for bonding by shot blasting — a costly, dirty, time-consuming process."

The company claims that a urethane-based adhesive system developed in recent years has provided a breakthrough, making big-car assembly with fiberglass parts as easy as putting plastic models together.

The breakthrough is speeding Detroit's switch to plastic, giving engineers "the benefit of plastic's lightness and noncorrosion, as they retain the strength and assembly line advantages of steel," Goodyear says.

The rubber and chemical firm says its system called Pliogrip, which emerged from research in synthetic rubber, air cures with a watertight seal and, in some cases, gives plastic parts greater strength than the steel they replace.

The adhesive is being used in many 1978 models to fabricate tailgates, car tops, sun roofs, hoods and interior trim, Goodyear reports.

Hurricane Clara drifting slowly

By The Associated Press
Hurricane Clara, just maintaining its hurricane status, drifted slowly in the Atlantic today, with only a slight strengthening expected.

The third hurricane of the season was north of Bermuda, moving nearly due east early today.

Meanwhile, strong thunderstorms rumbled through the upper Midwest this morning.

A line of thunderstorms was moving east over the Plains, stretching from southwest Kansas to western portions of the upper Great Lakes.

Precipitation elsewhere across the nation was confined to scattered showers and thunderstorms along the middle and south Atlantic coast and a few showers dotting the lower Mississippi River valley.

Tornadoes were sighted Thursday south of Duluth, Minn., and near McGregor, Minn. No injuries were reported.

State board eyes teacher programs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Education will consider granting approval to teacher preparation programs of five colleges and universities at its meeting Monday.

State education officials have reviewed during on-campus visitations the programs at the University of Akron and Muskingum, Rio Grande, Ursuline and Walsh colleges.

The evaluations complete the five-year cycle of in-depth inspections of 51 higher education institutions in the state that prepare teachers, state officials said.

AP Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayhem buffs who long for the golden era of gunsmoke and falling bodies have a rousing two hours of it on tap tonight in CBS' "The Hostage Heart," a 357 Magnum opus.

In it, seven guys — six are baddies — are shot quite dead. An anesthesiologist and a male terrorist are wounded by gunfire. And a lady terrorist possibly dies in a TV specialty — crashed van flambe.

It's based on Gerald Green's novel about "The Wretched of the Earth," itinerant young revolutionaries who sneak into a hospital, point guns at doctors doing open-heart surgery on a billionaire industrialist and demand $10 million from his capitalist coffers for the world's poor.

Even though the book deadened only three guys and wounded the doctor and male terrorist with gunfire, it was much more exciting.

This "Hostage" is just a strung-out series of cliches jazzed up with back-and-forth scene changes, ominous music, a four-death shooting scene not in the book and such FBI dialogue as:

"Order the teams to fan out in every direction."

Bradford Dillman, Vic Morrow and Cameron Mitchell, good actors all, are stuck in this shoot saga, Dillman as a heart surgeon, Morrow as a gruff hospital administrator, Mitchell as an FBI honcho.

They do their best with a bad script, likewise Carl Weathers, cast as a weapons expert and driver enlisted by the terrorists who, in the TV version, now are known as "The Liberators of the World."

Weathers, a black actor, gets in a not-in-the-book caper, scheming with three black bad guys to double-cross the liberators and decamp with the $10 million when and if the cash arrives.

No doubt this sets up a sublimax somewhere. And by golly, it does in time prompt a warehouse scene where the three hoods and an Arab terrorist, Rashid by name, have a gunfire go at each other.

The authors of tonight's show are producer Andrew J. Fenady, who has done much better things, and Charles Sailor and Eric Kaldor.

Had they stuck to the plot of the book — in which the lady terrorist and Rashid surrendered with no shooting at all — they might have come up with a good show.

Instead, they've gone and given TV violence, well, a bad name.

NBC is fighting "Hostage" tonight with a black beauty pageant, while ABC offers Part Four, "Washington: Behind Closed Doors."

Despite a massive publicity buildup, Tuesday's premiere of ABC's Potomac mini-series against NBC's "The Hindenburg" and CBS' "Logan's Run" got nowhere near the first ratings for "Roots."

Sure, early ratings here, in New York and Chicago say "Washington" won its first time period — but not by much — by getting an average of 33.6 per cent of the Tuesday audience in these three cities.

But it's small potatoes compared to the 61 per cent of the national audience "Roots" got when it premiered last Jan. 23.

Whether Tuesday augured ill for "Washington" over its six-night run will be clear next Tuesday, when this week's national Nielsen arrive.

Somerset, in Perry County, halfway between Zanesville and Lancaster, once was called Middletown. Gen. Philip Sheridan lived there in his youth. Its courthouse bears the inscription, "Let Justice be done if the Heavens fall," because the stone masons could not fit the proper word, "though" into the space now occupied by the "if." — AP

World scientists end meet at OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 100 scientists from around the world will end a three-day meeting on the physics of irregular materials at Ohio State University Friday.

James C. Garland, Ohio State associate professor of physics, said the conference is the first ever held on the subject because of the newness of the research area.

For alleged 'back-door dealings'

Former OCSEA director rapped

"The real reason that Karl Stewart is no longer executive director of the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association (OCSEA) is that the membership got fed-up with his incompetent leadership and his back-door dealings with the state administration and forced him to resign under threat of being fired," said Patrick Sorohan, OCSEA's acting executive director, in response to Stewart's recent statement that he quit OCSEA because of "internal conflict."

"Unfortunately many of the unkind things the Communications Workers of America (Stewart's new employer) have said about Stewart's activities in the last three years are true," said

Sorohan. "Now he is their problem, and they'll have to explain his anti-labor actions to their membership."

At a news conference at the offices of the 29,000-member organization, Sorohan admitted that OCSEA had experienced a 3,000 drop in state employee membership over the past four years, but pointed out that OCSEA's competitors had suffered as much as a 50 per cent decrease in the same period of time.

"Much of the blame for the declining membership of public employee labor unions in Ohio can be attributed to the anti-labor philosophy of the Rhodes' administration," said Sorohan. "The atmosphere of state government at this time is simply not conducive to the growth of unionism. This is why OCSEA is pushing for a public employee collective bargaining bill."

Sorohan also stated that while it is true that OCSEA did have some financial difficulties, the corner has been turned and the association has begun recalling laid-off employees and also has money in the bank.

"Some of our financial difficulties were caused by the mismanagement of the previous executive director and also by the extraordinarily high legal costs incurred in protecting the job rights of our members," said Sorohan. "I think it is a measure of OCSEA's commitment to its membership that we supplied legal assistance to almost 4,000 members during the past year in an effort to protect their job rights. This is something we are proud of and that no other union can say," said Sorohan.

Sorohan said the departure of Stewart will usher in a new era of aggressiveness on the part of OCSEA. "It is my philosophy that if a rival union, or management, or a politician pushes us, we push back harder," said Sorohan.

"Ohio's public employees have been pushed around by the politician long enough," said Sorohan. "I want to assure all public employees that as acting executive director of the state's largest public employee labor organization I intend to be an activist in protecting and advancing their interests. During the coming weeks, OCSEA will take more aggressive actions on such major issues as collective bargaining, the contracting-out-public employee jobs and a pay raise for all state, county welfare and state university employees," said Sorohan.

"OCSEA is the state's number 1 public employee labor organization in the terms of membership, size of staff, and record of accomplishment," said Sorohan, "and we intend to stay number 1."

Firemen check car fire report

Washington C.H. firemen investigated a reported vehicle fire at a Clinton Avenue residence Thursday afternoon.

Joseph Henry of 1779 U.E. 35-NW summoned firemen to 1100 Clinton Ave. about 4:56 Thursday afternoon for what he thought was smoke. Firemen discovered the smoke was actually gas from an extermination canister and reported the incident as a good intent call.

A fast moving cold front is heading east out of the Plains states and is expected to bring showers and thundershowers to Ohio by tonight.

A good bit of sunshine is expected today with temperatures climbing into the low to mid 80s. Some showers and thundershowers may reach the western part of the state by late afternoon. The lows tonight will be in the 60s.

Lottery revenue received by state

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state's general revenue fund received $283,439.55 from the Ohio Lottery Rotary Fund Thursday, the state auditor's office said.

Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson said the funds transfer represents 30 per cent, or the minimum dollar amount mandated by Ohio law, of the gross revenues received for the Aug. 18 lottery drawing date.

IF YOU KNEW WHAT I KNOW ABOUT CYSTIC FIBROSIS, YOU'D DO ANYTHING TO HELP.

Of all the lung-damaging diseases, this one is the worst. Cystic fibrosis causes mucus that clogs kids' lungs and airways. Naturally, normal breathing can become a big problem for children like my friend Robbyn. The mucus can also interfere with normal digestion. Then there are lung infections. Often, one after another.

We don't have a cure yet for this cruel, inherited disease — and that's where you come in. Please volunteer for your local Cystic Fibrosis Chapter.

SO DO SOMETHING.

Contribution 50 pints short of quota

Bloodmobile collects 120 pints in visit here

A total of 120 pints of blood were received Thursday at the Red Cross bloodmobile visit at the Grace United Methodist Church.

The 120-pint total was 50 pints below the Fayette County Chapter of the American Red Cross quota of 170 pints. The bloodmobile visit was sponsored by the Washington C.H. Lions Club.

Red Cross officials said 126 prospective donors reported to the church and six were rejected. Some 117 of the 126 prospective donors had arranged appointments before donating.

Twenty persons contributed replacement blood for patients in hospitals. There were seven first-time donors.

Physicians on duty were Dr. K.W. Chan, Dr. Marvin Roszmann, Dr. Lalitchandra Rampura, Dr. Byers W. Shaw, Dr. K.K. Wong, Dr. Robert

Woodmansee and Dr. Robert Anderson.

Registered nurses were Gayle Roszmann, Gretchen Witherspoon, Corrine Sperry, Marilee Peterson, Julia Schwartz and Margaret Johnson. Nurses aides were Barbara Foy and Vivian Underwood.

Red Cross staff aides on duty were Helen Slavens, Nancy Elliott, Rita Lanman, LaVerne Bray, Eleanor Rapp, Helene Sanderson, Mary Emma Johnson, Betty Binzel, Nadine Rost, Chris Roszmann and Mary Dray.

Drivers from the Business and Professional Women's Club were Norma Dodd and Marie Mace.

Contributing to the canteen were the Women of the Fayette Bible Church, the Midland Grocery Co., Pennington Bakery, and Helfrich's Market.

Canteen workers were Libby Brown, Rosemary Persinger, Mary Jane Calentine, Cathy Meredith, Mary Brocke, Virginia Loudner, Agnes Riley, Dorothy Mahoney and Ruth Parrett.

Welcome Wagon Club members staffing the nursery were Kaye Huber, Penny Rine, Cheryl Geyer, Debbie Wollam, Dawn Caughron, Carolyn Yates and Pat Berryhill.

City employees set up equipment brought by the mobile unit and Washington Senior High School NJROTC members reloaded it for the return trip.

Harvest conditions 'good'

By The Associated Press
Here is the agriculture weather advisory for Ohio provided by the National Weather Service:

A band of showers stretching from central Wisconsin to the Oklahoma panhandle will spread across Ohio tonight. The frontal system generating the showers will provide cooler air Saturday. A pleasant weekend is expected followed by another frontal system Monday that may produce more scattered shower activity.

FIELD OPERATIONS — Harvesting conditions will be good today. Wetting due to showers may interrupt field work in the east Saturday, but other sections of the state should be clearing by noon and drying in the afternoon will be at a moderate pace. Daily evaporation rates will continue to range from 0.15 to 0.18 inch per day. Good field working conditions will fill the weekend, then showers are likely to cause delays on Monday and Tuesday.

SOIL MOISTURE — Both topsoil and overall soil moisture are nearly normal across much of Ohio. The west central and some central sections are still too dry. Showers tonight and a chance for showers early next week will provide a good opportunity to germinate and begin to establish late summer seedlings of grasses.

LIVESTOCK — Cooler temperatures are ahead Saturday. This will provide a period of comfortable weather for the transport and handling of livestock. Pasture conditions should continue to advance well except in the west central where the soil moisture is still below normal levels.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES — Ripening and harvesting conditions will continue to be favorable. Foliage will be wetted in some areas by rainfall late today and tonight. Some isolated areas may experience wet surface conditions on Saturday morning, but drying during the day should permit a return to the field before the weekend is over.

Singer says he never loved Cher

NEW YORK (AP) — Rock star Gregg Allman says he never loved Cher and knew as soon as he married her "I was sorry that I had done it."

In an interview in the October issue of Viva magazine, Allman said: "We came home from the wedding, got off the jet and I was gone for two days. I just couldn't handle what I had done."

"I ain't putting her down or anything like that," he added. "She was just as sorry that we'd done it."

Noting that they were together only four months before their marriage, Allman said: "One Sunday morning I woke up and she said, 'I got this Lear jet and Nevada ain't too far away. Why don't we get married?' she asked me. And I said, 'I don't know if I'm ready to get into this, but okay, let's do it.'"

Students escape injury as auto hits school bus

Six children and a driver escaped uninjured Friday morning when an automobile collided with a school bus on Ohio 734 near milepost 12, according to Fayette County sheriff's deputies.

The bus was backing into a farm drive about 6:45 Friday morning when a car, driven by 18-year-old Thomas J. Hurley, Bloomingburg, skidded over 150 feet in the center of the road and slammed into the bus broadside. According to investigating sheriff's deputies, the impact sent Hurley's car another 18 feet into a ditch off the left roadside before it stopped.

The bus driver, Frank M. Coe, 58, of 1026 S. Fayette St., and his six passengers were uninjured. Both vehicles sustained moderate damage.

Sheriff's deputies cited Hurley for excessive speed under the conditions.

The Bloomingburg youth had claimed injury, but sheriff's deputies said he was not treated at the time of the accident.

A minor accident Thursday night was reported by Washington C.H. police officers on Washington Avenue near Worley Street.

Investigating officers cited Debra J. Hughes, 23, of 312 Bereman St., for starting without safety after she attempted to pull away from the curb and struck the rear of a parked pick-up truck. The truck belonged to William E. Lyons of 917 Washington Ave.

Damage to both vehicles was reportedly minor.

Traffic Court

Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge John P. Case sentenced a Jeffersonville man to six days in the Fayette County jail Thursday after finding him guilty of driving while intoxicated.

The sentenced was issued against Harold E. Osborne, 42, of Jeffersonville. He was fined $200 and costs for the offense and ordered to attend the Laurel Oaks Treatment Center near Wilmington.

Washington C.H. police officers had cited Osborne early Thursday morning. They had originally stopped him for a speeding violation and discovered he was driving while under suspension. Judge Case fined him $100 and costs for driving without a license and another $50, plus costs for the speeding violation.

In the same incident, police officers had cited Osborne's wife, Crystal, 34, for permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle. The Municipal Court judge found Mrs. Osborne not guilty during her hearing Thursday.

The Municipal Court received a number of signed waivers for speeding violations Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Ohio wins pageant contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss Ohio, Susan Yvonne Perkins, says she tries to cry when she sings the blues so she can "feel the emotion" of her music.

It worked for her Thursday when she won the second preliminary talent contest and a $2,000 scholarship with a moving rendition of the Billie Holiday song, "Good Morning, Heartache," at the Miss America Pageant here.

"The tears came, but I had to try real hard," said the 23-year-old graduate of Miami (Ohio) University. "I just thought of a very special friend I don't see anymore."

Dressed in a purple sequin gown with a fox collar, Miss Perkins of Columbus, drew an ovation from the 8,000 persons at Convention Hall.

She was joined in the winners' circle by Miss Arkansas, Bonnie Caroline Holbert, who won the swimsuit competition and a $1,500 scholarship with a formula that could prove to be a nightmare to figure-conscious females.

"I eat and drink whatever I want and I never put on any weight," said the bubbly 20-year-old sophomore at Texas Christian University.

4-H Roundup

By JEANNIE ANDERSON
4-H Program Assistant

Touched by some of the series on television about past-family history, many of us are beginning to delve for facts about our own family history. "Why didn't we ask Aunt Sally about that gold-headed cane?" "What was our community like when grandpa lived here?" "Who was the first 4-H volunteer leader in town?"

One way you can investigate the recent past is to design an oral history 4-H project to collect on tape reminiscences from the older residents of your town. An oral history project can teach youngsters about local history, introduce them to senior citizens, and involve them in community service. The simplest achievement of the group would be the donation of taped oral history interviews to your library. For a more elaborate project you could publish a magazine, exhibit photographs and quotations for the public; and prepare a slide show recollecting the past, using edited tapes from your narrators.

An oral history 4-H project could involve several 4-H youth with a leader. The project could take 6 to 10 weeks which would include planning the project and conducting interviews. More involved projects such as booklets, exhibitions, and slide-tape shows could be done with this project.

With interviews and older citizens, you can preserve the first-hand story of your community for future generations.

If you are interested in starting a 4-H project of this type, please contact the Fayette County Extension Service Office at 335-1150 for more information.

Jennifer Thompson

Reference service director named at Carnegie Library

Do you have trouble finding the right reference material for term papers or business presentations? Do you have trouble locating a particular book?

If so, your troubles are over. As of Tuesday, you'll no longer have to wander aimlessly through the Carnegie Public Library searching for that one important document that will perfect your paper or presentation or for the newest novel by your favorite author. The smiling face that will solve your library troubles and end your search belongs to the newest librarian Jennifer Thompson, director of reference services.

Through Miss Thompson's expertise the library is establishing a reference and information service designed to meet everyone's needs from children to businessmen and public officials.

"People need to be aware that the service exists and that the library is upgrading its program," Miss Thompson said. "If we can't handle a problem here, we also have an inter-library loan service with the Ohio State library and Cincinnati Public."

As a graduate of Indiana University's library school, the 23-year-old director is equipped to handle the search for legal, scientific, environmental and economic answers as well as the everyday problems of effectively using the library's services. She is also in charge of overseeing the circulation services.

An additional feature of the new reference service, a first for the Carnegie Library, is telephone references. Any questions about the library's book collection or on specific topics that may be asked on a trip to the library can now also be handled over the phone.

Miss Thompson had little trouble convincing Eric Halverson, library director, to hire her. She first worked for the library as a page in 1968, while a student at Miami Trace High School and continued working there until she left for college. She said Halverson had more or less promised her a job when she graduated.

Her graduation and consequent expertise fit right into the library's board of trustees plans to expand and upgrade the library's services.

Former Kennedy aide succumbs

Federal agency says cost of solar heat can be cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Electricity generated from sunlight can be made cheap enough for widespread use within five years if the government begins buying solar plants in large numbers, says a federal agency.

The Federal Energy Administration says the cost of solar power for many everyday uses could be brought down if the United States converts conventional power plants to solar units at many federal installations.

Such a move would mean mass production of solar power cells in place of today's handwork industry, a consulting firm says in a report to the FEA.

A preliminary version of the report went largely unnoticed when it was released July 20.

An FEA expert who declined to be identified said Thursday the agency will issue its final report within several weeks. He said the draft version is being reviewed and its basic conclusions are expected to stand.

The report, by a suburban Washington company, is raising the hopes of solar enthusiasts, such as ecologist Barry Commoner, that the world may be on the verge of a clean, safe and virtually everlasting new source of energy.

The report estimates that government spending of $440 million on solar plants over five years could cut the cost of the power cells from the present $15.50 per watt of peak generating capacity to 75 cents or less.

The solar cells could even begin to meet some household electricity needs, the report predicts, besides becoming a major energy source in developing countries where conventional power is very expensive.

Brown urges vote law help

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's secretary of state has urged local board of elections to designate additional county offices to assist in registration procedures in line with the new voter sign-up law.

"To the end of fuller citizen participation in elections and in government, we urged the full cooperation of election officials with other county offices in the effort to register voters," Brown said in a letter.

The election day registration law permits private citizens to pick up registration forms at county offices and sign up voters in door-to-door canvassing or at stationary locations.

House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr.,

D-89 New Boston, has asked other county offices to assist election boards in distributing voter registration forms.

"Naturally," Riffe said Thursday, "I am happy that my letters generated a positive response from the secretary of state."

In a letter to county election boards, Brown encouraged the naming of additional "county officials" to distribute registration forms to the public.

"The law does not require a designated county official to assist in the completion of a registration form, nor does it require him to be responsible for the return of the form."

Municipal Court

An Octa man, charged with assault, was found guilty of the charge in Washington C.H. Municipal Court Wednesday.

After finding him guilty, Municipal Court Judge John P. Case sentenced Jerry Neal Davis, 30, of Octa, to 10 days in the Fayette County jail and fined him $100 and costs. Fayette County sheriff's deputies had served Davis on Aug. 30 with a warrant to appear in court. The warrant stemmed from an Aug. 28 incident.

Davis' involvement in that incident and consequent conviction violated a previous suspended sentence, which Judge Case had ordered last June 21. The Municipal Court judge ordered Wednesday that previous 10-day sentence he reimposed. He committed Davis to the county jail for a total of 20 days. Davis will also serve out his fine in jail.

The case against a local man charged with aggravated menacing was discontinued Thursday in Municipal Court.

Judge Case ordered the prosecution of Jack L. Anders, 25, of 632 E. Paint St., discontinued after the motion was requested by the state's attorney Michael J. Lander.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies had arrested Anders on the menacing charge on July 30 following a disturbance at the Fayette County fair.

Welcome mat out for '77 season

Crystal ball sees Lions, MT as winners

By MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Editor

Welcome to the 1977 high school football season. Miami Trace, whose trophy case is already overflowing with gold footballs, looks for its fourth consecutive South Central Ohio League championship. It would tie them with Greenfield McClain for the most consecutive titles.

Washington C.H. will try to rebound from a mediocre 5-5 season. Second year coach Paul Ondrus has a year behind him and some good returnees and talented underclassmen should help the Lions' chances.

Greenfield McClain, although they lost their entire backfield, should be vastly improved this season and Wilmington, with the services of Gary Williams, should be in the midst of the title fight. They tied for second place in the league last season.

Circleville is faced with a so-called rebuilding year and Teays Valley, a newcomer to the league, lost several starters from last year's 3-7 squad. Hillsboro and Madison Plains have new coaches and hopes for turn-arounds from recent years.

Last year's predictions ended at 39 for 59, a poor 66 per cent average from the sports department. This year we will try to improve especially after being 1 for 7 on last year's opening night.

DELAWARE HAYES AT MIAMI TRACE

The Big Black Offensive Machine, dormant for the past 42 weeks, cranks up its engine for another 10 week stint. After last year's much chronicled season when the Panthers ripped everyone apart at the seams, fans don't quite know what to expect. They can't improve much over last year.

Delaware Hayes replaces Springfield Northeastern as the Panthers' opening opponents. To say the least, the Pacers will be much more formidable opposition for Trace than was Springfield.

Hayes has a big line and some pretty good offensive players. But, Art Schlachter will be doing his thing on the other side of the line. And by the time Schlachter's aerial bombs hit their mark, Trace will have one down and nine to go. . . Miami Trace 42, Delaware Hayes 6.

WELLSTON AT WASHINGTON C.H.

Wellston, who lost to Washington last year by a 33-15 score, is in worse shape than they were last year. All seven linemen graduated from last year's squad and their entire backfield is filled with sophomores and juniors.

But, Washington is also in worse shape than they were last year. Jeff Elliott, the player who scored four touchdowns versus the Rockets last year, is sidelined with a shoulder separation.

This will be the first real test for the Lion offense, starting over from last year. The names Heiny, Elliott and Mercer will be replaced with the names of Todd Terrell, John Heinz and Larry Bricks. They're unproven, but they're eager and talented. . . Washington C.H. 20, Wellston 8.

TEAYS VALLEY AT MCCLAIN

Greenfield McClain unleashes one of the most awesome defenses around as the Vikings open their league season. McClain is paced by all-

state lineman Brett Robinson, one of the biggest and best around.

Teays Valley has a brand new coach after going 3-7 in each of the last two years. McClain with Fred Brisker back at the helm will be trying to improve on last season's tie for second place in the SCOL.

Greenfield is almost unstoppable at home and even with a suspect offense, they shouldn't make Teays Valley feel very welcome in their new league. . . McClain 24, Teays Valley 0.

CIRCLEVILLE AT CHILLICOTHE

Circleville begins a season that they are not accustomed to. The Tigers, powerhouses throughout the 1970's, are faced with a rare rebuilding year. After sharing the SCOL crown with Miami Trace in 1974, the Tigers have dropped to second and fourth the last two years. This year, their fate shouldn't be much better.

Chillicothe is rich in football tradition, like Circleville, but they have a problem of losing key players at the skill positions, also. Fleet-footed Mike Fairrow has graduated and he ran the 100 in 9.8 seconds.

The Cavaliers had a small taste of SCOL action last year they nipped Washington C.H., 12-6. This game should be about as close. . . Chillicothe 15, Circleville 12.

XENIA AT WILMINGTON

Wilmington is slated to be in a fight for the SCOL title. They hold the distinction of being the last team not to lose to Miami Trace. They tied the Panthers, 6-6, back in 1975.

Gary Williams won't have the quarterbacking duties to worry about this year as he moves back to his more familiar (and dangerous) tailback spot. Williams can now concentrate on running with the football and that is bad news for teams around Clinton County.

Xenia knocked off the Hurricane in last year's opener on the Buccaneer field, 19-14. Turn about is fair play. . . Wilmington 16, Xenia 10.

HILLSBORO AT NEW RICHMOND

Hillsboro got one of their two wins last year on opening night, knocking off New Richmond, 13-12. With a new coach in Jerry Peters, the Indians are trying to instill a little pride back in the Hillsboro football program.

The job is easier said than done. Starting quarterback and cornerback Tyler Woods has graduated as have Steve Kelch and Tom Addington, leaving three big holes to fill. But, Peters have several lineman hold-overs and they are being counted on to turn the Indians around.

Hillsboro looks to be a bit improved over last year, and New Richmond looks to have stayed about the same. . . Hillsboro 14, New Richmond 12.

MADISON PLAINS AT WESTFALL

The Golden Eagles pulled the shocker of last year, defeating Westfall in the opener, 13-12. Then, they proceeded to lose their next nine in a row, plummeting into the SCOL basement.

The Mustangs did not care for being the only victims of a 1-9 team and will probably be out for revenge. And with the game being played in the Mustang corral, Plains should have their losing streak extended to 10. . . Westfall 20, Madison Plains 0.

Reds ready for 'the last hope'

CINCINNATI (AP) — "You can call it 'The Last Hope' series."

Cincinnati catcher Johnny Bench was accepting a hard, cold fact. The days appear to be numbered for the once-proud Reds.

"To be realistic, we don't have much of a chance," said Bench as the Reds prepared to open a three-game home stand tonight against arch-rival Los Angeles. The Dodgers hold a commanding 12½-game lead over the defending world champions in the National League Western Division.

Fred Norman, 14-10 and winner of five straight, faces Tommy John, 17-5, in the series opener.

The Dodgers lowered the magic number for eliminating the Reds to 10 with a 5-4 victory over Atlanta Thursday night while Cincinnati snapped a three-game losing streak.

And the Reds overcame two Willie McCovey homers to stop San Francisco 6-5 on George Foster's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

"We're due for a comeback, but it's probably too late," said Bench.

The Reds, with 21 games remaining, trail the Dodgers by 13 games in the loss column.

Foster called the sacrifice fly "more satisfying" than his 46th homer the night before because it kept Cincinnati's fading hopes alive.

Facing Giants' reliever Randy Moffitt, a victim of a Foster grand slam a couple years ago, the major leagues' home run and RBI leader ended the game by driving in his 130th run of the season.

"He gave me a pitch I could handle," said Foster, who is threatening the all-time club record of 148 RBIs set in 1970 by Bench.

Pete Rose scored the winning run after reaching first on an error by McCovey. He then stole second, and went to third on Ken Griffey's infield hit. Moffitt, now 3-8, intentionally walked Joe Morgan.

The Giants had battered rookie Paul Moskauer for three in the first, but the Reds countered with four in the same inning off Charlie Williams.

Pedro Borbon, 8-4, picked up the victory with three innings of five hit relief. He allowed a run in the ninth that permitted the Giants to tie it.

McCovey's 25th and 26th homers of the season gave him 491 for his career, one shy of 12th place on the all-time list, which is held by Lou Gehrig.

Pittsburgh winning, waiting

Trainer's joke helps Pirates win

By The Associated Press

All the Pittsburgh Pirates can do now is win and wait. But trailing six games behind Philadelphia in the National League East with 22 games left in their season, the Pirates have not lost their sense of humor.

Before Thursday night's game against the St. Louis Cardinals, Pirates trainer Tony Bartirome announced in the locker room that the New York Mets had beaten Philadelphia, 3-1.

"The guy said, 'All right, we gotta go,'" said Pirates outfielder Dave Parker. The Pirates went, all right, beating St. Louis 9-5 with the help of Parker's two-run homer in the seventh.

But, as it turned out, Bartirome was just having a little joke. Philadelphia actually beat the Mets, 8-2.

"The guys all laughed at Tony's joke, and I think that's good because we can't crawl into a hole just because the Phillies win," said Parker. "You've got some competitors here, and if the Phillies beat us, they'll know they've earned it."

"But I'm still thinking positive. They could go into a slump."

Super Clint super in Jug tuneup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jack Quinn never had seen Super Clint before he drove him to victory in the $26,000 Jug Preview Thursday night at Scioto Downs.

The substitute driver from Canada was immediately impressed after steering the 3-year-old colt to a track record time of 1:56 1-5 for age and gait.

"He's just like driving a power steering car," Quinn said of the upset winner over Crash and Nat Lobell.

Quinn, substituting for John Kopas on the Super Wave colt, called on him in midstretch to overtake the leading Crash. Super Clint responded well.

"I had the horse to do it. He's a great one. That's the fastest time I've ever won with," said Quinn of Super Clint's come-from-behind victory.

Crash, driven by Hall of Famer Billy Houghton, led the entire mile until he yielded to Super Clint in the final yards. Crash went the first quarter in :28, the half-mile in :57 4-5 and three quarters in 1:26 3-5.

Crash, who had never lost to Super Clint, settled for second. The other half of the Jack Kopas Stable entry, Nat Lobell, took third place and Thorpe Messenger was fourth in the eight-horse field.

Super Clint's unexpected victory, only his third in 22 starts this season, created a happy numbers game for Kopas in the Little Brown Jug.

The Washington C.H. golf team evened its record at 2-2 for the season, defeating East Clinton last night by a score of 174-213. John Moore was medalist with a 40 followed by Jerry Mount with a 43, Willie Hatfield with a 45 and Jeff Scott and Gary Fisher each with a 46.

The Lion reserves also won their match with East Clinton, 204-239. Scott Douglass was medalist with a 43.

The record is even now after Wednesday night's double loss to Circleville and Bexley. It was previously reported that Court House lost their initial match versus Unioto. In reality, they won by a 165-181.

Here is a complete schedule for the remaining matches for the Blue Lions: Sept. 12 -- Greenfield

Sept. 13 -- at Leesburg (Buckeye Hills)

Sept. 14 -- Wilmington

Sept. 15 -- at Bishop Flaget (V.A. Course)

No scioto entries

The Record-Herald did not receive Scioto Downs entries for either Friday or Saturday of this week. However, Monday's entries for next week have been received and will appear in Saturday's edition of the R-H.

Parker's homer was his 19th of the season and put the Pirates in front of St. Louis to stay. With one out in the seventh, Miguel Dilone walked and stole second. He scored one out later when Phil Garner doubled off St. Louis reliever Rawley Eastwick. Al Hrabosky relieved Eastwick, and Parker smacked his two-run homer.

Phils 8, Mets 2

Philadelphia let New York get a 2-0 lead, then shelled Mets reliever Bob Apodaca for three homers in the seventh. Bake McBride led off the seventh with his 15th homer of the season. Mike Schmidt smacked his 34th, and Jay Johnstone hit his 13th.

Cubs 3, Expos 2

Dave Rosello scored on Bill Buckner's sacrifice fly in the 10th to give the Cubs their victory. Cubs reliever Bruce Sutter, 6-1, struck out the first six batters he faced to tie an NL record for consecutive strikeouts.

Dodgers 5, Braves 4

Dusty Baker homered and scored the winning run in the 11th on Dave Lopes' sacrifice fly to give Los Angeles its victory over the Braves. Ron Cey also homered for the Dodgers in the second inning, his 28th of the season, and scored on a passed ball in the eighth when Los Angeles took a 4-3 lead.

Reds 6, Giants 5

George Foster's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the ninth inning drove in the winning run and allowed Cincinnati to snap a three-game losing streak.

Astros 7, Padres 1

Roger Metzger tripled with the bases loaded in Houston's five-run sixth inning, and Floyd Bannister, 6-8, scattered seven hits as the Astros handed San Diego only its third loss in the last 10.

Connors routs

Orantes at Open

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Back problems and past accomplishments notwithstanding, Jimmy Connors may be a greater contender now than ever.

"It may be the best I ever saw him play, on clay especially," said Spain's Manuel Orantes, who lost to Connors Thursday night, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, in the most hotly-contested match yet in the nine days of the U.S. Open tennis championships.

Connors enters the semifinals against Corrado Barazzutti, the little-known Italian who thrashed the tournament's third-seed Brian Gottfried of Lauderhill, Fla., 6-2, 6-1, 6-2 Thursday.

Orantes had been considered one of the men who could take Connors down a peg in this Open. He did it in 1975 after Jimmy's brilliant 1974 season, and took him in straight sets this summer in the finals of the U.S. Clay Court Championship at Indianapolis.

The sell-out crowd of 12,497 watched as Connors hit deep, sledge-hammer shots frequently right on the line or in the corners. Orantes' ground stroke seemed aimless, particularly off his backhand.

"I've played a few good matches on clay," said Connors, the 25-year-old from Belleville, Ill., who is the defending champion here but second-seeded behind Sweden's Bjorn Borg, who defaulted earlier this week.

Bengals aim for fifth straight win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Aiming for a fifth straight victory, the Cincinnati Bengals can wrap up their second-best preseason in the club's 10-year history Saturday night by getting past the Chicago Bears.

Quarterback Ken Anderson, normally the catalyst of Cincinnati's high scoring attack, tries to rebound from one of his worst poor outings.

The Bengals are the highest scoring team of the preseason, despite a lackluster offensive showing in last week's 26-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings. Cincinnati's defense turned the tide, powered by interception returns of 96 and 57 yards by defensive backs Jerry Anderson and Marvin

alive versus Sox

By The Associated Press

An unearned run in the eighth inning kept Richmond alive in its International League semifinal playoff series with Pawtucket Thursday night.

The run gave the Braves a 2-1 victory and another chance to catch up to Pawtucket, now holding a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five-games series going into game No. 4 tonight.

The Braves got the tie-breaking run when Billy Hunter dropped a throw at second base on an attempted forceout following singles by Pete Varney and Chico Ruiz.

A triple by Hunter behind a single by Ted Cox had given the Pawsox a tie in the top of the eighth after the Braves scored the game's first run in the seventh on a triple by Jimmie Collins and a fielders' choice by Murphy.

Ricky Mahler went the first eight innings for the Braves, scattering eight hits.

Cobb. The only loss was a 23-20 setback to the Green Bay Packers when Ken Anderson and a halfdozen veterans were held out of action.

In 1971, Cincinnati had a 5-0-1 preseason record, but fell victim to a siege of injuries, losing seven of its first eight games on the way to a 4-10 season.

The Bears, who opened with three straight victories, including a 20-13 triumph over Super Bowl champion Oakland, have since suffered defeats to Cleveland, 14-7, and St. Louis, 23-14.

Walter Payton, a 1,000-yard rusher last year, heads up an improved offense which features a duel at quarterback between veteran Mike Phipps and Bob Avellini.

The Bengals managed only 21 passing yards in their victory over Minnesota as Anderson suffered three first-half interceptions while completing only five of 13 passes for 19 yards.

The preseason finale could give the Bengals' highly-regarded defense its best test. Cincinnati has outscored its last four opponents 121-29, and has not yielded a point in the third quarter in the five games.

Michigan-Ohio State show again

By JOE MOOSHIL
AP Sports Writer
Iowa Coach Bob Commings said, "I've got a feeling it's going to be a wacky Big Ten football season."

If Commings is right, it could be an interesting season for a change. If not, it figures to be the same old story—Michigan and Ohio State.

Michigan's Wolverines, ranked No. 2 nationally, are the favorites although the title probably will not be decided until they face the fifth-ranked Ohio State Buckeyes Nov. 19 at Ann Arbor.

This is virtually the same Michigan team which defeated Ohio State 22-0 at Columbus last season to gain a share of the championship.

Tailback Rob Lytle and wingback Jim Smith are gone but everyone else is back with Harlan Huckleby and Russell Davis ready to replace the departed stars.

Junior quarterback Rick Leach is the hub of an offense which could go to the forward pass more this time than in previous seasons. The offensive line is back intact and as Coach Bo Schembechler bluntly put it, "Michigan always has a defense."

The Wolverines open their drive for a Big Ten and national title Saturday at Illinois. Wisconsin is at Indiana, Northwestern at Iowa and Purdue at Michigan State. Ohio State takes on Miami of Florida and Minnesota faces Western Michigan in nonconference games.

Ohio State and Minnesota catch up with conference play the following week at Columbus in what might be a pretty good test for the Buckeyes.

"Ohio State will have a good football team," said Coach Woody Hayes, whose Buckeyes are ranked fifth. Eight starters are back on defense and the offense figures to be more versatile and speedier than last season.

Rod Gerald has recovered from injuries and will be at quarterback with Jeff Logan and Ron Springs shifting between tailback and fullback. Ohio State will not have the traditional power fullback and the Buckeyes will go for the big play.

With the possible exception of Northwestern, any one of the other seven teams has a chance to finish third. Last year four teams tied for third with 4-4 records and the other three were 3-5 while Northwestern occupied the cellar at 1-7.

Iowa and Minnesota will have formidable defenses and both Commings and Cal Stoll eagerly are awaiting the start of the season.

"This is the best team I've had since I've been here," said Stoll. "We've got a pretty good defense and that's where it all starts."

Iowa was third in defense last season but "We led the Big Ten in turnovers and penalties," said Commings. "We're going to be pretty good if we stay intact."

John Jardine at Wisconsin promises his defenses will "intimidate people." The Badgers have had little trouble moving the ball in the past and usually have productive and entertaining offenses.

Defense also has been a problem at Michigan State and if Coach Darryl Rogers develops one, watch out.

Quarterback Eddie Smith, who threw for 1,749 yards and 13 touchdowns, is back again with his No. 1 target, Kirk Gibson.

Lee Corso is still up high because of Indiana's victory over Purdue and said, "We have everyone back on offense who started in the Purdue game." That includes Mike Harkrader, the first Big Ten freshman to gain 1,000 yards.

Gary Moeller at Illinois and Jim Young at Purdue are the new coaches in the Big Ten. Both are former Schembechler aides. Young had four seasons at Arizona where he played some open football and promises to develop a passing attack at Purdue.

Moeller insists Illinois will not be rebuilding and feels he has some talent at the skilled positions including quarterback Kurt Steger, running back James Coleman and split end Eric Rouse. The schedule could be Moeller's biggest headache. Missouri follows Michigan and the Illini then go to Stanford.

Northwestern managed but one victory last season and will be without quarterback Randy Dean, tailback Greg Boykin and wide receiver Scott Yelvington. Still, Coach John Pont insists he'll have a better team.

"We'll be better if we win two games but I expect more than that," said Pont.

Fisk blast two more HR's

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Don Zimmer is giving his Boston Red Sox the green light on 3-0 pitches this year. And they're all having a blast.

Carlton Fisk is among the latest to enjoy the free-swinging luxury.

"Zimmer has given us pretty free rein with the 3-0 pitch this year," said Fisk after driving in five runs with two homers Thursday night to lead the Red Sox to a 7-2 rout of the Toronto Blue Jays.

One of Carlton's home runs, a three-run shot in the second inning, came on a three-ball, no-strike pitch from Toronto's Jesse Jefferson.

"About 97 per cent of the time, a 3-0 pitch is going to be down the middle," said Zimmer, expounding on his theory. "And from 78 to 80 per cent of the time, the 3-1 pitch is going to be a slider. So why not give the batter a better pitch to hit?"

Of course, Zimmer's revolutionary idea is in direct opposition to the general baseball strategy to take the 3-0 pitch on the theory that it might result in a walk.

But the Red Sox manager would prefer to see the long ball from his slugging team.

"I don't think there's one player on this team that hasn't hit a 3-0 pitch this year," he notes. "It has won at least one other ballgame for us; when our shortstop (Rick Burleson) hit a game-winning double earlier this season."

"Of course, I've also been criticized when the player swinging away hits into a double play or something."

In other American League games, the Baltimore Orioles blanked the Detroit Tigers 4-0; the New York Yankees clipped the Cleveland Indians 4-3; the California Angels beat the Chicago White Sox twice, 2-0 and 3-2, and the Kansas City Royals stopped the Seattle Mariners 7-2.

Orioles 4, Tigers 0
Jim Palmer fired a four-hitter to lead

Baltimore over Detroit. Palmer, 15-11, struck out three and walked one as he notched his third shutout of the season and 45th of his career.

The Orioles broke a scoreless tie in the seventh off Bob Sykes, 4-5, when DeCinces walked with two out, stole second and scored on Mark Belanger's single.

Yankees 4, Indians 3
A sacrifice fly by Chris Chambliss capped a three-run fifth inning that carried New York over Cleveland. Ed Figueroa, 14-9, went all the way for the 11th time this season, limiting the Indians to eight hits as the Yankees gained their third straight victory and 10th in the last 12 starts.

Angels 2-3, White Sox 0-2
Nolan Ryan notched his 19th victory with relief help from Dave LaRoche and Don Baylor rapped his 21st homer to boost California over Chicago in the first game of their twilight doubleheader.

The Angels won the second game with a three-run rally in the ninth inning capped by Lerrin LaGrow's run-producing wild pitch with the bases loaded.

Royals 7, Mariners 2
Darrell Porter socked two home runs and John Mayberry, Frank White and Hal McRae each blasted one as Kansas whipped Seattle. Dennis Leonard, 16-11, notched his 16th complete game of the season with a six-hitter.

Miami has no chance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lou Saban has been coaching football 25 years and always feels his team can win its opener. An exception may be 1977.

"I've never gone into an opening game in my life," said the University of Miami (Fla.) coach, "thinking I had no chance to win."

Then Saban looked at fifth-ranked Ohio State, his Saturday opponent, and said, "It would take a miracle. And there aren't many miracle men left."

The host Buckeyes, playing before their 51st Ohio Stadium sellout of almost 87,000, are 21-point favorites in their first meeting ever with the Hurricanes.

Still, Saban sees a ray of hope, saying, "Our players are optimistic. As long as you're optimistic, you've got a chance."

Miami has a veteran team of 13 regulars from the squad that waded into an awesome schedule under Carl Selmer last year.

Connors still fiery, feisty, flamboyant

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

Jimmy Connors is a chameleon, a man of complex moods and changing personality traits, but is still the best tennis player in the world, says Bill Riordan.

Riordan speaks with authority. He is the Svengali who he'ped fashion two of the maddest geniuses of the game — the fiery, feisty Connors and the talented, tempestuous Ilie Nastase.

Nastase has made an early exit, a victim of his own unbridled temperament, but Connors, shrugging off an aching back, remains in the thick of the fight for the men's U.S. Open tennis championship, to be decided at Forest Hills this weekend.

"Jimmy can win it if he can get his head all together," predicted Riordan, wealthy Salisbury, Md., businessman and promoter who recognized Connors' latent talent when Jimmy was a fuzzi-faced 16-year-old whom he later helped hoist to millionaire status.

"It's not Jimmy's back you have to worry about, it's his frame of mind. He is torn up emotionally. First, there's his broken romance with Chris Evert — they both are still nuts about each other — and the split has left a heavy bruise.

"He lost his father last fall. That had to be a traumatic experience. All those years he wasn't at home but traveling the circuit with his mother. High strung as he is, he must be asking himself, 'My God, was all this worth it?'"

"Then I wonder who, if anybody, is calming him down. He is typically a volatile, high strung person. The one thing I think I was able to do for him when we were together was keep him loose."

Riordan managed Connors from 1972 through 1975 when the relationship was broken by Jimmy's mother, Gloria.

Connors' career has been spotty and erratic ever since. He won both the Wimbledon and U. S. crowns in 1974, establishing himself firmly as the world's No. 1, but has failed in the last three Wimbledon and lost twice in the finals at Forest Hills.

He has been plagued by an assortment of ills — a bad knee, injured thumb on his racquet hand, chronic back trouble. He began assembling a record of pullouts and losses in the finals.

Questions have been raised: Are Connors' problems physical or mental? Is this brilliant young talent going into an eclipse?

"I don't know," acknowledges Riordan. "I am sure Jimmy's ailments are genuine. He is a plucky guy. But he has been spoiled by quick success. He doesn't work as hard. He is inclined to overeat and gain weight. Some of his confidence may be eroding."

Riordan said he first noticed Connors when the aggressive left-hander came East in 1971 to play in Riordan's National Indoor Championships in Salisbury.

"He was absolutely electrifying," Riordan added. "I got one look at him and said, 'This kid is going to be the best player in the world.'"

Riordan and Connors formed a partnership in 1972, and one of Jimmy's first pieces of equipment was a "black hat." He became the game's villain, an unconstructed maverick.

"It was a perfect marketing and merchandising gimmick," Riordan explained. "This was the period of youth rebellion. Jimmy became an anti-establishment symbol. Intense, a gut fighter, he was a natural for it.

"He spurned the offers of Lamar Hunt and Jack Kramer, threw the money-lenders out of the temple. He joined my minitour. On the court, he would give the crowd the finger and yell four-letter words. Off the court, he became the epitome of charm, a 'Gee whiz, golly' kid."

"He played the game with hate in his heart, but once the match was over he knew how to deal with the public and the press. This made him the richest player in tennis. He also was the best. When he went all out, nobody could touch him.

"Now, I don't know. He has a barrel of problems — physical and mental. They are trying to stereotype him now, fit him into a mould. But, by nature, he's not a conformist."

"What Jimmy needs is to shake off the shackles and become the old Jimmy Connors — snotty, mean, arrogant, thoughtful, charming and the toughest, fightingest, strokingest tennis player who ever lived."

Carlton-McCarver inseparable duo

In the clubhouse of baseball's Philadelphia Phillies, they say if Steve Carlton sneezes, Tim McCarver wipes his nose. If Steve Carlton gets an itch, it's Tim McCarver who scratches. Steve Carlton stubs his toe, and Tim McCarver hollers "Ouch!"

"When we die," says McCarver, "they'll probably bury us 60 feet and six inches apart." That's the distance between the pitcher's mound and home plate.

They are baseball's most unique battery: a towering lefthander who already has won 20 games (the first in the majors to do it this year) and the burly, resurrected catcher who started looking for another profession a couple of years ago when he was within months cut by two clubs, the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox.

The Phillies picked up McCarver on the bounce, thinking he might be useful in the radio booth. The 35-year-old, 19-year major league veteran stayed on to become the private catcher of the team's best pitcher and a pinch-hitter with an average of about .330.

Like the freckle-faced kid in the TV commercial who says sugarless gum is the only gum his mother lets him chew, McCarver is the only catcher Carlton allows himself to pitch to.

The Phillies' regular catcher is Bob Boone, and there is another receiver on the roster, Barry Foote. But whenever Carlton goes out to pitch, McCarver grabs his mask and pads and takes a squatting position behind the plate.

He has caught every ball thrown by Carlton this season as the southpaw has won 20 games, lost eight and struck out 166 batters.

"It's not that Steve doesn't like Boone," McCarver explains. "It's just that he feels more comfortable with me. It dates back to when we were together at St. Louis. We are friends. We hunt together."

McCarver started in the Cardinals' organization in 1959 and bounced around among the Phillies, Cards and Red Sox until returning to Philadelphia as a free agent in 1975. Carlton was with the Cards from 1966-1971, winning 20 games in 1971.

The next year with the Phillies, he hit his career high with a 27-10 record.

"People kept comparing Steve to that great year in 1972," McCarver says, "and Steve himself started doing the same. It began to psych him. You can be consistently good but you can't be consistently fabulous."

SOMETHING SPECIAL

bath and a half ranch home. Perhaps it's being nestled among stately oaks and hickories and wrapped in green on this beautiful lot in the heart of Lakewood Hills. Or the inviting openness as you enter the living room, complimented with brick fireplace, the dining room, and kitchen. Even the attached finished 2 car garage is special because it's air conditioned. You should look at this home

121 ACRES — NEW LISTING — Northern Highland County. This slightly rolling livestock and grain farm is located on state highway with 7 miles of road frontage.
This farm has been farmed by owner for many years and is in high state of cultivation, excellent water supply, modern 6 room frame home, 36x46 bank barn and other outbuildings. Fall seeding privileges. Will consider land

117 ACRE FARM

that is the investors delight. This land has a lot of road frontage that could be sold in lots. There is a modern 2-story frame home with new 54x80 pole barn. Land lays level to gentle roll with 80 acres tillable. Located within 10-miles of the atomic plant in Pike Co. With 6,000 workers coming to Pike Co. you may well double your $75,000 investment. Don't delay, call today.

51 ACRES — NORTHERN HIGHLAND COUNTY FARM

In a high state of fertility with about all tillable ground.
Improvements include a 50x70 barn and a good 1 1/2 story frame home that is completely modern. Water supply comes from a good well and creek. A real good buy at

WHOA... WHOA...

If Paul Revere would be riding out of town and down U. S. 62 South, he would be sure to say Whoa... Whoa... (to his horse) just before coming into Staunton. He would have slowed up, anyway, when he would have seen the "For Sale" sign, and this property would have really caught his eye. He would have liked the no water bills...no sewer bills...not much electric and natural gas bills...1 1/2 acres...4 bedrooms, two story, well insulated residence...plenty of trees...quick possession. There is plenty here for only $27,900.00.

At county fairgrounds

Night Owls schedule jamboree Sept. 18, 19

Unless you think only citizens band radio buffs can enjoy King's Island, country music and square dancing, the Fayette County Night Owls Citizens Band Radio Club Jamboree is for you.

Slated Sept. 17 and 18 at the Fayette County Fairgrounds, the jamboree offers something for everyone, even if they don't know the difference between a "breaker" and a "ten-four."

The Night Owls will give away more than $1,200 in door prizes during the two-day fund-raising event, and none of the door prizes have anything to do with CB radios.

The top prize will be an all-expense-paid trip to King's Island. The club will provide a pass for four persons and $50 expense money for either Oct. 8 or 9.

Everyone attending the jamboree will automatically become eligible for the more than 75 door prizes. Several drawings will be held each hour. Door prize winners must be present to win. Each person attending will receive one free door prize ticket. Additional tickets may be purchased.

No one need fear standing around waiting for the drawings to be held. Saturday, Sept. 17, Carl Wilt and the Country Boys will provide dance music. In addition, there will be a square dance demonstration followed by square dancing for everyone.

Sunday, two different bands will entertain. Country Roads of London, and The Saharas of Greenfield will play throughout the day. Plenty of home-cooked food and soft drinks will be available both days.

MORE THAN just a CB club, the Night Owls have become a very active community service organization. The proceeds from the jamboree are used to assist the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce, the Fayette County Children's Home, provide scholarships for students from Washington Senior and Miami Trace high schools, and several other projects. The club has worked with the local law-enforcement agencies in establishing the CB Crime Busters program and has assisted many families hit by personal hardships.

The club sells tickets for a grand prize drawing geared to CB'ers. The grand prize is a $600 Yaesu base CB unit. Second prize is a car CB outfit. However, the other grand prizes include a portable television and $300 in cash.

These prizes are in addition to the door prizes, and the winners need not be present.

The door prizes have been donated by area businesses and include a wide variety of goods and services. Among them are gift certificates, luggage, home appliances, meals at area restaurants, savings bonds, and many more too numerous to mention. More than $900 in merchandise has been donated. The club will also give away $50 cash each hour Sunday. Door prize ticket-holders will be eligible for the hourly cash prizes.

Why not mark your calendar for some fine entertainment and outstanding prizes Sept. 17 and 18?

There will be special games, prizes, and entertainment for children so that the whole family can attend. The jamboree will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday and at 10 a.m. Sunday. The first drawing will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday and at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Publisher dares county attorney

ATLANTA (AP) — Publisher Larry Flynt is out to get arrested for selling his "soft core pornography" magazines, Hustler and Chic.

On Thursday, Flynt dared Fulton County Solicitor General Hinson McAuliffe, who has recently arrested several magazine sellers on obscenity charges, to arrest him for selling the magazines in a downtown bookstore.

But McAuliffe, who refused to comment on the matter, did not appear by about 1 p.m., and Flynt left the store, vowing to continue selling the magazines until he is arrested and can take the case to court.

After Flynt left, the copies of Hustler were removed by the store's owner, who leased the shop to Flynt for the day.

Flynt, who is free on bond pending appeal of an obscenity conviction in Ohio, said he was "in the pornography business, not the obscenity business."

Getty's estate being settled

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first phase of settling the $700 million estate of J. Paul Getty has ended with debts being cleared up and taxes paid, administrators say.

"Mr. Getty had no debts to speak of and taxes were relatively modest because he left the bulk of his estate to charity," said Edward Landry, attorney for Title Insurance, an executor of the estate along with Getty's sons.

New optometry office

Optometrist opens office after ex-partner retires

Long-time Washington C.H. optometrist Dr. William Limes, 606 Highland Ave., has retired from private practice after nearly 40 years of serving the community.

Limes, 71, first opened practice in Washington C.H. in 1938. In 1971, he took on Dr. Michael J. Riggilo as a partner in his 121 W. Market St. offices. Prior to establishing a local practice, Limes served Columbus clients for five years.

Born in Fayette County near New Martinsburg, he attended Greenfield's McClain High School. Limes then attended Ohio State University receiving his degree in optometry in 1933. He was a member of the Epsilon Psi Optometric fraternity while a student at OSU.

In 1940, Limes joined the Washington C.H. Rotary Club and was chairman of the board of trustees for the Grace United Methodist Church when the new church was constructed. He was also a member of the Ohio State American Optometric Association.

During his 39 odd years of local practice, Limes attended two international optometric conferences, one in Ireland in 1965, and the other in Paris in 1972.

In his retirement Limes and his wife, Rose, will take life easy overseeing production on their farm in Clinton County. The Limes have two daughters, Mrs. Mary Jane Ousley of West Carrollton and Mrs. Carolyn Niemiller of Bedford, Ind.

In the wake of Limes' retirement, former partner Dr. Michael J. Riggilo set up his services in a recently constructed commercial building at 1201 E. Temple St. Riggilo, who practiced optometry with Limes for five years, opened the brand new offices for business on Thursday.

Although, he is still unpacking from the recent move, Riggilo said he hopes to return to fully treating his clients by Saturday or Monday. His receptionist is in the process of notifying patients of the move through Riggilo's recall system, in which patients are reminded of upcoming examinations.

Originally from Columbus, Riggilo joined Limes' practice in 1971, after a two-year stint in a U.S. Army eye clinic. He entered the service upon graduating with his doctor's degree in optometry from Ohio State University.

With the architectural services of Gale Helms and Associates of Washington C.H., Riggilo said he tried to design the new offices so they would fit into the city's environment and on the inside allow people to feel comfortable.

He said the move was made because the old location did not provide adequate parking and hopefully the new office will help him better serve area residents.

For his regular patients, Riggilo's office hours and telephone numbers will remain the same.

The young optometrist and his wife, Betty, have a 2-year-old daughter, Brandy, and are expecting a second child in October.

Jaycee chapter raises $400 in Labor Day roadblock

The Washington C.H. Jaycee chapter has donated $403.42 to the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The money was raised at a roadblock established by the Jaycees on E. Market Street on Labor Day. Bob Bishop was the committee chairman. This is the first full year the U.S. Jaycees have been associated with the telephone and the third consecutive year the local chapter has manned a roadblock.

Due the recent resignation of chapter president Clem Edwards, a special presidential election has been held. Edwards has accepted a position with Redman Industries, Inc., Topeka, Ind.

Vernon Stanforth, administrator of the Comprehensive Employment

Training Act (CETA) program in Washington C.H., has been elected as the chapter president.

Named to serve as advisors in the Junior Achievement program were Tony Pack, Stanforth, Mark Hartman, Randy Roush and Bishop. This marks the eighth consecutive year the local chapter has provided advisors.

Pack, the Community Education program director, was inducted as a new member by Sonny Knapp, of Sabina, a district director. Pack was the fifth new member of the local chapter since the beginning of the fiscal year. He was sponsored by Stanforth.

Reports were presented by chairmen of several Jaycee programs and projects.

Business news

Realty firm here recognized

Century 21, a national association of over 4,000 independently owned and operated real estate offices, has accorded special recognition to Realtors Bob and Steve Lewis who represent the association locally.

The Lewis' and their business associates are holding open houses at five different locations in Washington C.H. from 2 until 5 p.m. Sunday.

The Lewis agency, affiliated with Century 21 since April, is now represented by seven full-time real estate associates.

The achievement of five open houses simultaneously is a major one for a city the size of Washington C.H., according to Century 21 officials.

NEW BEAUTY SALON

Mrs. Shirley (Oates) Thompson, a local hairdresser, will open the Backyard Boutique beauty salon behind her home at 514 E. Market St. on Sept. 13.
